BEER TAX URGED TO RAISE THIRD OF U. S. DEFICIT

House Given Report on Revenue Bill.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 8.—[Special.]—Admitting the necessity of passing a bill which will raise $1,100,000,000 in increased revenues, three representatives, members of the house ways and means committee, today urged that one-third of this sum be secured by legalizing and taxing 2.75 per cent beer.

The three congressmen who submitted a minority report setting forth their views were Thomas H. Cullen [Dem., N. Y.], Christopher D. Sullivan [Dem., N. Y.], and John W. McCormack [Dem., Mass.].

"It is about time," they asserted, "that the taxpayers realize that a modification of the Volstead act permitting the manufacture and sale of beer would not only bring greater respect for law and order, not only reduce crime and corruption, not only bring about an elevation of moral and social conditions and assure employment to hundreds of thousands of the unemployed, but would bring into the federal treasury revenue approximating 350 million dollars, without regard to income and corporation taxes and without regard to the revenue that would flow to the several states and their subdivisions.

Argue Need of Income.

"Eliminating every other consideration but the condition of the treasury at the present time and the favorable effect that a legal tax on beer would have thereon, the taxpayers of the country should look upon a proposition to legalize the manufacture and sale of beer with favor and approval. Some persons have estimated that such a tax would produce for the treasury a sum in excess of 450 million dollars. While we cannot and do not disagree with them, we are content to accept a more conservative estimate."

The three congressmen failed to understand, they said, a point of view which complacently accepts the taxation of illegal brewing and wine making through the levies proposed in the present bill on malt sirup, wort, and grape concentrate, yet refuses to agree with a legal tax on legally made beer.

Would Help Jobless.

Restoration of the brewing industry, they argued further, would put thousands of jobless back to work. They concluded:

"The adoption of the proposed amendment by both branches of the congress would enable us to eliminate the amusement tax, the tax on telephone and other similar messages, exempt medicine, clothing, cereals, processed food, and still enable us to reduce the manufacturers' excise tax to about 1½ per cent instead of the recommended rate of 2¼ per cent."

HOOVER ORDERS CUTS

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 8.—[Special.]—President Hoover today made another concession to the mounting popular demand for a drastic curtailment of the activities and expenditures of the federal government.

He announced that the administration is proposing the repeal or amendment of various statutes authorizing or directing expenditures of public money that now appear to be wasteful or otherwise without justification.

Although taking a more advanced position than hitherto, the President made it clear, however, that he is not in danger of running amuck on the subject of economy. What he contemplates is a further paring of government expenditures to the extent of only 125 millions of dollars, compared with the 800 millions which a multitude of paternalistic, subventionary and regulatory activities of the central government is costing the taxpayers.

Defense Against Attacks.

The President's remarks were in defense of the administration against the charges of the Democratic leaders of the house that the cabinet is resisting plans for reorganization and drastic reduction of the cost of the government and in answer to the flings of those assailants who, citing his espousal of the 850 million dollar Columbia river development project, accuse him of giving only lip service to the cause of economy.

"The whole of the administrative officials," said Mr. Hoover, "are cooperating with the special economy committee appointed by the house of representatives in the drive to bring about further drastic economies in federal expenditure.

SMITH BEATEN BY ROOSEVELT IN NEW HAMPSHIRE

Wins All Delegates in First Test.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Concord, N. H., March 8.—[Special.]—Delegates pledged to the candidacy of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt for the Democratic presidential nomination carried the state in today's presidential preference primary with a sweeping victory over the delegate slate pledged to former Gov. Alfred E. Smith, the 1928 nominee.

With all but 60 of the 294 towns and city wards tabulated, the entire Roosevelt slate of eight delegates at large and two delegates in each of the two congressional districts was elected with an indicated plurality of about 4,500 votes.

First Test of Strength.

In the national convention the delegates at large will have a half vote each and the district delegates a full vote each, making a total of eight votes pledged to Roosevelt as a result of the country's first test battle between the two outstanding candidates for the party's nomination.

The rural towns gave the Roosevelt delegates a 4 to 1 margin over Smith's and the few districts yet to be heard from are largely in this territory. The Roosevelt slate carried the cities of Concord, Franklin, Nashua, and Somersworth, and though a heavy vote was polled in Manchester, which had been relied upon by the Smith adherents, it was insufficient to turn the tide for the 1928 nominee.

Robert Jackson, secretary of the Democratic national committee and leader of the Roosevelt forces in this state, issued this statement:

"There is nothing to it. Gov. Roosevelt has won a complete New Hampshire delegation."

Moses Ward Battleground.

Ward 3 in Concord gave a light vote, but favorable to Roosevelt by almost 4 to 1. A feature of the Concord vote was the result in Ward 4, home of Senator Moses, where Smith fought Roosevelt to an almost even draw.

Roosevelt delegates swept through the Yankee Democratic rural towns with heavy majorities, grinding their Smith opponents under them, as had been predicted in the pre-election forecasts of both sides. As the lead piled up the Roosevelt managers looked nervously toward Manchester, the largest city in the state, with a population of many national extractions, but Smith's heavy vote there failed to offset the New York governor's majority.

The Roosevelt victory was expected to have an important bearing on the Massachusetts primary on April 26. Smith has given consent to the use of his name there and a ticket of candidates for delegates has been prepared. Roosevelt supporters here predict a Roosevelt ticket would be entered against the Smith slate in Massachusetts.

On the Republican side a complete and uncontested delegation pledged to renomination of President Hoover, including in its membership United States Senator George H. Moses, Gov. John G. Winant, and former Gov. Huntley N. Spaulding, was elected.

No Surprise to Farley.

Washington, D. C., March 8.—(AP)—James A. Farley, one of the leaders in the movement to nominate Gov. Roosevelt of New York for the presidency, said tonight: "The result in New Hampshire is not a surprise to me.

"We anticipated the outcome," Farley said. "The opposition to Roosevelt tried to make it appear that they had stopped him, but a definite answer to that statement will be given by April 1. We expect to have over 100 votes for Roosevelt by that time."

Vote in Minnesota Today.

St. Paul, Minn., March 8.—(AP)—Lines were drawn tonight for an early test of the relative strength of Roosevelt and Smith supporters in the state Democratic convention tomorrow.

Both groups decided on candidates for convention chairman, willing to permit this contest early in the convention to determine its tone.

Groups favoring a delegation to the national convention instructed for Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York for the party's nomination for President joined to support Einar Holdale of Minneapolis for chairman.

Smith Men Lack Confidence.

Supporters of former Governor Alfred E. Smith decided to back Neil M. Cronin, Minneapolis city attorney, for the post. One faction of Smith supporters, lacking confidence that his open indorsement might be won, concentrated on efforts to prevent the national delegation being instructed.

OVERDOING THE ACT

PORTRAIT SITTER IS RETOUCHED BY THE ARTIST

Artist Fred G. Grey, who has a studio at 19 East Pearson street, and his old friend, Fred Allen, struck a bargain in January. The portrait of Mr. Allen was to be painted by Mr. Grey and Mr. Allen was to pay for the canvas and paints, valued at $34.

Then the subject was to get the portrait, but the artist was to have it whenever he desired it for exhibition purposes.

The picture was painted and hung on the studio walls. Mr. Grey, who has won acclaim for pictures at the Carnegie National and Pan-American exhibitions, valued it at $2,000. Last Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Allen invited some friends to come and view it at their home, 1260 North Dearborn street, and as Artist Grey had it they went after it.

In the studio the artist said there was still $24 due for the paints. When Mr. Allen tried to take the work unpaid the artist punched him so severely that he didn't look like his picture any more. But while Grey was retouching the Allen countenance Mrs. Allen ran home with the canvas. Artist Grey went with a warrant a little later and took it back.

Yesterday the artist and his subject appeared before Judge McCarthy in the Chicago avenue court. Mrs. Allen had charged Mr. Grey with larceny. The judge ruled that the painter might keep the portrait for six months and then, on payment of $24, must surrender it to the Allens.

Ruth Hanna McCormick to Wed Today

Colorado Springs, Col., March 8.—[Special.]—Announcement was made here today by Ruth Hanna McCormick, former congresswoman at large from Illinois, and widow of Senator Medill McCormick, that she would be married at noon tomorrow to Albert G. Simms of Albuquerque, N. M., former congressman, at her winter home here.

Mr. Simms, it was revealed tonight, was forced to ask assistance of the District court in obtaining the marriage license. Under Colorado law a couple must wait five days between the application and receipt of a license, but Judge John C. Young granted Mr. Simms' request, issued a court order, and the county clerk of El Paso county promptly issued a license.

Daughter Unable to Be Present.

The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Paul C. Roberts, rector of Grace Episcopal church. Judge John J. Simms, brother of the bridegroom, will be best man. Mr. and Mrs. James Ailshie of Boise, Idaho, will be special guests of Mrs. McCormick at the wedding. Mrs. Ailshie will be matron of honor. She is the daughter of the late Calvin Cobb, publisher of the Idaho Statesman for many years, and is a lifelong friend of the bride-to-be. Mrs. McCormick's eldest daughter, Katrina, who is attending Columbia university, will not be present. Ruth and Medill, younger children, are attending private schools near Colorado Springs, and it was to be near them that Mrs. McCormick took up a residence here.

The bride will wear a gray afternoon dress trimmed with chinchilla which she wore at the coming out party of her daughter, Katrina. Katrina asked her mother to wear that dress, Mrs. McCormick said.

Following the ceremony the couple will go to Albuquerque, where they will reside.

NEWS NOT A SURPRISE.

Mrs. McCormick's announcement that she would marry former Congressman Simms of Albuquerque lacked the element of surprise. Their names were first linked in Washington, where they occupied adjacent seats in the house and were frequently seen together.

Almost a year ago, on Mrs. McCormick's fifty-first birthday, March 27, after visiting Mr. Simms' sister, Mrs. William E. Eels, in Albuquerque, Mrs. McCormick told reporters in El Paso, Tex., that the rumor she and Mr. Simms were to marry "was screamingly funny."

Nevertheless the rumor gained head-

UNCLE SAM SELLS 900 MILLIONS OF BONDS IN 2 DAYS

Washington, D. C., March 8.—[Special.]—The subscription books for the 900 million dollars worth of treasury certificates offered yesterday morning were closed tonight, Secretary of the Treasury Mills announced. Two days sufficed to take up the subscription.

From the point of view of treasury officials the readiness with which the 900 millions was forthcoming was an indication of confidence in the sound credit of the government.

It was pointed out, however, that 600 millions of the bonds, maturing March 15, 1933, bear interest at 3¾ per cent, the highest rate paid on government borrowing since the war. The remaining 300 millions, maturing within seven months, bear a rate of 3⅛ per cent.

Furthermore, the New York Federal Reserve bank was required to lower its rediscount rate from 3½ to 3 per cent, thus generally making money cheaper, and the higher rates of the government offering correspondingly more attractive.

The 900 million dollar offering constitutes a record peace time borrowing for the government. It is, however, only a part of the financing program to meet the cost of the government during the latter half of the present fiscal year. In all, some 2½ billions must be raised to fill the gap between revenues depleted by the depression and expenditures enhanced by recent "relief" legislation.

LINDY'S PLEA TO KIDNAPERS ON FRONT PAGE

Philadelphia, Pa., March 8.—(AP)—In a two column box on the front page captioned "To the Kidnapers," the Philadelphia Record says:

"Cut an irregular piece of cloth from the Lindbergh baby's original sleeping garment. Keep this fragment. Place the baby in a safe place. Notify Col. Lindbergh where to find the boy. He secretly will send for it. At a later date, to be set by you, he will meet and deal with you in strictest secrecy.

"You are to produce your fragment matching the part from which it was cut and receive the ransom, without the knowledge of any one else. The Record is authorized to guarantee this plan as official and genuine, but is bound by confidence not to reveal the official sources through which it was issued."

Record Cold Due to Stay 2 More Days

Storms Take 33 Lives

Storms which have taken a toll of 33 lives continued yesterday in the Atlantic coast states. The gale was still imperiling ships at sea, although the snow had abated. Many towns were isolated as drifts blocked highways and the wind tore down telegraph and telephone lines. Details on page 4.

When the temperature in Chicago failed to rise above 10 degrees yesterday a new record for March 8 was set. Only one March day in the history of the weather bureau had a lower maximum; it was March 1, 1873, when the highest was 8 above zero.

The low yesterday was 2 above and the average was 6 degrees. This is twenty-six degrees below the normal average for the day.

Forecaster C. A. Donnel said that it would remain cold today and tomorrow. The minimum tomorrow is expected to be somewhat higher than today's.

Milder on Friday.

"By Friday we may have still better conditions," he added, "although it will still be colder than normal. There is a little break in southwest Canada, where the barometric pressure was falling a little tonight."

Mr. Donnel explained that the low which has clung to the coast of Nova Scotia for several days has been holding the area of high pressure over most of the country east of the Rockies.

Such snow as falls today, the forecaster indicated, will be in flurries. There were light falls during the afternoon and evening yesterday.

The cold spell, which is now in its fifth day, has caused the Chicago river to freeze from bank to bank, an unusual condition at any time. Skaters were out in great numbers on the flooded Midway plaisance near the Illinois Central tracks.

Bar Skaters in Parks.

The Lincoln, south and west parks, however, have refused to allow skating on their ponds and lagoons. The south park board, after keeping its skating shelters open through February and finding that the public was able to have good ice only for eight hours, tore down most of the temporary buildings a week ago.

One death was attributed in part to the low temperatures. Emil Petschinsky, 55 years old, 2527 West 96th street, Evergreen Park, was found dead near his home. The police expressed the belief that he was frozen while returning from a nearby roadhouse.

MYSTERY VEILS MOVEMENTS AT GUARDED HOME

BULLETIN.

Hopewell, N. J., March 9 (Wednesday.)—(AP)—A widespread belief that there might be some development soon in the Lindbergh baby case collapsed at 4 o'clock this morning when it was learned that the entire household of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh had retired shortly after midnight, and that the house was dark four hours later.

BULLETIN.

New York, March 9.—(Special.)—Col. Henry Breckinridge late this evening drove away from the Lindbergh home with a woman believed to be Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, mother of Mrs. Lindbergh. Their car soon disappeared in the direction of Princeton and Englewood.

At Englewood it was learned that a secretary at the Morrow home had asked that the Englewood Western Union office be kept open all night.

The Englewood police at 11:30 p. m. began stopping every bus that passed Main street and Palisades avenues. No passengers were interrogated, but each bus was inspected thoroughly before being allowed to proceed.

BY TOM PETTEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 8.—[Special.]—Light blazed in the Lindbergh home in the Sourland hills tonight and there was an air of intense expectancy in the house. Cars came and left on hurried missions, but as the seventh night dragged on none knew the whereabouts of the kidnapers nor of their hostage, the Lindbergh baby.

Col. Henry Breckinridge, the Lindbergh lawyer, who had sped away this afternoon on a six hour secret mission for which high hopes were held, drew up to the house late tonight, apparently empty handed. There was no blanketed figure in the tall attorney's arms.

Rumor Gains Credence.

It was reported that Col. Breckinridge had gone to attend a meeting with the kidnapers or their go-betweens, and circumstances lent credence to the rumor. Col. Breckinridge, as a close family friend and adviser, would be the logical one to handle the financial end of such a transaction if Col. Lindbergh has established communication with his son's captors and arranged to pay over the $50,000 ransom.

But the family friend returned empty handed. Whether the man who has been at the side of Col. Lindbergh throughout the week kept a rendezvous with the kidnapers or whether he was following another will-o'-the-wisp clew remained a secret tonight, as did everything else transpiring in a house impregnable now, but all too easy to enter through a warped shutter just a week ago.

Nevertheless, the wave of hope, born in the stone house, spread to the village two miles away. Whether it was based on anything more tangible than superstition is debatable.

See Solution of Crime.

There was, however, hope and a firm belief that the solution of the crime was approaching a crisis. This was made clear when one of the high officials said:

"Things have looked more hopeful for the baby's return in the last few days since the receipt of those two letters."

A similar note of optimism was expressed late tonight at Trenton by Maj. Charles A. Schoeffel, deputy head of the New Jersey state police. Replying to questions, the officer said that "progress" had been made in the search for the baby. He had been asked if there had been any developments in the police search or in Col. Lindbergh's private negotiations and he answered with the one word, "progress," a word that he had not spoken before.

For the most part interviews brought only evasive answers, denials of rumors, and silence about reported conferences in the Lindbergh home.

Police Keep Hands Off.

Every possible move has been made to make it easy for the criminals to reach Col. Lindbergh, the family spokesman said tonight. Only ten troopers remain on the estate and none of them is quartered in the house. The police no longer wade through the Lindbergh mail sacks and insistent denials have been made that they answer the private telephone in the Lindbergh house.

All communications addressed to the Lindberghs are opened and read by members of the family, who have given their pledge that they will not seek to prosecute the abductors if the child is returned.

A possibility that the kidnapers crossed in a green sedan from Perth Amboy, N. J., to Tottenville, S. I., at about 10:45 p. m. on the night of the crime was revealed tonight. James L. Dalton, toll collector, reported after an unexplained delay that the automobile in question had come under his observation. In the car, he reports, were two men, a woman and a baby, the latter clothed in a white zipper suit which appeared to have been made of brushed wool.

Because the license number of the automobile as Dalton saw it was similar to that of a green coupe owned by Henry [Red] Johnson, the information was forwarded to Newark where Johnson is held for questioning.

Dalton remembered that the number began "N. Y. 3U." Then after one figure he could not remember were the figures 680. The license number on Johnson's green coupe is "N. Y. 3 U 9680."

Throughout the day there had been mysterious comings and goings at the Lindbergh home and just after 8 o'clock tonight two New York limousines sped through the estate gate bound toward Princeton. Less than an hour before, an automobile bearing a Missouri license was admitted to the Lindbergh estate. In the car were William Bradley, a Negro lawyer from Kansas City and three Negro women. They were joined by troopers who went into the house with them. The Negro man and his three companions remained in the house about 45 minutes and then drove away.

Spitale Still Silent.

There was no authentic word during the evening from "Salvy" Spitale and Irving Bitz, the two underworld go-betweens named by Col. Lindbergh to aid in the search for his son.

Such police activity as there was appeared to center on Henry [Red] Johnson, the sailor sweetheart of Betty Gow, the Lindbergh maid, and efforts to trace the wood used in constructing the ladder found outside the nursery window.

Maj. Schoeffel denied the lumber from which the ladder had been constructed had been traced to an epileptic village and Dr. Daniel Smith Renner, superintendent of the institution, held the opinion that today's search had been as unproductive as those made on other days since the kidnaping.

However, it was reliably reported that an inspector of the New Jersey state board of institutions and agencies had definitely identified the wood.

It was fashioned from North Carolina pine used in the construction of a dormitory at the Skillman, N. J., state home for epileptics which was built about a year ago. A responsible supervisor of the construction job identified the timber.

Workmen Rounded Up.

The identification of the ladder started an immediate roundup of all the men who worked on the Moldenky cottage in 1930 and this may have been responsible for the sudden flurry of excitement noticed about the Lindbergh home.

The identification was considered doubly important when it was learned that the contract for the cottage was given to Marius Peterson of Perth-Amboy and that practically all of his laborers came from Skillman or from the shanties in the broken country roundabout. The natives in the Sourland mountains are known locally as "Jackson whites."

It is the kidnapers' next move, was the belief of every observer in Hopewell. Official sources yielded scanty information about anything. Questions regarding police activity were answered in guarded terms and those about Col. Lindbergh's private efforts to find his son received no answer at all.

The day produced its usual quota of momentary sensations. Among them were:

A Boston organ builder requested permission to examine the kidnapers' ladder and was told to come and look at it. He did not keep the appointment, and why he asked at all was not quite clear.

Even closer to the Lindbergh home, the police report they have not definitely elliminated from suspicion the three Lindbergh servants—Betty Gow, Oliver Wheatley, the butler, and his wife. Their suspicions, they said, do not necessarily tend toward an "inside job," but the servants might inadvertently have put important information about the family's habits and plans into the hands of the kidnapers.

Lindy and Anne Calmer.

Col. Lindbergh and his wife, the former Anne Morrow, have lived a lifetime in the week that elapsed since the kidnaping of their baby. For a time they plunged frantically into the investigation. They are calmer now and more balanced in their hunt for the abductors. Physically they are in much better condition than they were two days ago, their friends report. They have been resting more, and no longer does Col. Lindbergh beseech troopers for every bit of stray information. He is now kept apprised only of important turns in the search for his son.

One sensational story sent out from Hopewell early today has been denied in all quarters, but still persists as having a reliable origin. The story is that a reputable New York lawyer, his name not revealed, had a conference with Col. Lindbergh early today at the Lindbergh home. He was said to be representing the kidnapers.

Seeming discrepancies in the stories told by Henry (Red) Johnson, the sailor friend of Betty Gow, the Lindbergh nurse, were discovered. Johnson's account of his movements on the night of the kidnaping brought three Newark detectives to Hartford to check the story the sailor told there when he was first held after leaving his Englewood, N. J., home.

The detectives, it was understood, wanted information obtained in Connecticut regarding Johnsen Junge, a friend of Johnson.

Junge has said, it was learned, together with his wife, who is a seamstress in the household of Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, Mrs. Lindbergh's mother, he was with Johnson last Tuesday night.

A Norwalk, Conn., restaurant keeper and his wife looked at Johnson last night and decided he wasn't the man who stopped at their place early last Wednesday and bought a glass of warm milk which they thought was for a baby.

Tragedy and Comedy Create Facets of Lindbergh Case

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

MANSFIELD, Pa.—A crowd of curious watching for the kidnapers of the Lingbergh baby to drop around got only numbed feet for their patience. A note seized in Elmira, N. Y., told Col. Lindbergh to be at the Cross Trail inn with $500,000 at 8 p. m. last night. The zero hour [the weather made the term doubly appropriate] came and went without any action.

BRISTOL, Pa.—Another ransom note demanded that the Lindberghs keep rendezvous with the sender beneath a railroad bridge at Croyden. When two men and a woman stopped their automobile at the spot policemen hidden in the bushes pounced on them. They were released after questioning.

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—The discussion about the kidnaping grew hot among a group of men sitting over coffee mugs in a lunch room. "It's an outrage," shouted George Mohills, 62, leaping to his feet. Then he slumped to the floor, dead.

HOPEWELL, N. J.—Donning a big apron, Mrs. Dwight Morrow, widow of the late millionaire senator, is waiting on tables at the Lindbergh home, making the beds and the troopers' cots. Her wealth is reputed to be in excess of $19,000,000.

PARIS.—The French "Scotland Yard" and the American Legion in France, of which Col. Lindbergh is an honorary member, are watching incoming ships on the off chance the kidnapers may be aboard.

PATERSON, N. J.—The youngest "detective" on the kidnapers' trail has given up. The weather was too cold. Davis Adams, 11, ran away from his Brooklyn home four days ago to come here and hunt the culprits. His father found him and told him it was warmer at home.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—Police are uncertain whether a telegram sent from here last night to Col. Lindbergh had any connection with the kidnaping of his son. They learned that the message had been delivered. It said: "Take Salvi Spitale out of New York. Deal with Chicago direct. Baby doing good."

LOS ANGELES, Cal.—Police were notified here today to watch for an automobile, bearing New Jersey license plates and having as its occupants two men, a woman, and an infant, which sped through Raton, N. M., early today.

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Tony Meslo, 43, contractor, who says he has lived in New Haven 19 years, was seized last night and questioned for two hours by state police. Maj. Frank M. Nichols of the state police said the arrest of Meslo was the result of information received today and opened an entirely new angle to the state investigation.

BOSTON.—A thorough check of all drug and surgical supply stores was ordered by Superintendent of Police Michael H. Crowley today to obtain names or descriptions of all persons who have bought medicine for children since March 1 in the hope that such a check might prove of help in finding the kidnaped son of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

PHILADELPHIA.—Lieutenant of Detectives Charles Schwar was assigned today to question three men in the eastern state penitentiary who are serving long terms for kidnaping Ignazio Arena, 5, of Norristown, last October. This action was taken in the hope that "some line can be obtained on their method of working" that might aid in the search for the Lindbergh baby.

BOSTON.—The statements of Earle Edwards, 40, of Derry, N. H., to a fellow train passenger that his father-in-law, who he said was an amateur fortune teller, had divulged important clews in the Lindbergh kidnaping case, caused a flurry of excitement today. It resulted in Edwards and his newly made friend, Samuel Black, 51, of Lawrence, being taken to police headquarters for questioning.

NEW YORK.—Police Commissioner Edward P. Mulrooney disclosed today that New Jersey police yesterday requested him to take no action on a note in the Lindbergh kidnaping case, a copy of which Jersey police had promised to forward him and which they apparently believed had been sent. Mulrooney said that fingerprints of Betty Gow, the Lindbergh baby's nurse, had been compared at police headquarters here with those of a girl named Miller convicted in New York several years ago of larceny and showed the two were different persons.

NEW YORK.—M. J. Lemay, secretary of the International Detective association, an organization claiming 30,000 private detectives as members, informed Col. Charles A. Lindbergh today the officers and directors of the association have instructed all members to coöperate in the search for his kidnaped baby without hope of remuneration for any services rendered.

R. P. LAMONT JR. SAILS FOR RUSSIA TO CONSIDER JOB

New York, March 9 (Wednesday).—(AP)—Robert P. Lamont Jr., son of the secretary of commerce, sailed early today to confer with officials of soviet Russia regarding an appointment to teach the soviet how to bring its cattle production to a parity with the United States.

Mr. Lamont will spend six weeks in Moscow and then decide whether to accept the position. He said the task of increasing Russia's cattle production to the point sought by the soviet—100 pounds of beef per year per capita—would require twenty years to fulfill.

"I'm a cow man," he said as he explained he had a 7,000 acre ranch in Colorado on which thoroughbred Herefords are raised. "The cattle business is the greatest in the country and I am interested in anything concerning it."

The United States, with 120,000,000 people, Lamont added, had 65,000,000 cattle and 60,000,000 sheep, compared with 35,000,000 cattle and 17,000,000 sheep in Russia, which has 160,000,000 people.

Girl Bitten on Lip When She Pets Dog

Miss Eleanor Hurley, 21 years old, 4701 Beacon street, was bitten on the lip by a police dog yesterday in the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Givens, 734 Woodbine avenue, Oak Park. She knelt to pet the dog, Laddie, when the animal lunged at her. She was taken to the Oak Park hospital for treatment.

Captured Pair Confess 3 Robberies in Suburbs

Joseph Maly, 19 year old, 511 North Halsted street, and James Tesinsky, 24 years old, 2641 South Avers avenue, confessed yesterday to three robberies in western suburbs, which netted them $2,000 in cash and jewelry.

POLICE SEE LINK BETWEEN LINDY, DONNELLY CASES

West Chester, Pa., March 8.—(AP)—Authorities investigated today the possibility of a connection between the kidnapings of the Lindbergh baby and of Mrs. Nell Q. Donnelly, wealthy Kansas City woman.

Kansas City and Mercer county, N. J., officers sought to learn whether a former Downington, Pa., man known as Martin De Pew, who was sought in the Donnelly abduction, had any connection with the Lindbergh case.

De Pew formerly was a steam shovel operator. The opinion was advanced that he might have been among the workmen employed to level off a field near the Lindbergh home.

Lindbergh Case Booms Business for Wire Lines

Hopewell, N. J., March 8.—(AP)—Business is booming for the communications companies as the number of people who try to get in touch with Col. Lindbergh mounts by leaps and bounds. The total of telegrams sent to the Lindberghs daily has increased to between 400 and 500. Newspapermen are sending an average of 75,000 words a day over the telegraph lines. The high point was reached last Thursday, when 98,000 words were transmitted.

Hoover Calls Lindbergh, but Colonel Is Asleep

Hopewell, N. J., March 8.—(AP)—President Hoover called Col. Charles A. Lindbergh several days ago to express his regret over the kidnaping of the flyer's son, it was learned tonight, and was told Col. Lindbergh was asleep. The President urged that the sleeping man be not awakened, so Col. Lindbergh was not informed of the President's call until later in the day.

LINDBERGH KIDNAP SUSPECT HELD; BONDS ARE SET AT $25,000

New Haven, Conn., March 8.—(AP)—Tony Meslo, 43, a contractor, was held under $25,000 bonds today while state police investigated a story that he had talked to two men at Colchester last summer about the Lindbergh baby.

Meslo, arrested on a technical charge of idleness, was questioned secretly throughout last night and today. Officials refused to discuss what they had learned.

Meslo was held after a Colchester woman told state police she overheard a conversation ten months ago between Meslo and two men in which the Lindbergh child was mentioned.

A suggestion was made, she said, that one of the men get a job at the Hopewell, N. J., estate of the Lindberghs, then under construction, or, if this proved impossible, to find work in the vicinity.

Police reported Meslo refused to tell them whether he ever had worked in New Jersey.

Meslo's actions the night of the kidnaping were accounted for satisfactorily, officers said.

Lava Pours from Volcano; Chileans Flee from Homes

TEMUCO, Chile, March 8.—(AP)—Many cattle were killed, farm lands were damaged, and farmers were driven from their homes by cinders and lava which poured all day yesterday from Mount Llaima. No loss of life was reported.

KING IN UNIFORM MEETS OFFICERS AT FIRST LEVEE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 8.—Seated on the gold and crimson throne in St. James's palace, King George today held the first levee of the season. It was marked by the appearance of the distinguished figure of Gen. Sir Bindon Blood, 89, who, in full dress uniform, presented 44 young officers of the artillery and engineers.

The presentations also included officers of the navy, army, and air force and members of the civil service. The king was in the uniform of an admiral of the fleet. He drove from Buckingham to St. James's palace in a closed landau surmounted by a golden crown.

A captain's escort of horse guards, wearing long cloaks over their burnished breast plates, rode before and after the coach, making a bright spectacle for the crowd standing in the mist to cheer the king as he drove down the Mall and returned. The ceremony lasted half an hour.

ROSIZKA DOLLY MAKES A PLEDGE; IT'S ON MARRIAGE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, March 8.—"If this marriage doesn't take I'm going into a nunnery," Rosizka Dolly said tonight on the eve of her departure for America with Irving Netcher of Chicago, whom she will marry in New York.

"And if I do that," added the former dancing star, "a lot of lawyers who have been living on us will go out of business."

Rosizka and Mr. Netcher are sailing tomorrow on the Europa. They will be married in New York by Mayor Walker. The couple will go to Palm Beach and Havana on a honey moon and will then divide their time between New York and Paris.

Music School Head Is Sent to Prison for Mail Fraud

Dr. Carmen Ferraro, head of the International Grand Opera Music school at 64 East Jackson boulevard, pleaded guilty yesterday to using the mails to defraud and was sentenced to two years in prison by Federal Judge Barnes. Ferraro was charged with taking money from Italian-Americans on the promise of bringing their alien relatives into this country as students.

PLEAD NOT GUILTY TO KIDNAPING OF NILES, O., BOY, 11

Warren, O., March 8.—(AP)—Arraigned on charges of kidnaping with attempt to extort, the two accused kidnapers of 11 year old Jimmy Dejute Jr. of Niles late today entered pleas of not guilty and began preparing for their defense.

The men, Dowell Hargraves, 31, and John Demarko, 30, both of Youngstown, were brought to court to answer to the indictments at the expiration of the 24 hours prescribed by law to have elapsed between servicing of indictment papers and arraignment.

Only one of the men had obtained counsel to prepare for the trial, set for Thursday. Hargraves announced he had retained a Niles, O., attorney. Demarko, however, said he was in communication with Youngstown friends relative to hiring an attorney.

Meanwhile, both Youngstown and Niles police continued their search for a suspected third man in the case. Niles officers expressed the belief that Demarko knows the identity of this man. They were inclined to doubt his story of being made a captive by Hargraves at the abandoned gambling house near Niles where the boy was found.

Both Demarko and Hargraves face a maximum penalty of life imprisonment if convicted.

TWENTY SEIZED BY U. S. IN RAID ON DOPE GANG

Twenty persons were arrested yesterday by federal narcotic agents under H. B. Westover and Chicago police as the result of a four months' investigation into a dope ring with widespread ramifications. Purchases of narcotics had been made from each of those arrested, according to Westover.

Among those seized were Max Kornhauser, 830 Lawrence avenue, recently released after serving a four years penitentiary term for peddling dope; Arthur Roberts and Helen Cooper, 4901 Drexel boulevard; Jack Edwards and Helen Long, 3015 Broadway; Arthur [Frankie] Lake and Robert Lisko, 4552 Hazel avenue, and Willie Kissane, arrested as he was delivering five ounces of heroin at 830 Lawrence avenue.

SOBS IN COURT, AGREES TO PAY GIRL $19,000 IN $300,000 BALM SUIT

New York, March 8.—[Special.]—The $300,000 breach of promise suit brought by Miss Mary Ryther of Sayville L. I., against Harry Brevoort of the Park avenue Brevoorts ended in a burst of tears in Supreme court today. Brevoort agreed, between sobs, to pay the girl $19,250 and call it quits. She promptly consented to a dismissal of the suit.

Miss Ryther's action against the scion of an old aristocratic and famous landholding family of lower Manhattan had been occupying the attention of Supreme Court Justice William T. Collins and a jury, and Miss Ryther, shortly before the private settlement was reached, had testified that Mr. Brevoort had repudiated his promise to marry her.

The testimony was that Miss Ryther met Mr. Brevoort in June, 1922. He spent many week-ends at her home in Sayville and, according to the testimony, promised, in June, 1923, to make her his wife. He failed to carry out that promise, although he repeated it under interesting circumstances on Easter Sunday in 1927. Mrs. Ethel Westerbeake, sister of the plaintiff, testified that when she threw her bridal bouquet to her sister, Mary, Mr. Brevoort clapped his hands and called out, "We're next."

Miss Ryther, herself, testified that Mr. Brevoort courted her assiduously until 1928, when he broke off his attentions and refused to carry out his promise.

Grocer, 62, Found Slain; Suicide, Woman Asserts

Police from the Hudson avenue station, summoned by a neighbor, went early today to the flat of Bert Wessela in the rear of his grocery at 1830 North Halsted street. There they found Wessela, who was 62 years old, dead with a bullet in his heart. With him was Mrs. Olga Karinu, 60 years old, who had been living in the flat for several months. After questioning her Lieut. Timothy Rohan said he was satisfied her story that Wessela killed himself was true.

CERMAK SEEKS POWER TO FIRE ANY EMPLOYES

Demands Economy Action as Aldermen Delay.

Mayor Cermak is expected to submit an ordinance to the city council at its meeting today, giving him blanket power to dismiss any city employés he wishes in order to keep the city's expenses within its estimated revenues for 1932.

ALD. J. B. BOWLER.

The mayor instructed Corporation Counsel Sexton to draft such a measure yesterday when he returned from a rest at Hot Springs, Ark. The measure will be introduced, Mayor Cermak said, if Mr. Sexton finishes his work on it in time.

"If I do not get that authority," said the mayor, "I'll use the power I have and suspend unnecessary employés being carried over from last year under the continuation ordinance, pending preparation of the 1932 budget. We must do this. Every dollar spent unnecessarily now from our limited revenues means a reduction later in vital service."

Says He Won't Fourflush.

Some weeks ago Mayor Cermak recommended to the council the dismissal of 2,479 employés as an economy measure. A finance subcommittee which has been considering that proposal sidetracked it temporarily last week, announcing its intention of seeking other means of saving the $6,500,000 which the mayor says must be lopped off the budget.

"I put that proposal before the aldermen," Mayor Cermak said yesterday, "not as my solution but as an emergency measure if they failed to suggest a better plan of economy. It will be necessary to dismiss many people, and I'm not going to fourflush by telling employés I'll keep them when I don't mean to keep them."

Ald. James B. Bowler [25th] and Ald. Oscar F. Nelson [46th] said that they would ask that the mayor's proposed ordinance be referred to the finance committee if it is introduced today. This would prevent action until the next council meeting, since two aldermen can demand reference of any measure to a committee.

Indorses Economy Parley.

Mayor Cermak indorsed the proposal of Ald. John S. Clark [30th], chairman of the finance committee, to call a conference of all local governments to discuss economies, and thus consider the services given by public agencies as a whole instead of having each make its budget cuts separately. Such a conference, it was suggested, would enable the park boards to dispense with golf course attendants and save the city from cutting fire and police protection.

Senator James Hamilton Lewis sent a telegram to Mayor Cermak and the city council yesterday advising them that he believed it possible for a bank, acting as the city's agent, to deposit tax warrants as collateral for a loan from the Federal Reconstruction Finance corporation.

State and municipal governments are barred by the act creating the corporation from making loans direct. Mayor Cermak asked Corporation Counsel Sexton to investigate Senator Lewis' suggestion.

AGREE TO JOINT DISBURSEMENT OF RELIEF FUND

Representatives of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission and a committee of the county board yesterday agreed that the responsibility of disbursing Cook county's share of the state funds for relief of the needy will be shared.

Bills and their payments will be concurred in jointly, it was agreed. The agreement removed fears of the county commissioners that they were not given sufficient protection from possible public criticism concerning expenditures.

Commissioner Peter M. Kelly had objected to the former arrangement whereby the county acted as an agent in distributing the relief funds on the ground that bills incurred would be approved only by the state relief commission and that the county should have a voice in the approval of bills inasmuch as the county bureau of public welfare would distribute the funds.

No Man's Land Dance Hall Burns

Kenilworth Relents and Opens Its Mains.

A spectacular fire early last evening destroyed a two story stucco building on Sheridan road in "No Man's land," an unincorporated strip of territory between Wilmette and Kenilworth, with a loss estimated at $100,000.

The second floor of the structure was occupied by the Miralago dance hall, and the first floor by the Bills Realty company, the DeNelda Beauty shop and a photographic studio.

Three fire departments, those of Evanston, Wilmette, and Winnetka, responded to the earlier alarms, but the flames gained headway in the high wind when the police of Kenilworth refused to allow the Evanston firemen to take water from Kenilworth mains.

Orders Ban Removed.

Wendell Clark, village clerk of Kenilworth, when he heard of this action, went to the scene and ordered water turned on. He explained that the police had been technically correct, as the occupants of the building had no contract for water or fire protection.

It had been feared that with restricted supplies of water the flames would spread to a restaurant on the north of the dance hall and to gasoline filling station on the east side of Sheridan road. After the Evanston forces went into action the flames were confined to the one structure. The Winnetka firemen, when they learned that the water was denied them, went back to protect their own town.

Dance Hall Raided.

The Miralago building covered an area 200 by 40 feet. Last July in a raid on the hall six men were arrested for conducting an alleged gambling house.

Several years ago the property owners in "No Man's Land" voted down a proposition to be annexed to Wilmette. The little strip of territory has no municipal government and its theaters remain open on Sunday. Neither has it any regular water supply of its own. Most of the property owners until a year ago purchased their supplies from Wilmette and when that arrangement ended individuals made contracts for water service with Kenilworth. The Miralago made none, it was said.

$125 Police Radio Sets Offered City for $20 Now

Radio sets for police automobiles, for which the city paid $125 each a year ago now may be had for $20 each, the city council finance committee was informed yesterday. Police Commissioner Allman reported that the company which sold 150 sets to the city has 150 more which it is willing to dispose of at $20 each. The committee authorized the purchase.

PRODUCERS OF WINE TO FIGHT PROHIBITION WITHOUT RUM'S AID

[Copyright: 1932: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, March 8.—The world's wine producers and consumers should divorce absolutely their cause from that of distillers of spiritous liquors in combating prohibition. This policy was unanimously agreed upon today by delegates from thirty nations attending the international wine congress here.

"The most eminent medical authorities in all lands," declared Eduard Barthe, French deputy and president of the National Wine Bureau, "gave sweeping endorsements to wine as both a health builder and health restorer. Our propaganda in favor of the product of our vineyards should concentrate on this virtue of juice grape. Prohibitionists have never found an argument against wine's great benefits to human health."

The Wickersham report on prohibition enforcement in the United States came up for discussion today. This document was cited by M. Barthe as "a more eloquent denunciation of prohibition than any wine lover could think of." The Greek delegate urged the congress to recommend to wine producing countries that all join in a "united trade boycott of the United States until the prohibition laws are modified to allow importation and consumption of wine." The Spanish delegate thought the suggestion too extreme and offered as a substitute the proposal that all wine growing countries contribute to a common propaganda fund to combat American prohibition.

YOUNG GUNMAN ROBS 4 WOMEN AND KILLS DOG

A youthful robber halted four women last night as they were leaving the Institute of Good Housekeeping center, 4830 South Bishop street. Holding a pistol in front of them he commanded:

"Hand over your purses and keep quiet. If any one of you makes a noise I'll kill you all."

Mrs. Yonder Staton, 6122 Kimbark avenue, an instructor at the institute, obeyed. So did the three students who were with her—Miss Catherine Lloyd, 6806 Jeffery avenue; Miss Mary Healy, 7048 South Winchester avenue, and Miss Catherine Hogan, 8332 South May street. In the four purses the women had a total of $8, a pair of spectacles, a string of beads, and a wrist watch.

Taking the loot the youth moved toward an alley, where several companions awaited him. A small bulldog, owned by Alex Berezowicz, 1516 West 49th street, approached him. The bandit shot and killed the animal. Then he fled.

APPRAISER JOLTS HOPES FOR HIGH PERSONALTY TAX

School Trustees' Ideas Fantastic, Fox Says.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Charles E. Fox, chief appraiser of the late board of assessors, who was highly commended by school trustees for his knowledge of tax matters, said yesterday that the school board had laid a fantastic foundation for its expected 1932 tax revenue.

The trustees have frequently sought refuge in County Judge Jarecki's decision which found that 16½ billion dollars worth of personal property in Cook county had been improperly kept off the tax rolls. That is one basis for the trustees' hope that they will get more taxes for 1932 than they have been levying—but not collecting—for 1928, 1929, and 1930. The 1930 taxes are now in collection and the 1931 spread has not been made.

Five Billion Is Fox Estimate.

Mr. Fox asserted yesterday that a reasonable expectancy of the amount of personal property to be placed upon the tax rolls would not exceed five billion dollars.

"The county judge's figure of 16½ billion is misleading," explained Mr. Fox, "because it is not confined to taxable property. Of the 16½ billion total six billion is represented by trust estates, estates in probate, and collateral loans.

"How much is represented by tax exempt securities, how much by real estate on which taxes are paid, and how much by stock in Illinois corporations which is not taxable as personal property? Those answers must be obtained before the personal property can be placed upon the tax rolls with any hope of collecting the taxes assessed.

What About Bank Deposits?

"Another two billion of the Jarecki total is represented by bank deposits, commercial and savings. What percentage of those deposits are without taxable situs in Cook county? Every one knows that the banks of the middle west carry deposits here to cover exchange and clearings of their checks. Some of the money in the banks belongs to corporations and is included in capital stock returns made by the corporations.

"Another 4½ billion of the judge's total is represented as manufactured products. According to the federal reports this figure represents the value of all the articles manufactured in Chicago in an entire year. It is a certainty that no large part of those manufactured articles will be here in Chicago on April 1, when, the law says, the assessment must be made. Probably not more than a twelfth of the amount would be on hand April 1.

The Problem of Grain.

"Other items include mortgages, small grains, and privately owned railroad equipment. Now who owns the grain in the elevators on April 1. Perhaps some trader in St. Louis, another in Minneapolis, a third in New York, and a fourth in Liverpool are owners of some particular lot of grain. Or maybe the same lot is owned at different hours of the day by a trader in each of the four cities.

"Our survey of three months boiled down leaves us with probably five billion dollars' worth of personal property which can be placed upon the tax rolls with a hope of collecting the taxes assessed. About 92 per cent of this, we estimate, is within the city limits.

"This property will be found in the approximately 989,677 households in homes and hotels. We have about 49,838 retail establishments, 6,870 wholesale places, 10,871 assorted manufacturers, about 1,000 general contractors, 50,000 offices of various kinds, 3,000 barber shops, 3,500 beauty parlors, 7,006 physicians' offices, 3,784 dentists' offices, 374 theaters, 156 bowling alleys, 954 billiard halls, and 565,905 trucks and automobiles.

Points to Inequalities.

"From those sources will have to come a large part of the personal property taxes, but the proper administration of the capital stock tax would add much to the total. Capital stock and franchise taxes are assessed by the local assessing bodies on some corporations and by the state tax commission on others. A superficial glance at a few of these assessments discloses some glaring inequalities.

"It is ridiculous to think that 16½ billion of personal property, or half of that amount, can be placed upon the tax rolls for 1932. But the continual repetition of this idea is bound to lead many to believe it, who will later distrust the taxing officials because these wild predictions have not come true.

"If the personal property assessment is not fair—and it must first be made for 1931—then personal property will move away for 1932. There is no point in placing personal property on the tax rolls if there is no hope of getting any taxes from the property assessed."

ALDERMEN TURN DOWN DEMAND OF TEACHERS FOR SPECIAL MEETING

Members of the council finance committee yesterday refused the demand, conveyed to them in several hundred telegrams from school teachers, that they call a special meeting Saturday when teachers could appear and demand use of city funds to give them further pay days.

All the cash paid to the teachers since last April has been provided by the city. The finance committee yesterday joined Mayor Cermak in the pledge that teachers will receive equal consideration with other city employés.

Ald. James B. Bowler [25th] pointed out that a meeting would do teachers no good, so far as pay days are concerned, until the city gets some cash. The committee stated it will be glad to receive representatives of teachers' groups at any of its regular meetings.

"The teachers shouldn't try to browbeat the aldermen," said Ald. Bowler, referring to the telegrams.

"I don't believe they are trying to do that," said Ald. Oscar F. Nelson [46th], "but they shouldn't march on the city hall. It would waste their time."

LAKE COUNTY'S BOARD TO VOTE ON 10% WAGE CUT

Lake county's board of supervisors will vote today on a proposed salary cut of 10 per cent for all employés, which has been recommended by the board's finance committee, headed by Arthur W. Vercoe. Mr. Vercoe estimated that about $11,500 would be saved by the slash. Fifty-five employés, whose average pay is now $175 a month, would be affected.

According to the finance committee chairman, Lake county is having difficulty obtaining a $900,000 bond for County Treasurer Jay B. Morse. Until it is secured, the county clerk will be unable to certify the tax lists to the treasurer. The difficulty arose, it was said, because the county had $350,000 on deposit in the Waukegan State bank when it closed last June. A new bank, the Citizens' Trust and Savings, is being formed to take over the assets of the Waukegan State and the Waukegan National banks, and it has been planned that on its opening the public funds will be paid.

Mr. Vercoe was hopeful that this opening would occur before April 1, when the tax bills usually are turned over to the treasurer. With the status of the $350,000 satisfactorily settled, he said, the bond could be arranged.

JACOBS IS SWORN IN AS ASSESSOR; STARTS TO WORK

Experts Scan 1931 Books of Retiring Board.

J. L. Jacobs was sworn into office as the new assessor of Cook county yesterday. He announced that work would begin immediately along "nonpolitical" lines toward making a proper 1931 assessment of real estate and personal property. This means, he said, a review of all the work done thus far by the outgoing board.

NEIL HARRINGTON.

Gloom hung like a heavy pall over the hundreds of employés in the assessors' office on the third floor of the county building as the quiet speaking efficiency expert assumed office. The ever repeated query was "Who will get the gate?"

Old Assessors Turn Over Books.

Solemnly, John E. Conroy, John E. Traeger Jr., and Walter W. L. Meyer, members of the board of assessors who lost their jobs when the Kelly bill became law recently, delivered the books and records of the office to Jacobs. They issued a statement declaring that the affairs of the board were in excellent condition. Gene G. Oliver, the other member, who is at liberty on bond under his eighteen months' prison sentence for income tax fraud, was not present. Adam Wolf, the fifth member of the old board, died in office.

There was an attempt at jocularity by the outgoing members. They referred to Jacobs as "boss" and made him sit at the head of the table. Inasmuch as Jacobs, in his position as efficiency adviser to the county board, has long been a thorn in the side of the assessors, the gaiety appeared somewhat forced. The ominous adjective "nonpolitical" in Jacobs' statement made the listening payrollers shudder.

Silent on Reorganization.

The new assessor would not commit himself to a statement concerning reorganization of the office. He said the present employés would remain at least until tomorrow morning. At that time the appropriations for their salaries cease and Jacobs will be complete dictator of the office with a lump sum appropriation of approximately $700,000 at his disposal for the job of assessing during the remainder of the year.

Jacobs would not comment on a report that Harry S. Cutmore, director of appraisals during the 1928 reassessment, would replace Charles E. Fox, present director. This report was given credence, however, when the new assessor called in five experts to aid in an immediate examination of all books, papers, maps and records. These men were all associated with Cutmore in the 1928 assessment and walked out on the board of assessors when Cutmore was dismissed.

Jacobs also announced that his chief assistant, T. E. Madsen, and two other experts from his own company would aid him in reorganizing the office.

Special Attorney Goes.

Jacobs also declared there was no need for a special attorney for the board and said he would be guided by County Attorney Hayden N. Bell in any legal problems which might arise. Attorney Neil Harrington, counsel for the board, was thus the first employé to fall under the Jacobs ax. Attorney Harrington is legal adviser to the Cook county Democratic organization.

The statement of the outgoing assessors was lengthy. It said that the 1931 valuation of real estate was practically complete. A reduction of approximately 20 per cent has been made in comparison with the 1928 reassessment, it was stated. Tax bills for 1931 should be substantially lower as a result, it was said, with the proviso added: "If the taxing bodies do not raise the tax rate."

Jacobs' reply was comparatively brief. He said that an examination of all the real estate valuations would be made and all the work of assessing personal property would be done over again. He declared an effort would be made to place every piece of personal property in Cook county on the books.

JAPS PUSH ON; WARN CHINESE TO MOVE BACK

Fresh Troops and Guns Pour Into Interior.

BY JOHN POWELL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, March 9 [Wednesday].—With 50,000 Japanese troops defending one side of a line about 40 miles long and an unknown but increasing number of Chinese troops being concentrated on the other side, the possibility of a peaceful adjustment of the Shanghai situation appears remote, despite the efforts of local neutral peacemakers and of the league of nations.

A Chinese announcement this morning said 400 Japanese cavalrymen had attacked the Chinese outposts at the village of Lotuchiao, east of Taitsang, and that fighting was continuing.

THE TRIBUNE correspondent yesterday, despite the refusal of the Japanese consulate to issue a military pass, penetrated the area behind the Japanese lines and observed no evidence of a Japanese intention to withdraw. On the contrary, I observed definite evidence of a Japanese intention to hold and even to extend their present position.

Officers Plan to Push On.

A number of Japanese officers declared it was their intention to push on toward Nanking at least as far as Changchow, about 120 miles northwest of Shanghai. The chief Japanese objective, aside from the military phase, they said, is to control the large industrial city of Wusih, which is second in importance only to Shanghai in the cotton and silk industry.

The evidence of the Japanese intention to maintain the present position or make a further advance consisted of long columns of Japanese infantry, long lines of trucks bearing munitions and food supplies, and numerous units of heavy guns and howitzers, which were steadily moving toward the front along two roads. One road ran to Nanziang and the other to Kiatinghsien, which is off the railway and constitutes the approximate center of the Japanese line.

Chinese Forced to Work.

I also observed long lines of Chinese coolies carrying heavy boxes of munitions or camp equipment. The Japanese claimed the coolies were working voluntarily for a dollar a day, but the presence of many Japanese in civilian clothes and carrying revolvers or heavy clubs, walking along with the coolie caravan, indicated that the coolies' services were not altogether voluntary.

The city of Chenju, previously Gen. Tsai Ting-kai's Chinese headquarters, now serves as the rear base of the Japanese army. Great piles of munitions, food supplies, and equipment, sufficient for a major military campaign of many weeks' duration, were piled up at Chenju.

Japs Give New Warning.

Gen. Yoshinori Shirakawa, Japanese commander, issued another warning to the Chinese authorities last night. He declared his intention to reopen hostilities in event the Chinese attempted to enter their 40 mile line. This line extends south from the Yangtze river west of Liuho to Anting and from there east along the north bank of Soochow creek to the foreign settlements of Shanghai. The Japanese line passes through the following towns: Lobankao, Fujaochen, Yowangtze, Hwaikangchen, Anting, and Peihukongchen.

Shirakawa's warning said:

"On March 3 I issued a declaration of voluntary discontinuance of further military operations. Nevertheless, the Chinese forces subsequently constructed fresh positions in the vicinity of Kunshan and Melli and have been spying out our positions at close range. Such an attitude constitutes a disregard of the good faith of the Japanese army and is a source of profound regret. If Chinese detachments cross the line into our sector the Japanese army cannot guarantee against any further clashes with our men dcing patrol duty. Should trouble arise the Chinese must assume responsibility."

Chinese Move to Take Over Area.

In an effort to head off moves either by the international settlement or by the Japanese to extend administrative authority over the area now occupied by the Japanese troops, Mayor Wu Teh-chen today sent a letter to Kuramatsu Murai, Japanese consul general, declaring that the Chinese municipality of Greater Shanghai is qualified and ready to assume jurisdiction. He said orders would be given to the Chinese departments to this effect, and, to prevent a misunderstanding, asked that the Japanese military authorities be advise.

Mayor Wu's letter was sent shortly after the publication of a statement by Stirling Fessenden, director general of the international settlement, in which he said the settlement was prepared to assume responsibility for restoring sanitary services in the Chapei district, which borders the international settlement. Fessenden said sanitary conditions in Chapei had become a serious menace.

He said that while the settlement has no desire to extend its activities into Chinese territory, the obvious inability of Chinese authorities to assume jurisdiction might compel the settlement to disregard and overrule possible political objections in order to assure the welfare of the community as a whole.

Japs Claim to Have Service.

Shortly after these statements had been issued the Japanese naval authorities now holding Chapei announced that the Japanese naval landing party already had inaugurated its own sanitary service, but suggested that the Japanese navy may invite the international settlement's health department to coöperate.

The Kuomintang central executive committee at Loyang [Honanfu], the temporary Chinese capital, today appointed a supreme military commission, with Gen. Chiang Kai-shek commander-in-chief of the national armies, naval and air forces. Other members of the commission are Yu Hsi-shan, Feng Yu-hsiang, Li Tsung-jen, Chang Hsueh-liang, Li Chai-sum, and Chen Chi-tang, all generals previously heading factional military groups.

Rumors Cause Chinese Panic.

SHANGHAI, March 9 [Wednesday].—(AP)—Rumors that the Japanese planned to occupy Nantao and other large areas on the southern side of Shanghai stirred the Chinese populace into panic today.

Nanking dispatches said the people there also were nervous and a great exodus of the inhabitants was under way, owing to rumors that Japanese soldiers were marching on Nanking.

Neutral mediators, inactive for several days, again took up the task of negotiating an agreement to end the hostilities, but the situation was still disturbing.

Service was resumed over the Shanghai-Hangchow railway, which was cut 35 miles southwest of Shanghai yesterday, the track having been repaired. The Chinese staff, which had abruptly departed, returned to the station here, but was ready to depart again at a moment's notice.

The Chinese Lunghwa arsenal was being dismantled. The machinery was sent to Hangchow.

Gendarmes guarded the roads throughout the area south of the city, while traffic on many highways was interrupted as a result of bridges having been torn up as a precaution against the feared Japanese advance.

NEW RULER OF MANCHURIA

20,000 CHINESE RISE IN MUKDEN; BURN BUILDINGS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, March 9 [Wednesday].—With the inauguration of Henry Pu-yi, former boy emperor of China, as head of new Manchuria scheduled to take place at Changchun today supporters of Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang, ousted governor of Manchuria, set fire to nine different places in Mukden at about the same time late last night. An army clothing depot was burned and there were two explosions.

Reports received here today said Marshal Chang's followers have been preparing for the attack during the last few days. It is understood that 20,000 Chinese are involved in the disorders, including a large number of bandits.

Japanese troops, who are headquartered in Mukden, are guarding against a massed uprising. The conflagrations caused minor panics. The fires have been extinguished.

Gets Back Lost "Throne."

CHANGCHUN, Manchuria, March 8.—(AP)—The scenario was complete to the most minute detail tonight and the stage was set for tomorrow's drama—the inauguration of Henry Pu-yi, former boy emperor of China, as the chief magistrate of the land of his forefathers, the new Manchurian-Mongolian state.

Pu-yi and his wife already have been installed in the new presidential palace. They made a spectacular entry into their new capital today, passing through streets largely guarded by the alien soldiers of Japan. Five hundred flags of the new state flew from the locomotive of the special train as it pulled into the station.

Will be Given Seals.

The climactic features of the inauguration ceremony tomorrow afternoon will be the presentation to Pu-yi of two great golden seals—the seal of state and the regent's seal. These will be handed to the ruler by Chang Ching-hui and another member of the little group of "representatives of Manchuria's thirty millions" who, with the aid of Japanese advisers, arranged the whole show.

This scene will be presented in the "thronerоom" of the presidential palace in the presence of the lords and ladies of new Manchuria. Gen. Shigeru Honjo, the Japanese commander who made the new state possible by defeating the Chinese in every engagement in the province, probably will be present.

Will Become "Chin Cheng."

Twenty years ago Pu-yi, then Hsuantung, the boy emperor of China, stepped down from the ancient dragon throne and subsequently became a virtual prisoner of the Japanese. Now he has returned to rule the land from which, three centuries ago, his forefathers descended on China to establish the Manchu dynasty, of which he was the last ruling member.

Although republican forms have been largely followed in the establishment of the New Manchuria, the exact nature of Pu-yi's office remains ambiguous. He will become the "chin cheng" of the young government—a term translated variously as regent, dictator, and chief executive.

Japs Repulse Attack.

HARBIN, Manchuria, March 8.—(AP)—Japanese troops garrisoned at Hailin repulsed an attack by 300 Chinese insurgents last night. After a half hour battle the Chinese fell back leaving fifty dead.

TWO U. S. WOMEN ON "MERCY JOB" FLEE WAR ZONE

SHANGHAI, March 8.—(AP)—Two American women who have been living in the midst of battle for several days in order that they might care for wounded soldiers succumbed to the pleading of friends today and returned to Shanghai.

The Americans—Dr. Grace I. Crandall and Dr. Rosa W. Palmborg, both of Milton, Wis.—have been on duty at Grace hospital at Liuho, on the Yangtze river, northwest of Shanghai. Their nerves were frayed from the constant exposure to danger.

"We were thoroughly frightened," said Dr. Palmborg. "The planes came very low overhead and the rat-tat-tat of the machine guns was nerve wracking in the extreme."

Shells exploded less than 100 yards from the hospital. The women and a remnant of their staff evacuated the place, going to the home of Chinese friends in the country.

STORM TOLL IS 33; GALE CONTINUES BUT SNOW STOPS

Liner Waits Day to Save Collier's Crew.

New York, March 8.—[Special.]—The storms which have lashed the eastern coast and buried a great part of the nation under a heavy blanket of snow abated but little today. The gale still was perilling ships at sea though the snow accompanying it either ceased to fall entirely or dwindled to mere flurries. The storm left its impress all through the east and took a toll of at least thirty-three lives.

Many communities in New England, upstate New York and in central Pennsylvania and western Maryland were entirely isolated today, the third day of the storm. Highways were buried under impassable snowdrifts. Telephone and telegraph lines were down. Railroad and bus traffic was halted and hundreds of automobiles were abandoned along the roads.

Collier Helpless at Sea.

Widespread havoc was worked by the storm on the great lakes and along the coast, but several vessels, previously reported in distress, managed to get into port yesterday.

Three hundred and seventy miles east of New York the collier H. F. De Bardeleben drifted without a rudder, with the White Star liner Adriatic standing by, unable to take off the crew of thirty-four because of the high seas. The liner has been waiting to assist the crew since last night.

It was impossible to abandon the ship because it was feared that the vessel would roll over if the engines were stopped.

Homes Washed Away.

Manteo, N. C., March 8.—(AP)—All houses in the southern end of Rodanthe save three have been washed away, a messenger said on reaching here tonight after struggling through the debris of one of the greatest storms in the history of the Carolina capes. It was also reported that the six foot wall of water which swept over the capes Sunday night had cut three new channels completely through Cape Hatteras from Pimlico sound to the open sea.

Blizzard Envelops West.

Denver, Colo., March 8.—(AP)—The coldest weather of the winter enveloped the Rocky mountain region tonight.

A snowstorm raged from the Canadian border to the Texas panhandle and the mercury slid below zero in many places. High winds and drifting snow caused apprehension for the safety of live stock.

POLICE BATTLE GUNMEN WITH 'RIDE' VICTIM

Chief of Police James Doherty and Policeman William Ridge of River Grove last night fought a running pistol battle with four men who were tossing the body of a man from an automobile in River road near Belmont avenue as the police car approached.

The occupants of the automobile dragged the body back into the rear seat and escaped to the north. During the shooting a bullet struck the radiator of the chief's car. He continued to pursue, however, until the other car demonstrated superior speed.

A Running Battle.

According to Doherty, he was about half a block away from the car when he first saw it and he was fired on as he drove up to investigate. The driver of the gang car started with the doors open and one of the men stood on a running board to shoot. Ridge adopted the same strategy, standing on the chief's running board while the latter drove.

Police of all northwestern suburbs and county highway patrolmen were asked to search the roads for the body.

The spot where Chief Doherty saw the car was near the place where Policeman Ridge found the license plates of Mike de Pike Heitler's car soon after Heitler was murdered.

Follows Kidnaping Mystery.

About two hours before the affray a kidnaping was reported to the Austin police. Timothy J. Ryan, a candidate for Democratic committeeman in the 30th ward, was in his home at 4741 Ohio street when three men who represented themselves as policemen entered and forced him to accompany them to a large car at the curb.

Mrs. Ryan reported the occurrence to the police, who found that no charges had been placed against him. The shooting in River Grove came an hour or so later and the authorities began investigating a theory that Ryan was the victim in the car. However, he appeared at home a little after midnight. While he was missing from the home his candidacy was withdrawn.

Ryan told the police he was not harmed, but that he had been taken somewhere in Cicero and held prisoner until he agreed to sign his withdrawal. He declined to elaborate on the statement.

Until last November Ryan was a saloonkeper. Then he was employed in the city street repair department, driving a truck. He was a political friend of Ald. John S. Clark, also a candidate for ward committeeman. A third candidate is Robert J. Brennan.

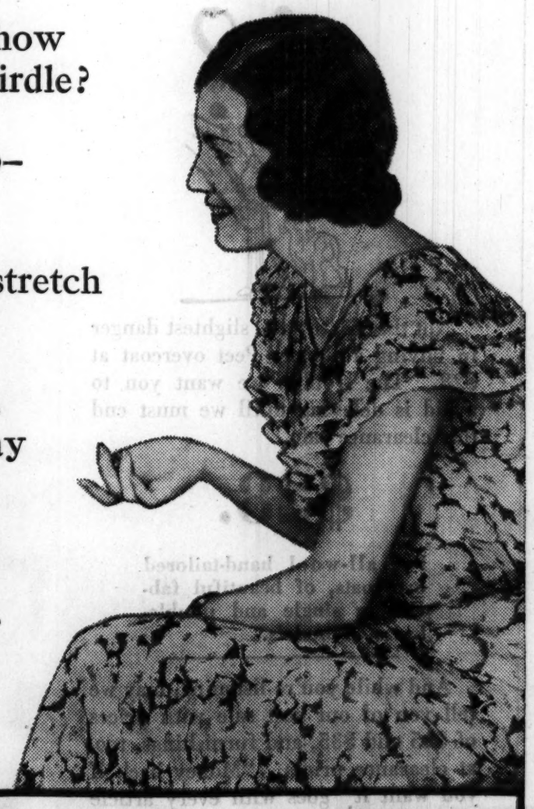
ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

JEAN: Tell me, Dot, how often do you wash a girdle?

DOT: Every day or so—that keeps it dainty

JEAN: But doesn't it stretch and get flabby?

DOT: Not a bit. I wash it the way that preserves ELASTICITY*. Then it always fits perfectly . . .



*The Lux Way to preserve ELASTICITY

How flattering a new foundation garment is! Even if it's the merest wisp of a girdle its elasticity makes it fit smoothly and yet so lightly!

But when this precious elasticity is gone, the most expensive garment is flabby, ill-fitting—actually disfiguring! It's because gentle Lux preserves elasticity that it keeps your foundations as perfect in fit as when they were new.

Wash this 2-minute way: Use lukewarm water—Lux dissolves instantly in it. Squeeze suds through fabric, rinse twice.

Lux every day or so, for foundations absorb perspiration. Perspiration acids discolor and rot fabrics.

Avoid ordinary soaps—cakes, powders, chips. These often contain harmful alkali which weakens threads, fades color. Lux has no harmful alkali. Anything safe in water alone is safe in Lux.

LEAGUE APPOINTS A COMMISSION ON CHINESE-JAP WAR

Showdown Due Between Big and Little Powers.

BY JAY ALLEN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GENEVA, March 8. — Everybody having had a chance to agree, with more or less emotion and sincerity, that the league of nations is in a fix, it is now to a committee, charged with drafting the assembly's resolution on the Chinese-Japanese war, that the small powers will tomorrow carry their fight to save honor, anyway, and the big powers' massive damper will be used at shorter range.

With what effect the big brothers are going to be able to use the damper was problematical tonight. Anybody with a draft resolution is automatically a member of the commission which was appointed, even perhaps W. W. Yen, the Chinese delegate. It is going to be difficult for the big powers to argue publicly the impracticability of the covenant.

British Dominions Run Amuck.

And besides, today the little powers worked themselves to quite a pitch. Two of his British majesty's dominions actually ran quite amuck under the very eyes of Sir John Simon, foreign secretary of the empire conscious government.

Moreover, the heartless Yen arose and again jolted the assembly on its responsibilities to itself and to China. He spoke crisply, even cuttingly, with the double aim of bucking up the little powers and demolishing the arguments on which Sir John's and Joseph Paul-Boncour's "do nothing" policy is based.

More meditation, which they say is essential, could be tried, Yen admitted. But if it is tried it ought to be with the understanding that the moment it shows signs of breaking down, the rest of the covenant ought to be applied.

Says League Is in Error.

And as to any question that a demand by the assembly that Japan, as promised, withdraw from Manchuria would prejudice the pending report of Lord Lytton's commission, that is Geneva's error, Yen said. It doesn't need the Lytton commission to show that Japan violated the covenant in occupying Manchuria and refused to submit the dispute to arbitaration, averred the uncompromising Chinese. Japan herself admitted, he said, pleading provocation as an excuse.

"Now the league ought to say to Japan," he said, "that the matter of provocation will be looked into, but that she has gone about settlement of the dispute in the wrong way, breaking her contract with the league, and that she ought to bring back her troops where they belong and let the league help her to settle the dispute according to the rules."

Japs Want to Apply "Facts."

Naotake Sato, representing Japan, then appealed to the assembly to apply the covenant, but with regard to the "facts as they are." He insisted that his country had not embarked on military expeditions to settle a dispute, but to protect herself.

Sir John Simon had the horrible affliction of two British dominions, Ireland, if it can be called that, and South Africa, knocking blithery holes in his policy. A breezy South African named Charles te Water declared that Japan had clearly violated its obligations. Looking Sir John in the eye, he said:

"In this great crisis we are looking to the wise leadership of the great powers, and above all, strong leadership which can be interpreted in terms of actions, not terms of words. Are the great powers satisfied that they have pointed the way?"

Sean Lester, a soft spoken Irishman, figured that Japan would do well not only to cease hostilities, but to get back where she belongs.

India and Canada didn't join the empire revolt, Aga Khan speaking like another Sir John and the Canadian delegate prescribing Stimsonian nonrecognition instead of Japanese withdrawal from Manchuria.

In case somebody in the assembly had overlooked the faithful American disarmers looking on safely and daily from behind their ropes, Hugh S. Gibson, American ambassador to Belgium, said a few words today and for the moment resuscitated the disarmament conference. Paul-Boncour argued that it ought to meet oftener as a sop to public opinion. Gibson arose to state:

"It may not be very flattering to the disarmament commission, but I thing we cannot escape the fact that public opinion is more interested now in the far more urgent question that is occupying our attention here at Geneva. If we want to defer to public opinion we would do better to allow the present work to be set aside in order that we might come to grips with the really vital and urgent question which is before the assembly."

His "we" was much remarked on.

Retired Justice 91 Years Old

Oliver Wendell Holmes of Massachusetts, who found the Supreme court work too much for his strength, in study of his Washington home on birthday. [Wide World Photo.]

FORMER JUSTICE HOLMES MARKS 91ST BIRTHDAY

Washington, D. C., March 8.—(AP)—On his 91st birthday, life to Oliver Wendell Holmes seems like a "Japanese picture which our imagination does not allow to end with the margin."

"We aim at the infinite," he told members of the Federal Bar association gathered to honor him, "and when our arrow falls to earth it is in flames."

Holmes—civil war veteran, author of "The Common Law," for almost 30 years a member of the Supreme court—was not at the banquet.

At a radio in the book piled study of his old fashioned house, he listened to the tributes and then his response was read by Solicitor General Thomas D. Thacher.

He had been invited to attend but he never goes out at night, and he is spartanlike in his insistence that his birthdays call for no fanfare.

JAPS FORBID WAR NEWS TO 3 MORE U.S. NEWSPAPERS

Reporter Is Thrown Out of Consular Building.

BY JOHN POWELL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, March 9.—[Wednesday.]—The matter of obtaining passes to visit the Japanese military headquarters here and the war front reached a new phase last night when Japanese consular police forcibly prevented Victor Keen, correspondent for the New York Herald Tribune, from entering the press room in the Japanese consular building to obtain copies of the official military communique issued by Gen. Yoshinori Shirakawa.

Shortly following the beginning of the Sino-Japanese crisis the Japanese consular authorities set aside a room for the use of the press. On one side of the room are about 40 pigeonholes, in which are placed the official communiques. Each compartment bears the name of an individual newspaper.

Tribune Writer Is Barred.

Two days ago when THE TRIBUNE correspondent entered the room he found a notice pasted on the front of his box reading: "No further official communiques will be issued to THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE."

Yesterday the military spokesman, K. S. Innui, notified the China Press, a local American registered paper but largely Chinese owned, and also the American owned and edited Shanghai Evening Post that no members of their staffs could obtain military passes to visit the Japanese headquarters.

The Japanese consulate announced yesterday that correspondents could obtain passes to the front under certain conditions. The correspondents were informed that they must have two photographs of themselves and also a photograph and a detailed biographical sketch of the Chinese chauffeur driving the car.

Japs Fear "Spies."

The Japanese spokesman said the Chinese might utilize knowledge of the military situation obtained by chauffeurs while driving the cars toward the front. Most correspondents gave up in disgust, since the services of a Chinese chauffeur are necessary, due to the difficulty of traveling the unmapped countryside and difficult roads.

The action of the Japanese police in ejecting Keen marked the culmination of an obvious attempt by the Japanese military authorities to handicap the activities of American newspaper men, whether representing papers in the United States or employed locally.

Meantime, the Japanese authorities are permitting a horde of Japanese reporters freely to visit the front, although their reports to Japan are subject to a close military censorship.

JAP ARMY ADMITS 2,769 CASUALTIES IN CHINESE CAMPAIGN

TOKIO, March 8.—(AP)—The Japanese army lost 565 dead and 2,204 wounded in the Manchurian and Shanghai campaigns between Sept. 18, 1931, and Feb. 29, 1932. The war office announced this today.

These figures do not include the casualties, totaling several hundred, suffered by the navy at Shanghai nor the army's losses during the last three days of heavy fighting in the Yangtze area.

The total casualties in Manchuria were 1,194. These included 25 officers and 352 men dead, and 50 officers and 767 men wounded. The Shanghai losses were 1,575, including 14 officers and 174 men dead, and 52 officers and 1,335 men wounded.

STUDENT KILLS FATHER, WIFE, 5 OTHERS AND SELF

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

STOCKHOLM, March 8.—A fivefold tragedy was discovered last night involving the deaths of Hjalmar von Sydow, prominent industrialist and former chairman of the Swedish Employers' association, his son, Frederik, a student, the son's wife, and Hjalmar's two maid servants.

Hjalmar and the two servants were found beaten to death in his Stockholm flat, where his son had visited him earlier in the day. The son returned to Upsala, 40 miles from Stockholm, and was having dinner with his wife and friends when police arrived. Frederik turned as if to kiss his wife. He shot her to death and then took his own life.

Today's developments follow a mysterious slaying last Friday of an old money lender, Zetterberg, his wife, and sister. Frederik was indebted to the money lender, who, it is believed, went to Frederik's father. Frederik is believed to have visited the money lender later. It is suspected that a dispute arose between the son and father in connection with the murdered money lender and that Frederick murdered his father.

BEER TAX URGED TO RAISE A THIRD OF NEEDED LEVY

Minority Report Made on Revenue Bill.

of the ways and means committee that expenditures must be reduced by 125 million dollars in order to balance the budget, it is necessary that further cuts be made.

Pension Economies Proposed.

"The director of veterans' affairs has proposed to the special house committee on economy some changes in the laws relating to pensions and other allowances which would produce economies of between fifty and sixty million dollars per annum. The postmaster general is placing before the committee changes in the legal requirements of postoffice expenditures. The secretary of agriculture has suggested changes in the law requiring expenditures in the department of agriculture and the other departments are engaged in preparation of similar drastic recommendations."

The administration economy proposals are shrouded in mystery. The veterans' administration declined to elucidate, referring inquiries to the house economy committee. The office of the secretary of agriculture admitted complete ignorance of any such proposals. The postmaster general's office had a vague notion that some proposals are being prepared.

Little Coöperation to Date.

Representative Joseph W. Byrns [Dem., Tenn.], chairman of the economy committee, said the only administration official who had volunteered assistance is Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, director of the veterans' administration, who has proposed "reductions in payments the bureau is now making to certain classes of disabled veterans."

"Surely the President," said Mr. Byrns, "has had this information for some time and the question naturally arises why he did not take the responsibility in his message last December of recommending this legislation which he would now have the country understand he approves without stating just what it is."

Keep Grasshoppers In.

The senate celebrated the economy program in back hand fashion by passing the appropriation bill for the department of agriculture today with $2,015,954 in appropriations more than the bill passed the house. The total of the measure as it left the senate and went to a conference committee of the two houses was $177,424,768.

It was, thanks to Senator Kenneth McKellar [Dem., Tenn.], that the measure was not greater by $864,799. Having tried unsuccessfully for two days to get the senate's approval for amendments which would have knocked eleven and a half millions out of the bill, Senator McKellar was driven finally to content himself with cutting a few thousands here and there.

Had the efforts of Senators King [Dem., Utah] and Tydings [Dem., Md.] to cut the $1,450,000 item put in for grasshopper control succeeded, the bill would have been still smaller. They were defeated, however, 20 to 45, on a motion to reconsider. And a motion by Senator King to recommit the bill with instructions to cut it by $10,000,000 was defeated without the formality of a record vote.

Following passage of the agriculture bill the senate took up the supply bill for the department of the interior to which senate committee amendments have already added $4,424,322, giving the bill a total of $54,870,754.

CHICAGO BAR IS FOR WILKERSON, SENATORS TOLD

Urges His Elevation to Appeals Court.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 8.—[Special.]—The Chicago bar's approval of Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson's elevation to the Circuit Court of Appeals was announced in no uncertain terms today before the senate subcommittee where President Hoover's order for Judge Wilkerson's promotion is now pending.

AMOS C. MILLER.

A formal statement in support of the senate's confirmation of the nomination was placed before the subcommittee by a committee of the Chicago Bar association composed of the following distinguished Chicago attorneys:

Praise His Record.

To this statement of approval Mr. Miller, as president of the Illinois Bar association, and Mr. Haight, as former president of the Chicago Patent Lawyers' association, added expressions of approval from these organizations.

The Chicago Bar association's brief commending Judge Wilkerson answered in detail the objections made by Attorney Donald Richberg on behalf of organized labor on the ground of the judge's record of injunctions in labor cases.

"It would be a matter of extreme regret if Judge Wilkerson's great services were insufficiently valued, by reason of diverting attention from his whole record to the very few of his decisions which specially concern labor," the brief stated. "The whole of Judge Wilkerson's days spent on 'labor cases' would not total more than a few weeks, in the ten years of his judicial service. We have confidence in his decisions involving the great rights of labor. But this is not his whole record, or more than a small fraction of it. His daily work on the bench and in chambers stands out as a shining example of the best there is in judicial service."

Cites Len Small Case.

Mr. Miller declared that if Judge Wilkerson had any prejudice it was against persons who break the law.

"And he does not care who they are," the Chicago lawyer said. "He has always shown a ready response to the invasion of public rights, no matter by whom. The bar of Chicago—at least 99 per cent of it, I think—looks upon him as one of the best public men we have ever had. In no labor injunction case has a higher court ever criticized or reversed one of his rulings."

Mr. Miller cited Judge Wilkerson's part as a special assistant attorney general in the prosecution of former Gov. Small as an example of "first class citizenship." He read a letter from President Roosevelt referring to the activities of Judge Wilkerson, then an assistant district attorney, and commenting, "what a first class man he is."

Injunction Evidence Recalled.

In the railway shop crafts injunction in 1922, said Mr. Miller, Judge Wilkerson had acted upon the following evidence of violence upon the part of the strikers: Nineteen deaths from assault, 1,500 assaults, 65 kidnapings with assault, eight cases of tarring and feathering, 50 cases of actual or attempted burning and dynamiting of bridges, 250 cases of actual or attempted burning and dynamiting of property, 50 cases of actual or attempted derailment of trains, and other instances of sabotage too numerous to count.

Terming Judge Wilkerson a "great lawyer and great judge," to whom the Capone case was "just another lawsuit," Attorney Haight said that Judge Wilkerson was regarded by the bar as one of the few high ranking patent judges in the country.

Senator Otis F. Glenn [Rep., Ill.] introduced letters of praise for Judge Wilkerson from many prominent Democrats, including Mayor Cermak, Melvin A. Traylor, president of the First National bank of Chicago; Michael L. Igoe, Democratic national committeeman; Thomas F. Donovan, chairman of the Democratic state central committee; former Justices Floyd E. Thompson and George A. Cook and former Corporation Counsel Francis X. Busch.

ANTI-INJUNCTION BILL IS PASSED BY HOUSE, 363 TO 13

Curbs U.S. Judges' Power in Labor Disputes.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 8.—[Special.]—The La Guardia anti-injunction bill, characterized by its proponents as "another declaration of independence" and by its opponents as a socialistic "march toward Moscow," today passed the house by a vote of 363 to 13.

F. H. LA GUARDIA. [Acme Photo.]

The opposition to the bill, which was meager, was led by two old time enemies, Representative Beck, the militant Republican wet from Pennsylvania, and Representative Blanton, the belligerent Democratic dry from Texas.

Beaten in his major fight to prevent the passage of the bill "even if it should cost me my political life," Representative Beck battled for an amendment which would except injunctions in labor disputes involving public utilities, on the theory that any interference with the federal courts' functions in such cases would be a menace to the community.

Amendment Loses, 155 to 63.

Representative F. H. La Guardia [Rep., N. Y.], sponsor of the bill, argued that any such problems would be taken care of by penal prosecution and would not fall in the province of a court of equity. The Beck amendment was lost by a vote of 63 to 155.

The house bill differs from the Norris bill recently passed in the senate in two main respects.

First, it narrows the senate interpretation of threats by limiting the power of federal courts to issue injunctions, on the basis of threats, only against those persons or organizations directly responsible for such threats. Advocates of anti-injunction legislation have claimed that threats were often made the basis of sweeping restraining orders.

Applies to Indirect Contempt.

Second, the contempt section amended in the senate bill to give any person cited for indirect contempt right of trial by jury, is strictly limited in the house bill to persons cited for indirect contempt only when the contempt is criminal and when the cause arises out of a labor dispute. This provision removes from jury trial relief persons involved in newspaper contempt cases, as in the recent famous Minnesota gag law case.

The house bill, however, retains the senate bill provision permitting the person held in contempt because of an attack on a judge's character or conduct, the right of a change of venue.

Representative O'Connor [Dem., N. Y.], speaking for the bill, declared that, in ending the "arbitrary power of federal judges to issue injunctions in labor disputes," it would stop a procedure that has "grown into a scandal."

FIRST HUSBAND OF LYA DE PUTTI ENDS OWN LIFE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUDAPEST, Hungary, March 8.—Unable to bear any longer the grief that has been hanging over him for 11 years, Judge Zoltan Szepessy, first husband of the late screen star, Lya de Putti, who died Nov. 27, 1931, committed suicide in a hotel here today.

Since 1920, when his pretty young wife, whom he married in Budapest in 1915 when she was 17, divorced him to devote her life to the stage and screen, the judge has lived a lonely life on his Nagyencz estates in northern Hungary. When a new De Putti film appeared at Budapest he would close his country house and dash to the capital to spend the week in a darkened corner of the movie house watching the shadows of his former wife flicker across the screen.

But the De Putti films did not come to Budapest every week, and in the last few years there were none at all, and the old judge grew more morose daily. Servants near his room at the hotel heard two shots early this morning and broke into the room to find him dead.

STRAWN WARNS ALLIES U. S. WILL NOT CANCEL DEBTS

Reparations Is Your Problem, He Says.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 8.—Europeans were reminded once again today that German reparations are strictly their business in the eyes of the American taxpayer, who is still unwilling to assume a debt of eleven billions run up by other people during the war. The speaker was Silas H. Strawn of Chicago, who spoke at the American Chamber of Commerce luncheon.

"In my opinion it would be quite impossible to get the people of the United States to cancel intergovernmental debts and assume the payment of obligations that other nations incurred in the war, in which our part was to help the allies," Mr. Strawn said. "Assumption of these debts would add greatly to our burden of taxation, which is now in many cases unbearable.

"It is the fixed opinion of our people that the problem of German reparations is primarily a European problem, to be solved on its merits by the European governments most concerned. Personally I have no doubt that the deadlock of the reparations problem is responsible to a great extent for the business depression throughout the world.

"An early solution of the problem is of prime importance to the restoration of confidence and the recovery of normal business conditions. I confidently believe that if the governments of Europe are able to agree among themselves on the settlement of reparations, then the people of the United States would be ready seriously to consider the conditions existing in the readjustment of intergovernmental debts."

WIEBOLDT ASKS CITY TO CARRY OUT STREET PACT

Werner A. Wieboldt of the Wieboldt Stores stated yesterday that his company is ready to remodel its building in North Ashland avenue so as to turn over to the city the seventeen feet condemned by the city in the widening of that thoroughfare.

This will be done, Mr. Wieboldt said, as soon as the city is ready to carry out the terms of the award as agreed on. The city has paid only $58,774 of the $429,802 award to the company, which payment was applied on the assessment against the store for the widening. The present administration has not confirmed an agreement made with the company by a previous administration whereby the company would be permitted to continue to occupy substreet space.

"The Wieboldt company in 1924," said Mr. Wieboldt, "shortly after proceedings were entered to condemn part of their building for street purposes and after they had been advised by the board of local improvements that the widening project would go forward immediately, erected their annex on School street to replace space which would be lost by the street widening. They erected the same seventeen feet west of the then lot line, expending on it a sum greater than the total award to be received."

Tip of Co-ed's Nose Is Worth $15,000, Jury Finds

Oklahoma City, Okla., March 8.—(AP)—The tip of at least one college co-ed's nose is worth $15,000. That was the judgment affirmed by the Oklahoma Supreme court today against the Oklahoma Railway company in favor of Miss Evelyn Mount, a student at Oklahoma City university at the time she lost the tip of her nose in a bus accident.

3 PLEAD GUILTY AT CAPLIS TRIAL; FACE THE CHAIR

Youths Enter Pleas After Jury Is Picked.

CRIMINAL COURT.
Charles Varkalis, larceny, sentenced to from 1 to 10 years in Pontiac reformatory by Judge Walter Stanton.

Three youthful gunmen, who climaxed an orgy of robberies by murdering Policeman James J. Caplis in an attempted holdup of the Beachview Garden café, 804 Wilson avenue, on Dec. 21, suddenly plead guilty yesterday to the murder as the state was about to start the introduction of testimony before a jury in Judge James J. Kelly's court. The jury, which it had taken 10 days to select, was pledged to inflict the death penalty if the state had the proper evidence.

The defendants, who hope to escape the electric chair by their guilty pleas, are Frank "Red" Freeman, leader of the gang; Nick Bruno, and Burlon "Jack" Burlison. It was reported that no assurances were given the defendants as to what penalty the judge will mete out after he hears evidence in mitigation.

Sought Death Verdict.

Assistant State's Attorneys Walker Butler and Robert Donigan had carefully selected the jury because of the desire of the prosecution to get a death verdict. The jurors were brought into the courtroom and the taking of evidence was about to proceed.

Attorney Miles Devine, who has defended 102 murder cases in his long career, stepped forward and asked for a conference with the judge and attorneys. For two hours they conferred behind closed doors. It was obvious that the defense attorneys were not in accord. The conference broke up just before noon and the jury was brought back into the box.

Advises Guilty Plea.

"For the first time in my career I am advising a client to plead guilty to the charge of murder," said Attorney Devine as he stepped before the judge's bench. "The defendant Bruno, who is 20 years old and the youngest of these defendants, will enter a plea of guilty."

The other attorneys again conferred with their clients. It was apparent that they were reluctant to plead guilty, but finally Freeman and Burlison announced they too would admit their guilt. The jury was dismissed and it was announced that evidence would be started after the noon recess. Bruno's mother and sister wept as the plea of guilty was entered.

At the opening of the afternoon session the prosecutors called to the witness stand Mrs. Dorthy "Sally" Evans Conroy, 16 years old, an accomplice of the gunmen.

Planned by Freeman.

She testified that the robbery, which caused the death of the policeman, was carefully planned by Freeman. She said that she and Marcella Royce, who is to be a state's witness today, were taken along by the youthful hoodlums to act as "scenery."

The shooting was done, according to the witness, by Rocky DePhillips, who escaped. She testified that when the gang came out of the restaurant DePhillips said: "I killed him, but he was only a copper."

Mrs. Conroy said that when they returned to Freeman's apartment at 1349 West Van Buren street, after the attempted robbery, Freeman's wife greeted them with the remark, "Daddy Red, are you all right. We heard the calls for the police over the radio."

The testimony will be resumed this morning.

MAYOR TO SPEAK FOR HORNER AT WOMEN'S RALLY

Democrat Meeting Called for Tomorrow Night.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Although the regular Democratic organization will not start its public meetings in the primary campaign until next week, Mayor Cermak will take the platform tomorrow night for the Horner-Dieterich-Courtney ticket.

A woman's organization, the "Volunteer Workers for Henry Horner and Associates," has arranged a meeting at the Chicago Beach hotel and, since the headliners of the state ticket are campaigning downstate, Mayor Cermak was persuaded to address the gathering. In addition to speaking for Judge Horner for governor, the mayor will discuss the tax situation.

Among the women active in planning the meeting are Mrs. Elizabeth A. Conkey, Democratic national committeewoman; Mrs. George Bass, Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank, Mrs. C. K. Corsant, Mrs. Edward J. Kelly, and Mrs. Jacob Lindheimer.

Mum on Igoe and Campbell.

Upon his return from Hot Springs yesterday morning, Mayor Cermak declined to discuss the charges of Michael L. Igoe and Bruce A. Campbell, opponents of Judge Horner for the governorship nomination, that he has become a "dictator" and that he forced the indorsement of Judge Horner by the state central committee and the Cook county managing committee.

"I do not regret the prospect of a primary contest," the mayor said. "It probably will be a good thing for the organization. I certainly have done nothing to keep any candidate from running or to persuade any one to withdraw from the race."

All three of the Democratic aspirants for the governorship are downstate this week.

Malone Going Downstate.

Omer N. Custer, the state administration entry for the Republican nomination for governor, also is touring, and for a brief time William H. Malone, "the taxpayers' candidate," will join the downstate merry-go-round for three speeches. He left last night for Harrisburg, where he will speak tomorrow morning. Then he goes to East St. Louis for a speech Wednesday evening. He also is billed for a talk in Joliet before he returns to Chicago.

Arthur F. Albert, former alderman, moved into Malone headquarters yesterday as chairman of the organization committee. It was said he is endeavoring to line up Deneen ward leaders for Malone.

Assails "State House Crowd."

In a public statement Edward J. Brundage, another of the five Republican candidates for the governorship, opened an attack on the "state house crowd" and the "state treasurer's ring," which he said he would amplify during the campaign.

"I broke the slate of the state house crowd in 1916 when I won the nomination and election for attorney general," said the statement. "The exposure of the manipulation of public funds followed. It is time that the state house crowd be broken up again. Banker Emmerson wants his friend Banker Custer to succeed him. Banker Small, who has some misunderstanding with his friend, Banker Emmerson, wants to get back."

Hadley Makes a Pledge.

In speeches in the 42d and 49th wards last night, Charles W. Hadley, Republican candidate for attorney general, said that if he is elected he will consider it his duty to see that state funds are expended properly for the purposes for which they are intended.

"When I become attorney general," he said, "it will be my purpose to see that the state's money is conserved, that appropriations are used for their intended purposes. And I shall just as readily hold any state official to account for his expenditures as I shall be ready to defend him if he needs and deserves defense."

Swanson Points to Collections.

In a speech before the Woodlawn Business Men's association, State's Attorney Swanson said that under his administration $9,285,085 had been collected through his office and turned over to the county treasurer. In contrast, he said, two previous administrations, covering a period of eight years, turned in only $7,923,961. He said the taxes and forfeitures collected by his office amounted to $8,841,790 and the fines and costs to $443,304.

Dr. Joseph C. Ross, alderman of the 40th ward, Republican candidate for coroner, will be the guest at a luncheon of medical men at the Hotel Morrison this noon. Dr. R. R. Ferguson, president of the Illinois State Medical society, will preside.

The time for withdrawals from the county and municipal court contests expired last night. The evening hours failed to produce any withdrawals of major political importance.

ROBBED IN HOME BY BANDITS.

Two bandits, carrying revolvers, leaped on Steve Williams, owner of a restaurant at 3618 Irving Park boulevard, in the hall of his home at 3221 North Keating avenue early yesterday and robbed him of $109 in cash and jewelry valued at $175.

START HAULING FARM BOARD'S WHEAT TO NEEDY

Red Cross Directing Distribution.

BY PAUL POTTER.

The largest single movement of relief supplies in the history of the nation started yesterday a few hours after President Hoover had authorized the American Red Cross to obtain five million bushels of wheat from the federal farm board's bins in Kansas City and Omaha for the drought stricken areas of the northwest.

J. T. NICHOLSON.

In the emergency offices of the Red Cross here, it was said that the 40 million bushels of wheat donated to the poor by a recent act of congress was worth at present market values about $24,000,000, or $10,000,000 more than the amount expended during the great Mississippi valley flood disaster of 1927.

Fifteen carloads of grain sent from Omaha yesterday were said by William Baxter, the relief agency's manager, to be headed for seven cities in South Dakota. The entire five million bushels is intended for feeding humans and farm animals, while an additional five million bushels will be milled into flour and distributed to the unemployed on the call of the 3,500 Red Cross chapters in the United States.

Need Million Bushels Here.

Cook county needs nearly a million bushels, it was said yesterday by James T. Nicholson, manager of the local chapter. He said plans were being made with the state Joint Emergency Relief commission to distribute more than 200,000 barrels of flour in the county. All of it will be handled by organized charity groups.

At the commission headquarters it was said that much of the wheat might be fed as whole grain cereal to the needy. Cooked for a half hour after having been soaked five hours, wheat is now being used as food, according to F. D. Loomis, who is in charge of the distribution. He said the commission would welcome the free wheat supplies when made available.

At the farm board's grain stabilization headquarters, orders were going out to arrange the release of wheat supplies. The cost of these supplies, it was said, would have to be shouldered by the stabilization corporation, since congress made no appropriation for the purpose. Two railroads, the Chicago and North Western and Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific, have agreed to haul the wheat into the northwest free.

5,000,000 Bushels Sold.

The farm board's grain corporation has just sold five million bushels of wheat to American millers, following its policy of unloading its vast stocks at this rate each month, according to George Milnor, president. He said a meeting would be held with the Millers' National federation in Chicago tomorrow to arrange for converting the Red Cross wheat into flour. About 4⅓ bushels of wheat make a barrel of flour. A plan of paying the millers in wheat or its by-products for their costs, including bags and transportation, is to be considered.

Mr. Milnor denied reports issued yesterday from the grain trade that the farm board was using this means of "getting out of the grain business." He said that when millers purchased wheat held in storage with federal funds the board's grain corporation was buying December contracts for future delivery. There has been no change in farm board policies on grain trading, he declared.

Thirty thousand freight cars will be required to handle the 40 million bushels of Red Cross wheat, it was pointed out. This would make a single line of cars extending from Chicago to Omaha. All applications for the wheat must be handled by local chapters of the Red Cross.

SEIZE STILL IN SPECIALVILLE.

Prohibition agents discovered a 500 gallon still and 2,000 gallons of mash in a building on the east side of Lincoln street, south of 143d street, in Specialville, early yesterday.

2 PILOTS KILLED, 3 HURT AS PLANE CRASHES IN DARK

Hit Windmill Practicing Night Landings.

St. Louis, Mo., March 8.—[Special.]—Two pilots were killed and three others injured when a tri-Lycoming motored Stinson plane in which they were practicing night landings, struck a windmill at the edge of the Curtiss-Steinberg field three miles suoth of East St. Louis early today.

The dead are:

L. H. [Jack] Atkinson, 35, married, 5112 Harper avenue, Chicago.

John S. Kirk, 35, married, 6134 South Whipple street, Chicago.

Those injured are:

Ira Smalling, 33, Chicago, fractured leg.

Sidney Cleveland, 34, Goldfield, Ia., cuts and bruises and shock.

Theodore Graff, 29, Chicago, cuts and bruises and shock.

Graff Piloting Plane.

Graff, an army air school graduate, was piloting when the ship struck the windmill, which is about 350 feet east of the east boundary of the airport, while coming in for a landing at 1:50 a. m. Smalling, a former navy flyer, was with Graff at the dual controls. The men killed were in the passenger compartment of the plane. They were not wearing safety belts and were hurled forward. Cleveland, who was with them had his belt fastened.

The top of the windmill was sheared off by the wing of the plane, and the ship crashed to earth, nose first, about fifty feet beyond. The craft turned over on its back and was wrecked.

The aviators were employés of the Century Airlines, who had taken the places of pilots discharged a month ago because of wage difficulties. William F. Bliss, general manager of the airline, flew here from Chicago today, told reporters the night landing practice was preparatory to resumption of night flying schedules, discontinued when the former pilots were discharged.

Engaged in Practice Program.

The practice program called for each pilot operating between East St. Louis and Chicago to make five night landings at Chicago, Springfield, and East St. Louis. Twenty-two landings had been completed at the local airport during the night before the crash occurred.

David Visel, manager of Curtiss-Steinberg field, told reporters that the owner of the land on which the windmill is located had refused to allow a light to be placed on the structure. Visel said an effort was made to purchase the land, but the price asked was considered exorbitant.

The airport flood lights were burning at the time of the crash, but the pilot evidently underestimated the distance to the landing area and failed to see the windmill. He was circling for a landing and in a bank the lowered left wing blinded him to the danger.

BRITISH BIRTH RATE LOWEST EVER RECORDED

[Copyright: 1932: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, March 8.—The British birth rate for 1931 was the lowest ever recorded, and there is a suggestion that the population of England and Wales will soon become stationary at around 40,000,000.

The average for the year was 15.8 births per 1,000 of the population. In the last decade the annual rate has fallen from 20.4 per 1,000.

The death rate for this period has remained more or less constant at about 12 per 1,000, and the time when the population will become stationary is, therefore, apparently not far distant. This development may be accelerated because a falling birth rate is necessarily accompanied by a rise in the average age of the population, and so, after a time, by a rising death rate.

Flying Forecasts

Special flying route forecasts for the period from 9 p. m., March 8, to noon, March 9:

Chicago-Cincinnati — Varying cloudiness, probably occasional snow flurries, especially over north portion; mostly fresh to strong west to northwest winds.

Chicago-Omaha-Kansas City—Mostly overcast with snow flurries; strong west to northwest winds, gale force above 2,000 or 3,000 feet.

Route forecasts for 12 hours ending at noon:

Evansville-Atlanta—Snow, probably light near Atlanta, and mostly cloudy sky with snow flurries remainder of route; fresh northwest winds up to 1,000 feet and fresh to strong west or west northwest at 5,000 feet.

Cleveland-New York—Mostly cloudy sky; probably occasional snow flurries; fresh west southwest winds shifting to west near Cleveland and strong northwest near New York up to 1,000 feet and fresh to strong westerly near Cleveland and westerly gales near New York at 5,000 feet.

MINERS OPEN WAGE SESSION; FACE DEADLOCK

The joint conference of Illinois coal producers and miners, called to adopt a new wage scale, opened yesterday at the Majestic hotel. An early deadlock was seen as probable when it was announced the operators would ask a wage decrease to permit the production of Illinois coal in competition with other fields and that the union would demand a wage increase approximating 33 1-3 per cent.

The scale committees are composed of 22 operators, headed by W. J. Jenkins, Consolidated Coal company of St. Louis, and 24 miners, headed by John Moulin, Zeigler. Officers of the Illinois miners' union and the Illinois Coal Operators' association also were present.

At the morning session the miners presented a demand of 20 points, embracing a program adopted two weeks ago at Springfield. In the afternoon the operators, while not making specific demands, requested the union representatives to consider the mining situation in Illinois and to permit the adoption of a program that "would allow the industry in this state to continue to exist."

Major points of the miners' demands include an increase of the basic shift scale from $6.10 to $7; a six hour day and a five day week, instead of six days of eight hours each; the purchase of all equipment used by miners by the operators, and changes in rules referring to handling and grading of coal tonnage. The present wage scale expires March 31.

"The newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, to inform and mold public opinion, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide."

ORGANIZE THE DEMAND FOR RETRENCHMENT.

Another association of business men has announced its support of Senator Glenn's demand for retrenchment in public expenditure. It is to be hoped the organization of taxpayers will rapidly proceed throughout the country. The resistance of legislatures and officials, from those of the nation at Washington to those of local agencies like our school board, has thus far failed to weaken in spite of the financial crisis before them. It is a phenomenon which must astonish even the most cynical critic of politics and public administration, and it certainly should arouse every intelligent citizen to the necessity of overcoming it.

But citizens must realize that mere indignation will not overcome it. Only effective organization which can bring direct pressure to bear will break down political and bureaucratic resistance. It has the aid of plausible demagogues and of the millions who cherish the human delusion that they can get something for nothing, that the government possesses an inexhaustible fund to be tapped for the benefit of any one in need, that taxation may be piled up without end because it seems to be piled upon the shoulders of a few instead of loading down every man and woman, rich or poor.

That congress and other public agencies are relying upon these fallacies is only too clear, and their reliance is thrusting the nation rapidly toward ruin. Public credit is visibly disappearing. The federal treasury is already compelled to raise the interest rate on its borrowings, which hitherto have been snapped up as gilt edge investments at lower rates. If congress refuses to retrench drastically the federal credit will fall lower and, incredible as it would have been three years ago, will utterly disappear. The credit of Illinois is headed down, the slow sale of the gilt edge 6 per cent emergency relief loan warns us. As to the credit of the great city of Chicago and Cook county, there is none at this time. New York, the richest city in the world, is moving rapidly in the same direction, and will soon reach its destination unless it mends its ways at once. We have no need to look beyond our own country, though the same lesson is driven home by the desperate state of many countries. But congress and the government at Washington remain virtually unmoved. There is talk of economy, but economies thus far considered are trivial in comparison with what is necessary to the nation's relief, while the demand for enormous new expenditures is loud and well organized.

There is but one answer to all that, the organization of an offensive throughout the nation and the concentration of directed power to break down political and official resistance.

DRAMATIC CRITICS ON THE SPOT.

A New York representative in congress wants the house to authorize him to summon the dramatic critics before him to show cause for their existence. He is warmly supported by at least one theatrical producer, who regrets publicly that other managers have not been willing to join with him in taking out their advertising and excluding critics from their houses. "We would," he says, "at least have a start and it would mean a great loss to the newspapers in advertising charges."

An interesting opinion, but one which seems to omit some important considerations. Taking out advertising would mean loss to the revenue of newspapers, but unless advertising is of no value to theatrical producers it would be also a loss to them. Somehow we cannot bring ourselves to believe that theatrical managers are moved solely by an altruistic urge when they pay for advertising.

The gist of the controversy seems to be that critics are, as this manager alleges, an "incompetent and ruthless lot," and there has been a proposal that they be compelled to pass an examination before being permitted to practice. A discerning public might welcome the plan, but not if the examination were managed by the purveyors of their theatrical fare. But if the esthetic interests of playgoers are to control the examination, are the producers sure that they want to go on with their plan? Would an examination which would require of all critics a thorough study of dramatic classics and somewhat of a saturation in the highest traditions of the theater, from the Greeks to the Russians, insure the sort of theatrical notices that would warm the managerial heart, to say nothing of filling his pocket?

In other words, if our critics are "incompetent and ruthless" would they be less ruthless if they were more competent? A question worthy, it seems to us, of a meticulous consideration by the managers

Reverting to the reformer congressman's announcement that if the critics has asked to submit themselves to his learned interrogation do not obey he will ask the house what it proposes to do about it. This congressman is wasting his talents in the house. He ought to be in the senate, where the political inquisition has become an institution. And he ought not to limit himself to the dramatic critics. Are music critics, art critics, book critics, sport critics competent? Are column conductors, those ruthless critics of all things, competent? He might even summon to the bar of congressional judgment those obscure anonymities, the editorial writers. There, indeed, he would be on a live one and would have all of congress with him. Some friend even the dramatic critic might find there to plead for him against the last agony of the inquisitorial rack, but of editorial writers not one.

THE THREE DEADLIEST STREETS.

Ald. Massen, as chairman of the city council's committee on traffic, has made an important contribution to the prevention of automobile accidents. He has found that 166 accidents last year—17 per cent of all the fatal motor accidents which occurred in Chicago—took place on only three streets: Halsted street, Ashland avenue and Western avenue.

These streets are busy thoroughfares, carrying more than their share of motor traffic, but it is not likely that only three streets in Chicago carry more than one-sixth of the whole volume of traffic in the city. Accordingly it seems reasonable to assume that further study of these 166 accidents and of other accidents on these three streets would prove useful. It might disclose what there is about traffic on these streets which makes it peculiarly menacing to life.

One characteristic which the three streets have in common is that on each of them is a car line. There is scarcely room to doubt that the car lines add considerably to the ordinary hazard of street traffic. For one thing they increase the number of pedestrians. For another they increase the number of automobiles because the car lines offer a better pavement than is to be found on most of the streets of Chicago. People getting on and off the cars are herded in the middle of the street and while there are targets for the automobiles.

If some one had deliberately set himself the problem of increasing the number of automobile deaths in Chicago, he could hardly have devised a better system than is to be found on Halsted street, Ashland avenue, Western avenue, and, it might be added, every other car line street in Chicago. The system ought to work and, as Ald. Massen's figures suggest, it is working.

One way, it would seem, to decrease the number of automobile fatalities in Chicago is to inform drivers and pedestrians of the peculiar danger of the street car streets. Another is to concentrate the motorcycle police on these thoroughfares where their services can be most productive in accident prevention.

MAKING WAR AT ITS WORST.

We are in receipt of a communication from the American Boycott association, inclosing a pamphlet, "elaborating further the theory of the boycott, and containing a list of Japanese goods." Consulting the pamphlet we learn that the principal exports [of Japan] to the United States are raw silk, crab meat, decorated china, silk fabrics, straw for hats, dried beans, flowers: lily, tulip, narcissus bulbs—pyrethrum seed, mink fur. It is also amiably pointed out that "in the case of raw silk it is Japan's economic lifeblood."

A woman signs this precious document. No doubt she considers herself embarked on an experiment of noble motive—namely: to substitute the dove of peace for the dogs of war. To starve a people, to throw millions out of work, to take the bread out of the mouths of workers in factories, growers of flowers, painters of chinaware, fishers and canners of seafood—this is proposed in the name of humanity. Starvation, the crushing of a people's livelihood, is one of the oldest means of conquest and one which before our curious sentimentalists took it to their throbbing bosoms has been thought one of the most cruel and destructive of the methods of war. It is war, and the American people are now invited by the boycott association to make war upon the people of Japan and to violate the spirit of our treaties with Japan in the name of the sanctity of treaties.

That the substitution of economic ruin and the destitution of noncombatant men, women and children for the conflict of armed men is an amelioration of war or an advance toward the peaceful adjustment of international differences is one of the most grotesque fallacies yet produced by the American pacifist. We do not think our people will be deceived by it, but meanwhile the callow zeal of the boycott association is giving just offense to the Japanese and poisoning the relations of the two nations.

"WHAT HATH GOD WROUGHT!"

[New York Herald-Tribune.]

A son of Quaker parents, born in Penn's Woods, who painted historical canvases by the square rod for George III.; one of the founders and second president [succeeding Sir Joshua Reynolds] of the Royal academy, Benjamin West had two American pupils about a generation apart whose talents came to a head in invention—Robert Fulton and S. F. B. Morse.

Morse, whose portraits are represented in a centenary exhibition at the Metropolitan, had studied painting abroad about seven years and was a founder and president of the National Academy of Design when he applied to a congressional committee for a commission to paint [by the square rod, as West had for King George] a historical group for one of the four empty panels in the capitol rotunda.

John Quincy Adams, ex-President of the United States, on this committee, expressed his opinion that no American artist had talent enough for the job, and presented a resolution opening the competition to foreigners. A letter in the New York Evening Post scolded Adams harshly for his diffidence. It was attributed to Morse [the letter was written by James Fenimore Cooper], and Morse's name was removed from the list of eligible painters.

Grievously disappointed, Morse turned his back on a career that did not promise to redeem itself after so many years of honorable effort and recognition, rolled up his sleeves and perfected the telegraph. Twelve years after the idea came to him in 1832 on the packet Sully and eight years after his disappointment, he sent his famous message, "What hath God wrought!"

Morse's achievement supports the recent remarks of his present successor as president of the National Academy of Design, Mr. Cass Gilbert, who, apropos the successful investing of academy funds at a time [yes, 1929] when the run of investors were not so successful, said: "Artists are not quite the fools people think them, not half the idealists they are supposed to be, and only one-third the complete asses in practical matters tradition has made them."

Robert Fulton, S. F. B. Morse, American portrait painters, and—here take a high leap—Leonardo da Vinci did pretty well when they took a turn at engineering. Artists can even be smart about money when they put their minds to it [they seldom do], as Mr. Cass Gilbert, member of the same club with Fulton and Morse, has pointed out with a touch of malice, perhaps.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

THE CROSSWORDS PUZZLE FAMILY AT HOME.

"A word of five letters expressing greeting," shouted Mr. Puzzle as he burst into the house after a hard day's work at the office, "and how's a nine letter word meaning all?"

"An eight letter word meaning illustrious," answered Mrs. Puzzle. "What's the four letters meaning report of recent events?"

"Five letters meaning weighty," exclaimed Mr. Puzzle. "And five letters meaning random judgment what I've brought you—a seven letter word meaning gratuity!"

"A box of five letters meaning a nut growing in the south central United States?" said Mrs. Puzzle.

"Five letter word meaning not suitable to highest and best end," said Mr. Puzzle. "Try—five letter adverb."

"Six letters meaning plants of the perennial epiphytic family," laughed Mrs. Puzzle.

"Two letter negative," said Mr. Puzzle; "what is two letter pronoun?"

"Four letters meaning to inform and two letter personal pronoun," begged Mrs. Puzzle.

"Four letters meaning to direct the vision," laughed Mr. Puzzle as he opened a mysterious package.

"Oh!" shrieked Mrs. Puzzle, "a—seven letters meaning large ornamental centerpiece; you—noun of seven letters meaning one cherished."

And she gave him a great big three letters meaning to clasp.

FAITH.

The Christ had healed few women, this she knew
And yet she thought some miracle might stem
The flood of weakness she had known so long
If she reached out and touched His garment's hem.
He gave old eyes sea-light and sun and stars,
He let dull ears hear evening rains again,
And He would grant a woman strength for life,
As graciously as He gave balm to men.

His robe, they say, within the sacred Book,
And as high fire comes swinging from the sky
New warmth came in . . . now she could mend and cook
And keep her house secure against the night,
Not minding if she played a homely rôle.
I wish that I might touch the hem tonight,
And find new faith to make an old dream whole

AUSTRALIA REPORTS most enthusiastically on the annular eclipse of the sun, which happy crowds numbering thousands viewed last Monday. They were so pleased to have something on which they didn't have to pay tariff duties or income tax. It must be very pleasing, indeed. Wish we could have an eclipse of the sun. But too late now. Congress will probably get the idea and lay a ten per cent tax on smoked glass.

"BILLION DOLLAR TAX BILL Introduced Into Congress."—The Trib. Wonder what the congressmen said when it was introduced? "Glad tameetcha!" or "'Scuse me, I don't wantta know you."

OH, HOW DISAPPOINTED we were yesterday that what we hoped would be a fine snowstorm turned out to be just a snow flurry. We have all seen so many pictures of beautiful white snow lying on the ground in far-off cold countries that we did wish we might see it piled up on our streets and the merry little children riding downhill on their sleds. After the flurry of snow yesterday many of our folks hurried out looking for snow drops, snow apples, snow berries, and snow puddings, which they know come with the snow. They were disappointed, probably because there wasn't enough snow. However, although it was only a little snowstorm, it made Chicago very happy. Ah, what a climate! What a climate!

"JAPAN MAY QUIT LEAGUE OF NATIONS." —The Trib. Or, as the dear old story goes, "You're fired," said the boss to the office boy. "Very well," said the office boy, "I quit."

SENATOR NORRIS is so delightfully optimistic! He opposes passing a national law making the crime of kidnaping punishable by death. Oh, Mr. Norris, how naïve you are. You seem to think that making a law and the enforcing of it in these United States are one and the same thing. Oh, Mr. Norris, where in the world have you been?

AND WHILE we are blaming the w. k. depression on "general indebtedness brought about by overdevelopment of credit allowance," which is a highbrow way of saying buying on installment, it seems to keep growing, and we hope by next summer, when we are driving around in the old bus, that we can buy hot dogs and a cuppa Java that way at the gas stations. We've simply got to buy everything on the installment plan. It's a habit.

STORMS.

One never knows, when storm clouds ride,
What damage they may bring.
Homes may be wrecked—hearts crucified
With pain and sorrowing.

One never knows what storms will do;
Sometimes they clear the sky,
And let us see the cloudless blue
And sunshine, by and bye.

Let storm clouds wreck, or storm clouds bless,
The heart that braves their woe
Attains a steadfast happiness

How to Keep Well By Dr. W. A. Evans

To the limit of space questions pertaining to hygiene and prevention of disease will be answered in this column. Personal replies will be made to inquiries, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual disease.

PERITONITIS.

A. L. WRITES: "Please write something about peritonitis. Is there no cure for the disease? When does this disease occur?

REPLY.

It is plain that you have many ideas about peritonitis, and some are incorrect. You think of it as a disease that is not related to other diseases. On the contrary, it is almost always secondary to other diseases—a complication of them—and the answer to your question about cure hinges on those relations.

The peritoneum is a membrane which covers the abdominal organs and serves the same purpose, in some measure, for those located in the alcove of the abdomen, known as the pelvis. It is a simple, frail membrane with no important work to do, not exposed to much, and fairly well set out of harm's way. It becomes inflamed because of infection or injury. If a man has an appendicitis, and the infection travels from the appendix to the peritoneum, he has peritonitis. But we will have a better estimate of conditions if we think of the case as one of peritonitis as a complication rather than as a case of peritonitis.

The same reasoning holds true when the infection is primary in the gall bladder and secondary in the peritoneum. And so with peritonitis following obstruction of the bowels, strangulated hernia, puerperal sepsis, abscess of the kidney, and all the rest.

If the peritonitis is limited to the peritoneum around the appendix, for instance, we say it is localized; otherwise, that it is generalized.

If a man is kicked in the abdomen, or shot in that region, he is liable to have inflammation of the peritoneum as the result of the injury, or because of spread of infection, or both. Tubercular peritonitis sounds like an exception to these rules, but even in that disorder the infection spreads to the membrane from some point of entrance, or some infected organ.

And then, to your question—is there no cure? If a man has an appendicitis he is in trouble even when everything is going well. To have the infection get away and involve the peritoneum adds to the dangers and lessens the chance of cure. Whenever an infection breaks out of bounds, regardless of where it is, the dangers are increased and cure is more difficult. It does not follow that peritonitis is an incurable disease, or that appendicitis plus peritonitis carries with it reason for loss of all hope. Most cases of peritonitis recover. Many require operation, others do not. Some are more curable than others. It is the extent of the infection, its kind, and the nature of the primary trouble that have most to do with fixing the degree of curability of peritonitis.

IT MAY BE HELPFUL.

B. J. R. writes: I am in my 94th year. In the early spring of 1928 I had an alarming case of intestinal flu. For some days it seemed that I could not survive. For many winters I had not failed to have at least two colds, one of them severe, and I entered upon the summer of 1928 in despair. Having noted a statement in your column that soap has "some germicidal power," and the colds and flu usually enter the system through the nostrils, I began, morning and evening, to put a little lather up each nostril with my finger. I have continued it and this is the fourth winter that I have had no colds nor flu. I have induced a number of others to use the treatment, including members of my family, and, so far as I know, all have enjoyed like immunity.

REPLY.

I know of no reason why the method should prevent you from taking a cold, but you have used it, and have faith in it, and I know of no reason why you should stop.

THE BACK SLAPPER.

H. A. D. writes: Please write an article on the good hearted guy who is always slapping you on the back. I have been dismantled on three different occasions the last year by such antics from the village cutups. The last slap I was laid up for three days. Is there any good reason for this barbaric practice among humans?

REPLY.

I don't know what to write. Those whacks on the back sound big and hard, but they are mostly sound. There is no basis for the legend that the art of the chiropractor is a derivative of back slapping. The force of this boisterous greeting is never great enough to knock the backbone out of joint, or in. It may jar your upper plate out. No one slapped George Washington on the back because of the danger of knocking his plates for a goal.

But that is not exactly to the point. Your objection is that it is not the drawing room method. No one greets a grand duke that way.

THEY ARE CITIZENS.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Will you kindly enlighten me on the following: If Mr. and Mrs. John Smith came over to this country from some foreign country, and became naturalized citizens, but had left some of their children over there, and when the children came over, providing they were of age or not, would they be American citizens? E. E.

Sec. 2172, R. S. U. S., provides: "The children of persons who have been duly naturalized under any law of the United States . . . being under the age of twenty-one years at the time of the naturalization of their parents, shall, if dwelling in the United States, be considered as citizens thereof; and the children of persons who now are, or have been, citizens of the United States, shall, though born out of the limits and jurisdiction of the United States, be considered as citizens thereof."

FRED J. SCHLOTFELDT,
District Director U. S. Department of Labor.

DEBRIS ORDERED REMOVED.

Chicago, March 6.—[Friend of the People.]—The undersigned lives on Cornelia avenue. Opposite us is a vacant space owned by an ice company which is always covered with unsightly rubbish. The neighbors have complained but nothing has been done. Can you have this cleaned up? M. B.

Report is made that notice has been served on the ice company referred to to remove old iron and other débris from vacant lot within ten days from date of notice. Assurance was given that this would be done. JOSEPH J. BUTLER,
Superintendent of Streets.

A FAMILY EXPENSE.

Chicago, March 6.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I purchased a few pieces of used furniture from an acquaintance taking her word for the condition of part of it. After I received it I found one article she represented as in good condition was really so insanitary I could not use it. She refused to take it back. 1. Can she force payment from us? 2. Can she garnishee my husband's wages? 3. Can this be done without a judgment? A. J. T.

1. We cannot advise without knowing more specifically what she said and what are the facts to which you object.

2. Such a purchase would constitute a family expense, so that unless you can prove a defense both spouses would be liable. After securing judgment, garnishment would be possible.

CHINA-JAPAN WAR, 1894

LONDON, Sept. 16. — A dispatch from Shanghai says news has reached Chefoo that a fleet of twenty-one Japanese transports, conveying 10,000 troops, sailed a few days ago from a Japanese port. It is supposed it is the intention of the Japanese commander to land his forces at some point on the Chinese coast and the Chinese fleet under Admiral Ting has sailed south for the purpose of intercepting the Japanese.

LONDON, Sept. 17. — A dispatch from Seoul details a disastrous battle at Pingyang, Corea, in which the Japanese were victors. It practically puts an end to the war in Corea for a long time to come. The decisive fight opened on Sunday morning, Sept. 16, at daybreak with a direct cannonade upon the Chinese works and in half an hour the strongly defended position was in possession of the besiegers. It is believed the Chinese position was defended by 20,000 men of whom only a few succeeded in escaping. An immense amount of provisions, arms, ammunition and other stores were captured by the Japanese in the camps and entrenchments. It is estimated the Chinese lost 16,000 men in killed, wounded and prisoners. Among the captured Chinese were several of the most prominent commanding officers of the Chinese troops in Corea, one of them being Gen. Tso Fonk-Wai, commander in chief of the Manchurian army. The Japanese loss was trifling compared to that of the Chinese, only 30 Japanese being killed and 270 wounded. These include eleven Japanese officers. That the Japanese loss was small was due to the fact that the Chinese were taken by surprise, became panic stricken, threw away their arms and fled.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—A telegram to the Japanese legation announces that a general engagement between the Japanese and Chinese was fought at Pingyang on Sept. 16 with a decisive victory for the Japanese.

28 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 9, 1904.

LONDON.—The Daily Telegraph publishes a dispatch from Tokio dated March 7, which says: "It is reported that the Japanese fleet engaged the Russian Vladivostok squadron at sea yesterday. The result of the engagement is not announced, but it is believed that the Russian ships were destroyed or captured. It is also reported that news has reached Osaka, Japan, of an engagement between Japanese and Russians at a point 100 miles from Vladivostok in which the Russians fled." The Vladivostok squadron consisted of four of the most formidable warships in the czar's navy. It was commanded by Admiral Reitzenstein and had but a brief campaign in the present war.

ST. PETERSBURG.—Gen. Kouropatkin, commander of chief of the Russian armies in the far east, has hurried his departure and will start for his headquarters at Mukden on March 12. This indicates the mobilization of Russian troops has proceeded more rapidly than expected.

LONDON.—The sending of Marquis Ito, president of the Japanese civic council, and a large staff of officials on a special mission to Corea is regarded here as the most significant news of the day and is believed to indicate a virtual protectorate over Corea, which will become a Japanese military base and source of supplies.

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 9, 1916.

WASHINGTON. — Although congress has given President Wilson a free hand in the submarine controversy with Germany he is uncertain what course he will pursue. It transpires that he and Secretary Lansing are surprised by the apparent conclusiveness of the evidence submitted by Germany to prove that Great Britain secretly instructed merchantmen to arm offensively and attack submarines. The President has decided to address a note to Great Britain inquiring as to the authenticity of the secret orders and also as to the purpose of the armament and the instructions.

LONDON.—The Russians found today only 16 Armenians alive in Erzerum out of the usual Armenian population of 40,000, according to information received in Petrograd. "The Turkish inhabitants stated that a few days before the capture of the fortress by the Russians all the Armenians in the town were driven out by the police in a westerly direction, where the Kurds massacred them all," the correspondent says.

LONDON.—Berlin reported that the Germans attacking Verdun had taken by storm ten French trenches, 3.7 miles long and 1.8 miles in depth, on both sides of the Forges brook below Bethincourt. Paris reported that the attacks on Bethincourt were repulsed and that the French recaptured Cor beaux woods. On the remainder of the Verdun front there has been little change. The Germans have again taken Hardaumount redoubt near Douaumont and have driven the last of the French out of Fresnes.

BERLIN.—The capture of more than a half mile of trenches from the Russians northwest of Tarnopol was announced in an official statement from the Austrian war office telegraphed here. At this place and on the Dniester and Bessarabian frontier the artillery action on both sides is growing intense.

STATISTICS INTERPRETED.

Story City, Ia., March 5.—The other day Senator Blaine arose in his seat to obtain permission to print a list of bank failures in the Congressional Record. The list shows 762 bank failures in "the ten years before Mellon" and 9,458 failures in "the ten years of Mellon."

It is not clear what the senator is trying to prove, considering that the vast majority of those failed banks were little state institutions scattered throughout the country and with which the national government had practically nothing to do. Perhaps Blaine was trying to show that "Mellon time" was unlucky for banks.

A second look at those figures, however, might prove that Blaine himself is the Jonah of banks. For instance, of the large number of banks that failed in the last ten years only 3,869 failed in the five years before Blaine became senator and 5,589 have failed in the five years since he took his seat. In fact, it appears that every time Blaine arises to make a speech more than one hundred banks close their doors.

GARDENS FOR RELIEF.

Chicago, March 6.—If war should be declared today everybody in our country would be working tomorrow. Why not help men to live instead of to die—in preventing their loss of dignity, self-respect, and independence—by the incentive of work? I am sure we also have wealthy owners of unused land who, like Julius A. Baer of St. Louis, could easily donate 10 acres each and, perhaps, have them prepared for cultivation by needy families. There are, no doubt, many unemployed in every district of our city and suburbs where there are unused lots.

I plant a flower and vegetable garden myself, without a gardener, every spring, so know what can be done with a few seeds. Our soil is so fertile that vegetables would grow without fertilization. Landowners not inclined to donate could loan their vacant lots and thereby have them improved. We surely have philanthropically inclined influential manufacturers and dealers, as well as seed merchants, to whom to apply; also gardeners who, while unemployed, would, for a small consideration, act as managers of these gardens where needed.

Our suburban and city street cleaning departments could gather dead leaves in the fall and frostproof trenches would conserve the oversupply of root vegetables, cabbages, etc., for the coming winter.

Let Chicago's noble women expend some of their fine energy and talent for their unfortunate citizens during peace time as they did so unflinchingly and untiringly during our recent war. My thought is that concerted action along these lines put into motion now may avoid the necessity in large measure for another "drive" by the emergency relief committee next winter.

73 YEAR OLD GARDENERETTE.

SCHOOL LIGHTS.

Chicago, March 4.—We have been hearing a lot about the sad plight of some of our teachers due to failure of the school board in paying salaries. May I inquire why the lights in a number of rooms at the Ray school, East 57th and Kimbark avenue, are still burning as late as 9:15 p. m. on a number of evenings recently? Is the janitor still working at that late hour? I've counted as many as twenty-four rooms with lights on at that hour. Why? Surely the days are long enough now to make it unnecessary to work that late. Why not try to economize and put the extra cash that is going into lights into the pay roll fund? HYDE PARKER.

GARNER, WET OR DRY!

Chicago, March 2.—What I and about ten million other voters want to know is this: Is Mr. Garner content to let Cannon and Wilson continue to run the U. S. A.? Does he want the repeal of prohibition? No fence straddling—just yes or no. To date your paper seems to be the only one to come right out and say that prohibition is an ignoble experiment and should be abolished. The only presidential possibility who has done likewise is Al Smith. INTERESTED.

THE EFFECT OF CHEAP TAXI RATES.

Cleveland, O., March 1.—I notice the statement of Mr. Ely, published in THE TRIBUNE of Feb. 23, advocating the establishing of taxicab rates in Chicago similar to those of Cleveland. Having been attorney for the Green Cab company of Cleveland since its organization and having gone through the troubles occasioned largely by the cut rate prices inaugurated in Cleveland about a year and a half ago, I am anxious to say a word in reference to the disastrous results that will surely attend the introduction of such practices in Chicago.

An examination of the rates will convince any one that whoever operates a vehicle for hire at those rates will do so at a loss right from the beginning and regardless of volume of business. There can be only one result to such an operation and that is disaster; disaster in that an organized taxicab business which gives employment to hundreds of responsible drivers will deteriorate and perish. Responsible operation will be superseded by irresponsible operation; good drivers will be supplanted by bad drivers; good service will have substituted for it poor service; good equipment will be replaced by nondescript equipment, and finally, after the operation has been experimented with by different ones who will claim that taxicabs can be operated at such cut rate prices as exist in Cleveland, Chicago will find its taxicabs manned by disgruntled, unreliable drivers who are working at starvation wages, will find the companies owning the equipment in a state of bankruptcy, and the public that is supposed to benefit by these low rates will no longer have a taxi service of which they are proud but one that they will want to apologize for.

An examination of the balance sheet of any taxicab company that has attempted this sort of operation will convince any one that it can be done only as long as the assets of the companies last. JOHN B. OVIATT.

THE LINDBERGH BABY.

Chicago, March 2.—We pay in both direct and indirect taxes an alarming share of all we can earn, for protection and security, the two principal benefits that government is supposed to give us. That's what government is for. And yet, a substantial amount of this hard earned money is either brazenly stolen or shamefully wasted, while our property, our lives, and our children are in constant danger. The Lindbergh kidnaping is but another flaming illustration of the deadly need for a quick and radical return to sanity. GLEN BUCK.

SOUNDPROOF.

Washington, D. C., March.—I wish to commend THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE for your articles exposing excessive costs in government, state and national. Every room in the District of Columbia is soundproofed against any such noise as reducing the federal pay roll. The words of conscientious congressmen and senators along such lines do not even produce an echo in Washington.

There is nothing the matter with the form of our government. The trouble is with those in control of the forms. GEORGE FRYHOFER.

A FOUNDATION.

Chicago, March 1.—The "Library Patron," whose letter in THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE suggested the closing of the Chicago public library and all its branches because the newest books are no longer to be had, might take some comfort out of the fact that one really doesn't get the best out of the new ones without having a pretty good grounding in the old ones. Further, it seems to be the fact that I and others find the libraries more crowded than ever before. ANOTHER PATRON.

A WET.

Chicago, March 2.—The undersigned is a candidate for congress in the Third district. As the majority of the people I have already called on are wet, and from the reports I have received the others are in favor of the repeal of the Volstead act, I shall do whatever can be done to get immediate action by congress. FORD M. VAN DECKER.

ARREST CHICAGO SUSPECT IN MAIL BOMB MURDERS

Colombo Boris, 8325 Lafayette avenue, a confessed anarchist, was seized yesterday by federal immigration agents who suspect him of complicity in the anti-Fascist postal bomb plot which resulted in the deaths of three men last December. Firearms, ammunition, and complete equipment for the manufacture of bombs were found in Boris' home.

Boris' admission of anarchistic sympathies and literature and corespondence found in his possession make his deportation certain even if he is not definitely linked with the bombing plot, according to Murray W. Garsson, assistant secretary of labor in charge of the investigation. Two other ...en are being sought on the information which resulted in the arrest of Boris.

Three Killed in Easton, Pa.

On Dec. 30 seven boxes containing bombs were mailed at the Easton, Pa., postoffice. One of them exploded when opened for inspection in the postoffice and caused the deaths of Edward W. Werkheiser and John B. House, postal clerks. Later Charles V. Weaver, a police bomb expert, was killed while examining another of the boxes.

Immediately after the Easton tragedy, more than a dozen bombs which had been mailed to prominent Italian Americans in various parts of the country were discovered. One of them had been mailed to Oscar Durante, Chicago school board member and publisher of L'Italia, and another to Giuseppe Castruccio, Italian consul general in Chicago. Warnings broadcast as a result of the Easton explosion resulted in the interception of these and other infernal machines.

Federal authorities turned their attention to known anarchists as suspects in the anti-Fascist plot and Boris' name was found in the files. In 1918 he had been arrested for deportation as an anarchist, having advocated violence for the overthrow of the government, but he had jumped bail and fled to Italy. Garsson and his investigators learned that Boris had returned to Chicago and was posing as a wholesale grocer.

Bomb Laboratory in Home.

Beyond his admission of anarchistic leanings, Boris refused to talk. He made no effort to explain his possession of two shotguns, two automatic pistols, nitroglycerin, several cans of powder, fuses, detonation caps, and iron pipe cut in lengths similar to those used in the Easton bombs.

His equipment constituted a complete laboratory for bomb making, with numerous acids and chemicals of a nature unknown to the investigators. A trunk full of books and pamphlets on anarchy and letters written in Italian were seized. The investigators hope to get clews to the bombing plot from the letters when they are translated.

A newspaper found in the home told of the bombing of the home of Frank V. Zintak, clerk of the Superior court, on Feb. 11, 1931. On the wall was a large water color cartoon attacking the Mussolini dictatorship in Italy. The cartoon depicts a huge grindstone labeled "Etat" (State), which is crushing citizens. Mussolini is looking on with his left foot on the prostrate body of "Libertas" and his left hand holding a crown above the head of King Victor Emmanuel, who is represented as a dwarf.

Anarchist Is Locked Up.

Boris was locked up in lieu of $100,000 bond while department of justice agents and postoffice inspectors continued their investigation of the bomb ing aspect of the case. Mailing or causing explosives to be mailed with intent to harm or kill is punishable by a maximum of ten years' imprisonment and a fine of $5,000.

Boris could also be prosecuted in a Pennsylvania court for murder if it were shown that he perpetrated the bombing plot.

Boris is 47 years old and has a wife and 4 year old daughter, Columbine. The child told investigators that she did not like Mussolini because her daddy didn't.

Robber Fells Housewife at Door; Rifles Her Purse

A bandit knocked down Mrs. Charlotte Swain, 65 years old, 3318 Lawrence avenue, when she opened the door to him yesterday. He then took $50 from her purse and fled. A few minutes before he appeared he made a telephone call, asked for her husband, and ascertained that Swain had left the house for work.

LONDON POLICE EVICT A FAMILY; O, WHAT A FIGHT!

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 8.—Fifty policemen stormed a flat in the estate of the London council and faced a barrage of sticks, beer and milk bottles and vegetables and then crashed down the doors and evicted a tenant with his wife and seven children in the rain because he had taken an aunt as a roomer.

The lease forbids tenants subletting any part of their property. A milkman, Williamson, barricaded himself five days ago to resist an eviction warrant. Police arrived armed with sledge hammers and axes and were breaking in when a group belonging to the national unemployed workers' movement was discovered entrenched inside.

A hand to hand fight followed in which other tenants joined, only to be subdued when the inspector led his men in a charge behind protection of a stream of water from a fire hose.

Neighbors helped store the furniture and care for the homeless family. Four men were charged with assaulting a police bailiff.

HOLD THREE AS POSTAL ROBBERS.

Martin P. McLeold and Barclay A. McLeod, brothers, and Andrew D. Snodden were held to the federal grand jury yesterday in bonds of $10,000 each on charges of robbing a postal substation.

FLAMES WRECK GARAGE, 60 CARS IN LA GRANGE

Fire of undetermined origin early yesterday attacked the garage and showroom of the Buchholz Brothers, automobile dealers at 203 West Hillgrove avenue, La Grange, causing damage estimated at $100,000. Sixty automobiles were destroyed by the flames and only the brick walls of the building remain standing. Firemen from La Grange and La Grange Park fought the blaze for five hours, being hindered by explosions of gasoline tanks of the cars and by the intense cold.

Indiana Harbor firemen fought three hours yesterday against a fire which attacked the undertaking establishment and garage of Michael Mysliwys at 4852 Magoun avenue. The flames wrecked these buildings and spread next door to an apartment building owned by John Nowak before they were brought under control. The total damage was estimated at $50,000.

HUNT AGITATORS OF FATAL MARCH ON FORD FACTORY

Communists Blamed for Inciting Riot.

Detroit, Mich., March 8.—[Special.]—Authorities today were searching for agitators believed responsible for encouraging the riot at the Ford Motor company's plant yesterday in which 4 members of the crowd were killed, 19 wounded by gun fire, and two score or more hurt by fists, clubs, and brickbats.

WM. Z. FOSTER. [Assoc. Press Photo.]

Meanwhile Ford company officials blamed Detroit authorities for permitting the demonstrators to march upon Dearborn, where the police force was too outnumbered to cope with the situation.

Communist Leaders Sought.

Of the agitators sought those most wanted, and whereabouts unknown, are William [Zack] Foster, head of the communist organization in the United States, who addressed a crowd of about 1,000 of his followers here Sunday afternoon and evening; John Schmies, candidate for mayor of Detroit last fall, who also spoke with Foster; William Reynolds, active in recent unemployment demonstrations, and Albert Goetz, state organizer for unemployed councils, offshoot of the communist organization. Prosecutor Harry S. Toy is considering placing criminal syndicalism charges before the grand jury.

Harry H. Bennett, head of the service department of the Ford Motor company, who was hit on the head with a rock, will be given an X-ray examination to determine the extent of his injuries. A fractured skull is feared by Ford hospital physicians.

Murder Charges Not Provided.

Toy explained that murder charges would be brought if any of the injured police officers should die. The statute, it was explained, does not provide for murder charges against members of a mob, based on the death of other members. Nearly 50 men and women have been arrested, while all victims of the riot suspected of communistic leanings are under police guard at the hospitals where they are receiving treatment.

TAXI MONOPOLY ORDINANCE HITS NEW OPPOSITION

Aldermen Find It Blocks Lower Rates.

Aldermanic opposition appeared yesterday to the proposed taxicab monopoly ordinance. Ald. James B. Bowler [25th], chairman of the local transportation committee, which must approve the measure before it goes to the council, said he would not vote for it in its present form. He made the statement at the close of a subcommittee hearing at which Ald. John Toman [23d], chairman of the subcommittee, had stated it was his intention that the proposed ordinance should prevent any reduction of Chicago taxicab rates, now among the highest in the country.

"Instead of granting a 20 year monopoly to certain companies," said Ald. Bowler, "it would be better to limit the number of taxicab licenses, and reduce the number of cabs in that way. A monopoly requires careful study and thought. I think it's foolish to tie the city down to it."

Wants Cab Records.

Ald. John J. Hoellen [47th] demanded that the large taxicab companies produce at the next subcommittee meeting the records of their payments to loop hotels for exclusive privileges at hotel cab stands.

"I understand that one company paid a hotel $65,000 for such a privilege for one year," Ald. Hoellen said. "The stands are in the streets. The city should get that money."

Lee E. Daniels, who said he represented a group of taxicab drivers who have applied for a charter to do business as the Fair Cab company, appeared before the subcommittee to protest against the measure. His group of drivers, now driving for the Checker Cab company, will put fifty cabs on the street at first, and later increase this to 100, he said.

Plan "15 and 5" Rate.

They propose to charge 15 cents for the first third of a mile, and 5 cents for each third thereafter, he said. This would be 25 cents for the first mile, and 15 cents a mile thereafter, as compared with the present rates of 45 cents for the first mile and 20 cents a mile thereafter, he said. The rates he proposed are now in effect in Cleveland.

"So far as I'm concerned," said Ald. Toman at this point, "there'll be only one rate in the city, and that can't be changed without council permission."

"Do I understand that we can't charge cheaper rates?" asked Daniels.

"Not if I can help it under the new ordinance," said Ald. Toman. "There will be only one rate."

Three More Companies.

Although the preamble of the proposed ordinance states its purpose is to lessen traffic congestion by reducing the number of cabs, the subcommittee voted yesterday to include the Commercial Cab company, with 25 cabs, in the list of companies in the monopoly. The number of companies has now risen from the original four to seven.

Daniels declared that the group he represents would not put additional cabs on the street, since they are now driving their cabs for the Checker company. Mike Sokol, president of the Checker company, asserted that the Checker company now owns the cabs, and that the drivers would not be permitted to withdraw them.

Sokol and Ben Samuels, attorney for the Yellow Cab company, questioned the ability of the proposed company which Daniels represented to pay judgments growing out of accidents.

Prohibits License Transfer.

The representatives of a group of colored taxicab operators, independents, asked if they would be permitted under the ordinance to organize and transfer their licenses to a corporation. Ald. Toman said that they would not.

When Ald. Bowler and Ald. Wiley W. Mills [37th] protested against this ruling, it was agreed that amendments will be made permitting independents to organize and transfer their licenses, and allowing any operator who was in business up to October, 1929, to resume if he wishes.

JAY B. DEUTSCH, DIVORCED IN '27, MARRIES AGAIN

Jay B. Deutsch, president of Automatic Industries, Inc., installers of hotel and apartment radios, and Miss Olga Selberg of Chicago, were married yesterday by Justice of the Peace Henry F. Wallenwein in Waukegan. He gave his age as 43 and Miss Selberg's as 30.

Deutsch, the grandson of one of the founders of the Brunswick-Balke-Collender company, married Miss Petrollnia Joan on Dec. 17, 1916, and was divorced by her on grounds of habitual intoxication and cruelty in 1927. The Circuit court issued several attachments against him in 1929 and 1930 for his failure to pay $400 a month in alimony.

His former wife is now Mrs. Michael Fielding of 43 East Division street. She was married the second time in January, 1931.

way when, last July, she met the handsome New Mexican at 6:30 a. m. in Streator, as he stepped off a train from the west, and, after breakfasting with him, motored with him to her Rock River farms in Byron.

Native of Arkansas.

Mr. Simms was born in 1882 in Washington, Ark., and attended private schools and the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville. From 1906 to 1912 he resided at Monterey, Mexico, going to Silver City, N. M., a small mining and resort town, in 1912. He was admitted to the bar in 1915, and served during the war as field director for the American Red Cross at Camp Cody, N. M. From 1920 to 1924 he was president of the Citizens' National bank of Albuquerque.

His first wife was Katherine Atherton Mather of Niagara, Falls, N. Y., a descendant of Richard Mather of Harvard college, whom he married in 1914. She died in 1921. Mr. Simms served as a member of the New Mexico legislature before going to Washington. He is a Republican.

Mrs. McCormick, daughter of Mark Hanna, "maker of presidents," has had a career unique among women in politics. From her father she learned sagacity and the discipline of a political campaign, stumping the country with him in the 1896 campaign for McKinley, when she was in high school. She made her first speech in a small town in one of the Dakotas in that campaign, when her father's voice gave out after sixteen speeches.

Adviser to Husband.

From her first husband, the late Senator Medill McCormick, who died in September, 1927, as he was rounding out his first term as United States senator after one term as congressman-at-large, Mrs. McCormick gained a further knowledge of politics. In turn, he regarded her as a political adviser.

Chairman of the first woman's executive committee of the national Republican committee, and first national committeewoman from Illinois, Mrs. McCormick, when she became a candidate in the April, 1928, primary for the Republican nomination for congressman-at-large, was no novice. She said emphatically that she was not running "as a woman's candidate," and did not approve of feminine blocs.

"The presence of so few women in active politics," she said in an interview in March, 1928, "is due not so much to man's great reluctance to admit them as it is to woman's great indifference to being admitted."

She conducted her campaign like a man would, except that she spared herself less, making half a dozen speeches a day and touring over 16,000 miles in nearly every one of the 101 downstate counties. The result was that she went to congress.

Wins Over Deneen.

In the April primaries, 1930, after another hard-fought political battle, this time against former Senator Charles S. Deneen, she won an overwhelming victory. In the November election, however, she was beaten by her Democratic opponent, Senator James Hamilton Lewis, in a Democratic landslide.

It was the latest twist which politics had given to a four cornered tussle for public favor. Lewis was defeated for reëlection to the senate by Medill McCormick. Before the end of his first term Senator McCormick was defeated in the primaries by Deneen. Mrs. McCormick scored over Deneen only to be defeated by Senator Lewis.

Mrs. McCormick not only has had an active political career, but has succeeded in raising pure bred cattle and profitable poultry on her farms, and is a newspaper publisher in addition. In 1928 she bought, with the editor, T. B. Thompson, the Rockford Daily Republic.

LEVIATHAN TO MAKE BREMEN TERMINUS OF FUTURE VOYAGES

New York, March 8.—[Special.]—When the Leviathan reënters the trans-Atlantic trade, leaving here on April 26, she will sail via England and France to Bremen, Germany, the United States lines anounced today. The express liner, flying the Stars and Stripes, is one of three vessels built in Germany seized during the war, and now in service under other flags, and will return to the land of her construction for the first time.

Bremen officials and business men are planning a gala civic welcome on the ship's arrival early in May, and it is expected that the vessel will have on board many Americans of German descent on a visit to the homeland.

The first port in the Leviathan's regular schedule will be Plymouth, England. Negotiations are now being made, according to P. V. G. Mitchell, vice president of the company, to determine the French port of call, which will be either Havre or Cherbourg.

BUBONIC PLAGUE DEATH IN HAWAII; NAVY CUTS LEAVE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HONOLULU, March 8.—Admiral Frank H. Schofield late last night ordered the withdrawal of the naval shore patrol from Maui island and the cutting off of all contact between the navy personnel and that of the island because of the death there last Sunday of Charles Tyler, a white employé of Senator Harold Rice. Tyler died of bubonic plague.

This order will hold 27,000 men aboard the warships until Thursday when the fleet will sail for the Pacific coast maneuvers. About 10,000 men had been allowed shore leave in the small towns of Lahaina and Wailuku. The sailors said that they can get more liquor in five minutes at San Pedro, Cal., than they can get on this island in a month. A moral wave has struck the island and the strictest watch is kept by navy and shore authorities.

Honolulu is very quiet at night. There are only a few people on the streets after 10 p. m. Navy uniforms are scarce.

Italy Expected to Place Exhibit at Chicago Fair

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, March 8.—Italian participation in Chicago's Century of Progress exposition next year was believed assured by Felix J. Streyckmans, chief of foreign participation of the World's Fair, who is in Rome to confer with the government officials. Streyckmans expects to complete arrangements with Minister of Corporations Giuseppe Bottai within the next few days whereby the Italian government will be represented with a building of its own.

SINN FEINERS BRAND DE VALERA "ENVOY OF KING"

Repudiate Him on Eve of Taking Presidency.

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, March 8.—(AP)—The Sinn Fein, organization of militant Republicans, repudiated Eamon de Valera, Republican leader, tonight on the eve of his expected election to the presidency of the Irish Free State.

Although De Valera has proposed to repeal the public safety act and release persons, mostly Sinn Feiners, sentenced by the military tribunal established under the act, the Sinn Fein issued a statement describing him and his prospective cabinet as "ministers of his majesty, King George V."

Flays "Shameful Surrender."

"They may remove as many oaths and tests as they wish, but they will never induce Republican Ireland to accept the shameful position of surrender and subservience represented by membership in a 'Free State parliament' which is not a dail eireann [chamber of deputies]," the statement said.

(De Valera has expressed the intention of abolishing the oath to the king.)

There can be no real unity until the two "obstacles to national unity, England's two mongrel legislatures, and all they stand for" are repudiated as part of the British connection and Ireland's public representatives, as well as its military forces, return to the position of 1919 and 1921, the statement added.

"Whether the oath is removed or remains, the Sinn Fein will not accept one of England's institutions as a national assembly," it declared.

Fear Trouble from Extremists.

Followers of President William T. Cosgrave, whose forces were exceeded by those of De Valera in the election of the new dail, interpreted the document as likely to fulfill their prediction that De Valera's accession to power would mean a recrudescence of trouble from extremists, which they said led to the passage of the public safety act.

If De Valera releases the prisoners, the Cosgrave supporters said, he would have to reimprison them, else they would imprison him.

(The Sinn Fein party, composed of extreme Republicans, resulted from a convention organized by De Valera himself early in his political career and it was the Sinn Feiners who twice named him "president of the Irish republic.")

Only an unforeseen turn in political events could prevent the election of De Valera, whose political career embraced years of hardships, prison terms, and one sentence of death, to the highest honor within the power of Erin.

When the tall, angular and determined leader of the Fianna Fail goes before the new dail tomorrow the vote probably will be 83 for him and 69 against, a majority of 14 over his arch political enemy, the retiring Cosgrave.

Thousands Turned Away.

The demand for seats as spectators at the opening of the dail has been phenomenal, and thousands have been turned away.

All of them wanted to see the crowning event in the career of this Spanish-Irish native of New York, who was born in obscurity and rose to the highest pinnacle of political power by virtue of his bulldog tenacity, and persistent education.

De Valera will face his first test of strength immediately on the convening of the dail when Cosgrave will plead for the retention of Michael Hayes, the governmentist, as speaker, but it was believed that the Fianna Fail would propose Frank Fahy and carry the speakership, although his election would mean the loss of one vote.

The Fianna Fail will then nominate De Valera for the presidency and when the vote is taken will adjourn for a few hours while he goes to see Gov. Gen. James McNeil to receive formal appointment.

Later in the day the new president, if he receives the appointment, will return to the dail and submit his cabinet. After the ministry is formally approved the house will adjourn until Thursday, when the new executive will take over the reins of government.

COUPLE SEIZED WITH RUM.

BANK SECRETARY MAKES FORGERY CHARGE IN COURT

Continue Inquiry on Banker Suicide.

Proceeding with his inquiry into the affairs of the dead Frank E. Lackowski and the defunct Second Northwestern State bank, of which Lackowski was president, Circuit Judge Michael Feinberg yesterday recalled for a third time Miss Harriet Shosky, former secretary of the bank. In her original testimony a week ago Miss Shosky intimated that the banker, after she repulsed his advances, "framed" her into having her relatives sign a $55,700 note to cover her losses in speculations. That night Lackowski committed suicide.

Immediately after she was sworn yesterday the judge handed her a letter, purported to have been signed by her mother and aunt, co-signers of the $55,700 note, in which the bank was given authority to dispose of the collateral put up for the note at any time the condition of the market warranted such action. With one glance at the letter, Miss Shosky pronounced both signatures forgeries.

Quizzed on Alleged Forgeries.

"How many forgeries are in this case?" demanded the judge, evidently referring to the mother's previous admission that she had forged the aunt's name to the note.

Miss Shosky was silent, and her attorney, Edgar J. Cook, stood up with a suggestion that the court summon handwriting experts to pass on the validity of the signatures. Disregarding this proposal, the judge asked whether the mother or the aunt was in court. Miss Shosky said her mother was at home ill and the aunt was avoiding the court for fear of publicity.

"The court has no control over publicity," Judge Feinberg announced. "The court is not interested in publicity. The court wants to know how many forgeries occurred in this case. Have your mother in court as soon as she recovers from her illness and bring your aunt in as soon as possible."

Real Estate Man Testifies.

Ralph C. Petersen, who is in the real estate business at 4559 Milwaukee avenue, was called to explain a $43,000 note. The judge demanded his age. Petersen professed to be 34 years old and admitted he had been borrowing from the bank to speculate in the market since he was 26. He insisted that each loan was covered by collateral worth twice that sum in the current market. He said he had nothing with which to pay on the loan at this time, adding that he had recently incorporated the Logan Square Realty company in hopes of earning something.

A. J. Miktyn, 2061 Farwell avenue, former vice president of the Fullerton State bank and now a customer's man for Wayne Hummer & Co. at $100 a month, was questioned concerning a $21,300 note of his in the Second Northwestern bank. The interrogation developed the fact that Miktyn over a period of ten years had borrowed $109,000 in five banks and now possessed nothing but a part of his insurance policies. Miktyn admitted his wife owned a sedan and that his rental was $175 a month, but declared he had been able to pay only $25 monthly for the last five months. He was instructed to return with the insurance policies.

SEEKS FINANCE CORP. CHANGE TO AID BANKS HERE

Nelson Wants U. S. Loans for Closed Institutions.

State Auditor Oscar Nelson yesterday instructed George W. Reinecke, receiver of the Roseland State bank, 114th place and Michigan avenue, to make a 10 per cent payment, amounting to $151,900, to the 6,500 depositors of the bank. The receiver, who has previously made a payment of $303,700 on Dec. 15, announced that the new checks would be mailed about April 15.

AUDITOR NELSON.
[Gibson Photo.]

Coincident with the announcement of the Roseland bank payment it was stated that Mr. Nelson is asking the Reconstruction Finance corporation to reconsider its rules in order to permit receivers of Illinois state banks to participate in the aid offered by the corporation.

Pushed by Depositors' Group.

It is reported that state bank receivers have recently received inquiries from congressmen in Washington wishing to know why the receivers have not applied to the reconstruction corporation for help. The United Depositors' association, an organization claiming to represent 500,000 depositors and having 1,100 paid members, has also been pressing the matter.

Present rules of the corporation provide only for loans to closed banks, not for purchase of the banks' securities, the auditor said. Moreover, he pointed out, the Illinois banking law gives receivers no authority to pledge a bank's assets to secure such loans. The auditor's announcement quoted Walter T. Fisher, attorney for the director of the Chicago division of the corporation, as taking the same position.

"In states such as Illinois, where there is no statute authorizing a receiver to borrow money for the purpose of paying claims, the attitude of the corporation has not yet been determined, and we have no forms for such application," Mr. Fisher was quoted as saying.

Corporation's Loan Terms.

In states where receivers are authorized to borrow, it was pointed out, the corporation will loan only 50 per cent of the actual value of the collateral, and then only when such a loan will make possible a 50 per cent dividend to depositors. As Illinois receivers have no income with which to recover pledged collateral, such loans in Illinois would actually mean the sale of the collateral at 50 cents on the dollar.

Mr. Nelson is suggesting that the corporation, if desirous of helping Illinois bank depositors, should amend its rules and arrange if possible to buy the collateral at a fair price. The auditor is reported to be insisting that receivers hold assets until a fair price can be had in both the bond and real estate markets.

Cup your ears, 'tis luscious pie fillings we'll whisper to you this morning. On second thought, we won't whisper, we'll shout. For these are worthy pie fillings.

When we spoke of the apple pie with its cheese crust yesterday, there was another cheese crust recipe we neglected to give you. This is made with a cream cheese, one of those small square package varieties. You may select any flavor you choose. Sift one cup of flour and then cut the cheese into it with the butter. For this amount take one-half cup of butter or other shortening. Usually, butter is not the best shortening agent for crust, but it may be happily combined with this type of cheese. Chill the dough over night and in the morning press and pat the dough into your pie pan. Fill with the apple filling, and bake for an hour in a moderate oven.

APPLE PIE FILLING.

2 pounds of cooking apples
1 cup of white sugar or [1 1-3 cups of brown sugar]
butter

Pare, core, and cut the apples. Place them in the unbaked crust, sprinkle with sugar, add preferred flavoring, and dot with bits of butter. Wet the edges of the under crust. Cover with the upper crust, press the edges together, and bake in a moderately slow oven [325 degrees Fahrenheit] for one hour. Serve hot or cold.

Caramel, pineapple, custard, butterscotch, and lemon fillings are poured into baked pie shells. They are generally topped with a fluffy meringue and slipped into a slow oven until the meringue is a golden brown. Because we have had several requests for lemon chiffon pie, this recipe is given instead of the regular lemon filling. You may have the other, however, if you will write for it.

LEMON CHIFFON PIE.

Grated rind of 1 lemon
1-3 cup of lemon juice
6 eggs
sugar

Cook this in the top of a double boiler. Heat the juice and rind. Beat the egg yolks together with one cup of sugar until thick. Add to the heated rind and juice. Cook until thick. Remove from the fire and gently add the beaten whites of three eggs. Fill the baked shell with the lemon filling. Take the remaining whites for the meringue. Add to them four tablespoons of confectioner's sugar. Beat together and cover the pie. Bake in a slow open [300 degrees Fahrenheit] until the meringue is brown.

To obtain the best results with all custard fillings—the water in the lower part of the double boiler should be kept just at the boiling point. If a custard cooks too quickly, it will separate. The recipe below for caramel pie is cooked in a manner similar to the lemon filling, except for the addition of egg whites. This pie will be the nicer for a topping of sweetened whipped cream. Use a baked crust and have it previously cooled.

CARAMEL PIE FILLING.

1 egg yolk
3 tbsp. of flour
3 tbsp. of water, warm or cold
1 cup of milk
1 tbsp. of vanilla
1 cup of brown sugar
1½ tbsp. of butter
pinch of salt

Put the egg yolk into the upper part of the double boiler and add the brown sugar, flour, milk, water, butter, salt, and vanilla. Cook slowly until the mixture thickens.. Cool. Pour into a baked crust and cover with the sweetened whipped cream if a meringue is not used.

Music Library of Sousa May Go to State University

Champaign, Ill., March 8.—(AP)—The Music library of John Philip Sousa, the march king who died on Saturday, may become the property of the University of Illinois.

A. A. Harding, director of the university band and a friend of Sousa, said today that Sousa told him last summer he had made arrangements to leave his library to this university.

The Illinois band last night broadcast a program in honor of its honorary conductor, Sousa.

Cold Weather Brings a Rush to Wool Things

Warm Dresses May Be Smart, Stylish.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

A LOT of zero weather causes a sudden rush for "woolies," scarfs, sweaters, and big warm comfortable coats are pulled out each morning and put on in layers and layers, until even the thinnest calory counter looks like a well stuffed sausage. No one, least of all, the faithful follower of a diet and consistent user of weighing machines, enjoys one of these bulbous silhouettes even though it is of clothes only, and for chill necessity.

Woolen dresses are the warm and clinging comfort of shivering shoppers and those of us who insist that we must get outside for some of this winter weather, woolen dresses that are no thicker than a silk frock, woolen dresses that will be warm as well as smart and different. And with very little search, you can find them just in time to satisfy the desire for anything that is warm and not bulky, and yet new.

The colors alone are guaranteed to bring a fine flow of snugness to any wearer, because of their warm bright reds, greens, and attractive color combinations, and the knitters have been at it again. With sweaters in the leading fashion rôle of hand knitted effects, with no sign of any loss of stitch or fashion interest, the knitters have taken a new skein or two of yarn and proceeded to lengthen their efforts to please, with the result entire dresses, two and even three piece suits and ensembles!

Stitches of Many Colors.

And the crocheters are trying their best to gain a good clothes holed on smart women who want the hand made effect, entire dresses have been crocheted with nice square holes going around and around till the top is reached when they celebrate with a good finish of another color but the same good stitch.

Another knitted dress can be had of a material called chenille knit; it looks like a bumpier-than-usual terry cloth, the most popular color is a cherry red, the collar is fringed as well as the cuffs.

Two piece dresses of the handknit variety are very moderately priced and most effective. The high round-necked blouses are knitted with large, generous meshes, giving a lacy effect that is discreetly not duplicated in the closely woven skirt. These models have a contrasting patent leather belt. One high shade of green would be exceptionally colorful worn with a beige polo coat and a beige vagabond hat; the black of the belt could be matched with black pumps and black hat as an alternative. This same model is available in a particularly lovely shade of beige, blue, black, and white, and all and each of them could be worn with colorful distinction during the warm spring days to come.

Knitted Bands at Waistline.

Some one of the one piece frocks [still in the knitted union] have fashionable short sleeves and a tightly knitted band effect at the waistline. These also have the skirts closely knitted, with much larger meshes in the blouses.

Since the silk and wool manufacturers supply extra jackets with their models the knitters are similarly generous with short boleros to match or contrast. But these knitted boleros can be selected and bought separately —about the only things in the jacket line that are allowed out alone without a dress, skirt or blouse.

These knitted things are new and colorful and most discreetly priced. They will keep your depression frost nipped allowance in good condition for a greater onslaught when the warm days really come.

Mrs. Hibben is a graduate of Lasell seminary and Mr. Hibben attended the University of Chicago and is a member of the Psi Upsilon fraternity. Mr. and Mrs. Hibben will be at home at 5200 Blackstone avenue.

Junior League May Operate Children's Division of Fair

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE Junior league, not only in Chicago, but in all of the principal cities of the country, enjoys such an established reputation for its social, philanthropic and artistic projects that its permanent success is taken for granted. The very name of the organization is synonymous with all that is modern and smart and progressive.

And yet, with all of our placid acceptance of the league's continuous good work, we are, from time to time, awed and surprised by the efficiency with which the club functions and the scope of its interests. There is always a good story popping around the league office.

Yesterday a special meeting was held at the Petit Gourmet to discuss the need of volunteer service in social agencies. Before the special business of the day was brought up, the secretary, Miss Margaret Sinclair, gave a résumé of the last few months' business and the president, Miss Dorothy Schmidt, called upon half a dozen chairmen to report on their various departments. This covered a variety of activities including costume storage, fashion shows, children's plays, the Lake Forest book shop, a proposed affiliation with the Public School Art association, and the second hand clothes sale.

When all of this extremely interesting but not particularly new business had been dispatched, the president, in a little talk before turning over the meeting to Miss Margot Atkin and the volunteer service speakers, gave a brief outline of a project that may develop into the largest and most thrilling thing the league has ever done.

May Run Children's Section of Fair.

The project has to do with the World's Fair of next year and the possibility of the league's taking over the management of the entire children's department for the exposition. Right now a committe headed by Miss Florence Higinbotham is working on a plan to be submitted to the Century of Progress board.

So far the girls have only a vague outline of what may or may not be done. If the tremendous job is given to them it will mean conducting the best sort of playground and classroom for children of all ages. It may include plays, movies, marionettes, exhibits, classes, games, a children's lunchroom, and possibly even a barber shop. To quote the president, the girls "are letting their imaginations run riot at this stage with ideas to be sifted down later."

Several other groups are submitting plans for the children's department of the Fair and they eventually may cooperate with the league in the general scheme.

The league, however, has a chance to operate the entire department if its plans are accepted. The children's department of the Philadelphia exposition, by the way, was the only financially successful division in the show.

Personal Element in Social Service.

To get back to yesterday's special business—the guest speakers, Mrs. Leah Taylor, head resident at Chicago Commons and president of the National Federation of Settlements, and Miss Agnes Van Driel, secretary of the Loyola University School of Sociology, both spoke so movingly and so sensibly about the need of personal contact in social service that I'm sure every Junior leaguer will want to double her hours of work for the city's hospitals, clinics, and relief bureaus.

Before the talks by these two "professionals" six of the league volunteers made two minute speeches about their own experiences in the institutions in which they assist. Each girl, probably unknowingly, gave evidence in her talk of a broad understanding and sympathy for her neighbors that would probably upset the average person's notion of a society girl's outlook on the world.

There were other matters taken up at the meeting, but they would make other stories and consume far more space than this column has at its disposal. But then, as I said before, there's always a story to be had from the Junior league.

Miss Dennehy Sets Wedding Date.

Miss Josephine Dennehy wires from Pasadena that she has decided upon Saturday, the second of April, for her marriage to Prince Nicholas Galitzine, and that the wedding is to take place at the Pasadena residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Dennehy, in the late afternoon.

An engagement announcement made the other day in New York of interest to Chicago society is that of Miss Beatrice Carroll of New York to Melville E. Ingalls, son of Mrs. George H. Ingalls of New York and the late Mr. Ingalls, because the Ingalls family formerly lived in Chicago.

Mr. Ingalls attended St. Mark's school and was graduated from Harvard. His fiancée, who is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. Stanton Carroll, attended Miss Chandor's school and the Spence school and then studied for a year abroad, making her debut in New York in 1929. The announcement was made by her aunt, Mrs. Charles Pinckney Sumner of New York.

Mrs. Laird Bell will give several monologues at a meeting of the Colonial Dames to be held this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. George A. Ranney, 1260 Astor street.

Mrs. Gerhardt F. Meyne, who is general chairman of arrangements for the Maurice Hindus lecture to be given Wednesday evening, March 16, at Orchestra hall under the auspices of the Cook County League of Women Voters, will entertain her co-workers at a Russian tea and musical this afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock at her residence, 1448 Lake Shore drive. Eva Gordon Horadesky, contralto, and Wally Heymar, violinist, will give the program, with Ester Hershberg at the piano.

Lecture on "Forbidden City."

The Orientals and the American Friends of China will hear Benjamin March of the Detroit Institute of Arts lecture on "The Forbidden City" this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in Fullerton hall of the Art institute. The lecture will be illustrated.

The Friends of Opera will hold their spring meeting Thursday afternoon, March 17, at 2:30 o'clock in the Drake ballroom. The guarantee fund committee of the organization will meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Arthur Meeker, 1100 Lake Shore drive.

Mrs. Joseph M. Cudahy and Mrs. Frederic W. Upham have agreed to be co-chairmen of the annual meeting committee of the Chicago chapter of the American Red Cross, and have asked the committee to meet with them at the Red Cross headquarters at 616 South Michigan avenue Friday afternoon after the symphony concert.

Mrs. Charles S. Dewey, official hostess for the Alliance Française, announces a reception for Prof. Bernard Fay of Northwestern university on Sunday at 4 o'clock in the rooms of the Alliance in the Fine Arts building.

Tell Plans for Musical Tea.

Mrs. Horace Bridges, Mrs. Henry K. Chapin, Mrs. Edward R. Litsinger, and Mrs. James R. Bremner will pour at the tea which will follow the program at the Lake View Musical society's meeting next Monday at 2:30 o'clock in the crystal ballroom of the Blackstone.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Hampden Winston are expected to return on Thursday or Friday of this week from a late winter visit at the Gulf Hills club in Mississippi.

Mrs. Chauncey B. Borland has returned from an early spring visit to her daughter, Martha, who is at school at Dobbs Ferry. Mrs. Borland and Miss Martha spent the short vacation at a New York hotel.

Robbery Delays Welfare Meeting.

The other members of the committee in charge of the fashion show to be given on April 5 at the Shoreland hotel for the benefit of the Kenwood Social Service club forgave Mrs. Dorothy Tillinghast for being late at yesterday morning's meeting at Mrs. Albert S. Cummins' residence at 1220 East 50th street when they found out the reason for her tardiness.

A Negro bandit forced his way into her apartment at 5025 Woodlawn avenue just as she was getting ready to leave to attend the meeting and stole her purse, containing about $25, but fortunately he dropped about $10 as he was escaping.

Mrs. Tillinghast's maid let the man into the hallway when he said through the speaking tube that he had a package to deliver. When she opened the door he struck her in the face and forced his way into the apartment.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., March 8.—[Special.]—President Hoover today received the German ambassador, Herr von Prittwitz und Gaffron, who presented as his guest Herr Doktor Gerhart Hauptmann, who is here for a reception in his honor this evening given by Dr. Cloyd Heck Marvin, president of George Washington university. Dr. Hauptmann made an address, preceding the reception, at the convocation given in recognition of the centennial celebration of the birth of Goethe. Among the patrons of the convocation, which took place at Memorial Continental hall, were the German ambassador and Frau Von Prittwitz und Graffon, the British ambassador and Lady Lindsay, the secretary of state and Mrs. Stimson and the secretary of the interior and Mrs. Wilbur.

The French ambassador and Mme. Claudel entertained at luncheon today for the three French players in the International tournament to be held in New York, M. Georges Gentien, M. Christian Boussius and M. Jean Borotra.

Mrs. Gann, sister of Vice President Curtis, left today for Detroit to make a political speech there tomorrow. She will return at once to Washington.

The major general commandant of the marine corps and Mrs. Benjamin H. Fuller entertained at dinner tonight at the marine barracks, in honor of their guests, Col. and Mrs. Edward M. Offley, Mrs. Fuller's brother and sister-in-law. Col. Offley has been transfererd here to the office of the chief coördinator of the army.

The commandant of the army war college and Mrs. William D. Connor entertained at dinner tonight in honor of the British ambassador, Sir Roland Lindsay.

Mrs. James J. Davis, wife of the senator from Pennsylvania, returned today from a cruise to the West Indies, accompanied by Judge and Mrs. E. J. Henning of New York.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York, March 8.—[Special.]—Mr. and Mrs. Theodore P. Grosvener have taken a house at Southern Pines for the remainder of the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Alden R. Ludlow and their daughter, Miss Alica Ludlow, are passengers on the Aquitania with a cruise through the Mediterranean in prospect.

Miss Emily Augusta Thomas has returned from a trip to California with Mr. and Mrs. Michael M. Van Beuren and has joined her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Seth E. Thomas.

Col. and Mrs. Clarence S. Wadsworth returned from Palm Beach, where they were with her brother, Maj. Ellisha Dyer Hubbard, and Mrs. Hubbard.

Mrs. E. Ward Olney gave a luncheon for Miss Alice Huntington Wright, fiancée of her son, E. Ward Olney Jr.

MISS ALICE CONWAY

Miss Alice Conway, a member of the national field staff of the Girl Scouts, now in Chicago, has been chosen as one of three scout leaders to go to the International Girl Guide camp at Enniskerry, County Wicklow, Ireland, in June. This was announced yesterday from the headquarters of the Girl Scouts at 225 North Michigan avenue.

Patricia Caron of Sacred Heart convent is one of ten Girl Scouts in America who have been chosen to attend the camp. Both the Girl Scouts and the leaders will be guests of Viscount and Lady Powerscourt at Enniskerry.

Find Mementos Saved in Fire at Old Grace Church

Mementos of pre-Chicago fire days were discovered yesterday in an assortment of memorials and relics from old Grace Episcopal church found in the basement of Spaulding-Gorham's, Inc. The memorials apparently had been salvaged from the fire that destroyed the historic church in 1915, when it was located on South Wabash avenue on the site now occupied by an addition to the Coliseum.

Among the relics of particular interest to Mrs. Robert B. Gregory are memorials to the late Mr. and Mrs. William Gold Hibbard, parents of Mrs. Gregory and well known Chicagoans. Two bronze prayer desks, a memorial to William Gold Hubbard, dated 1825-1903, and another to Lillian Buckingham, 1887-1895, were among the memorials, as were two pitchers bearing the names Martha Burton Hibbard and Martha H. Hibbard, and a pair of vases with the name of William Gold Hibbard.

It is expected that some of the pieces will be placed back in use in the present Grace church, which is connected with St. Luke's hospital on Indiana avenue.

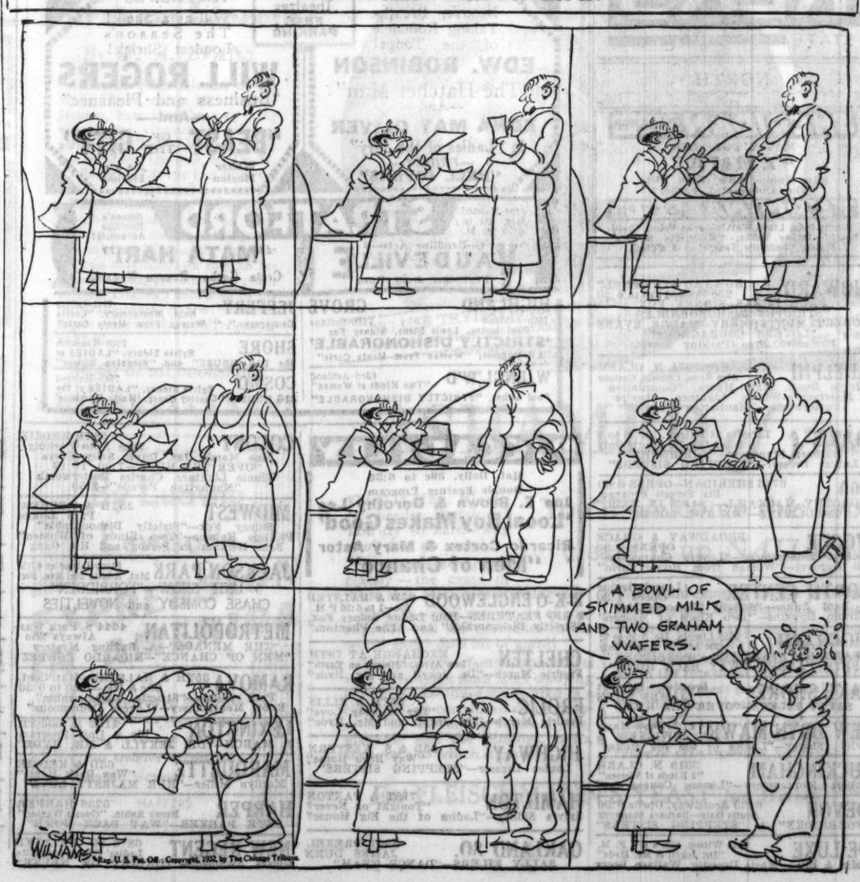
WOTTA LIFE! WOTTA LIFE!



Movie Colony Protects Self from Kidnapers

Estates Are Guarded at All Times.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., March 8.—Marlene Dietrich's 6 year old daughter, Maria Sieber, is one of the best guarded children in Hollywood and probably in the world. Ever since the German actress came to this country nearly two years ago she kept a protector for the child and in addition little Maria has the services of her mother's chauffeur and bodyguard, Harry Wright, who in Europe was bodyguard and chauffeur both to the late Lord Kitchener and to King Albert of the Belgians.

As a result of a kidnap threat against Carl Laemmle Jr. several months ago, I am told the 24 year old movie magnate has been accompanied about New York by a picked guard during his present visit there.

Incidentally the Lindbergh crime has disclosed exactly how well the estates and children of the movie famous are guarded. Inquiring about a report that detectives had been called in to protect Gwynne Fairbanks, Mary Pickford's 16 year old ward and daughter of her sister, Lottie, I was informed that no exact precautions have been taken at Pickfair because the present precautions are deemed ample for any emergency. The place is always under guard by watchmen, dogs, and trick devices of a surprise nature which would stop any interloper.

It developed that Joan Bennett's 3 year old baby, Adrienne Fox, is constantly under watch of a nurse and that the estates of Harold Lloyd and Carl Laemmle Sr. are as closely patrolled by armed watchmen as Pickfair.

The film colony has not forgotten that threats against the safety of her 3 year old baby, Jane Bannister, recently were received by Ann Harding and her husband, Harry Bannister, and that a Los Angeles jury was so impressed by the Mary Pickford kidnaping scare in 1927 that it sentenced three men to San Quentin penitentiary in that year, from which the convicted trio only recently gained parole.

No southern cooking for Tallulah Bankhead of Alabama. During her stay in London she conceived a taste for English cooking, although it is beyond imagination when you consider her slim figure to think that she ever ate Yorkshire pudding. But Tallulah imported her own English chef from London when she came back to America and now has brought him on from New York. She first hired him in London in 1926.

As a result of hospitality accorded them at the studios, officers of the Chilean navy tanker Miapo gave a party for a group from a Paramount lot headed by Mr. and Mrs. Chester Morris, aboard the vessel in San Pedro harbor. Commander Carlos Jansen was host and the movie folks, including Miss Willie Morris, Chester's daughter; Bertha Jahncke, Harriette France, and others, were so royally entertained by the South Americans that they never got around to fulfilling their other invitation to visit the neighboring Canadian navy's superdestroyer Skeena, which was anchored in San Pedro's battleship row nearby.

Ronald Colman, just back from Shanghai, can't get over the nonchalant way in which the Japanese and Chinese take their war. The sight that impressed him most, he told listeners at United Artists, was when the business men volunteers composed of American, British, French, and German residents manning sentry lines in extremities of the international settlement would look up and wave their handkerchiefs to Japanese bombing planes to warn the pilots to move a little farther out of the international zone before dropping their packages of destruction.

Official Contract

By Charles True Adams

(International bridge authority; author of "Official Contract at Sight")

Did it ever occur to you what a perfectly wonderful thing it was to be able to read? A human mind thinks certain thoughts and in consequence makes marks upon paper and then you come along and look at those marks and at once the same thought, the same ideas are set up in your brain that passed through the brain of the maker of the marks. Yet it is so commonplace to all of us that we accept it in the same matter of fact way we do an automobile, a radio, or a telephone. Supposing that you have a fair idea of a bidding system at contract bridge, it is really much simpler to read another's hand than it is to read a newspaper and far less wonderful. Take yesterday's play-a-problem for example. This was the hand:

NORTH [dealer].
♠—K,J,8,7,6,5
♥—5

WEST.	EAST.
♠—3	♠—A,Q,10,2
♥—A,K,Q,2	♥—J,4,3
♦—J,10,8	♦—A,4,2
♣—J,10,9,8,2	♣—K,Q,7

SOUTH.
♥—10,9,8,7,6
♦—6,5
♣—6,5,4,3

North dealt and bid a spade. East doubled. South passed. West bid one heart. North overcalled with two diamonds. East bid two no-trump. South passed. West called three no-trumps and all passed.

Let us see what East knows about West's hand and about North's hand. He knows that the hand on his right has a two suiter. He knows that there are probably at least five spades headed by the K-J. If there were only four spades the top strength would not allow a bid. He knows also that there probably are five diamonds headed by the K-Q. Unless the ♦ J is in that hand there is the ♣ A, in order to give the necessary 2½ high card tricks for the opening bid. East places the ♣ A with North since his side high card trick if not in diamonds or spades is more likely in clubs than in hearts because West bid hearts. East has practically called every card in North's hand and you must admit it is far simpler than even a child's first reader. About West's hand! Well, East knows that West has four hearts not five since he did not rebid hearts. West knows that East probably has a four card spade suit with two top honors over North, has no more than three hearts, must have a stop in diamonds and, in order to make his hand powerful enough, probably has the top clubs that North lacks. Don't you see how really simple it all is? If they taught contract in the schools [which heaven forbid] all this sort of thing about card reading from the bidding would be taught in first grade and learned within a month or two by 6 year olds.

South opened the ♦ 6, West played the 10, North the K, and East the 2. North returned the ♦ 9, East played the 4, South the 5, and West took with the J. Dummy now led the ♣ 2, North's A came up, taking the trick. North then returned the ♦ 3 which East took with the A. East played out the ♣ K and ♣ Q and followed by playing the ♥ J. To the eighth trick East led the ♥ 4 which West took with the Q. West then led out the good ♣ J and 10, followed with the ♥ A and ♥ K and then led the ♠ 3 which East took with the A for five odd—the game and two extra tricks.

NORTH [dealer].
♠—A,K,8,3,2
♦—3,2

WEST.	EAST.
♠—Q,J,10	♠—7,6,4
♥—K,Q,J,10,9,7,6	♥—5
♦—6,5	♦—9,8,7
♣—7	♣—J,10,9,8,6,5

SOUTH.
♣—A,K,Q

Bid and play this hand and then compare the result with that printed tomorrow.

New and Smaller Unit of Matter Is Claimed by Scholar

Chapel Hill, N. C., March 8.—(AP)—The "atomerg," a unit of matter smaller than anything hitherto known, was announced tonight in a new theory of matter by Dr. E. K. Plyler, associate professor of physics of the University of North Carolina.

The atomerg, he said, is a tiny particle of light, that is, of energy, probably electrical. Its probable size in grams is represented by a decimal point, followed by 47 ciphers and the figure 7.

It is probable, said Dr. Plyler, that most or all of the material things in nature are made fo atomergs. Although he said his researches have not progressed to the point of proof, yet it is likely that matter, energy, electricity, magnetism, electrons, protons and photons are simply different manifestations of bundles of atomergs.

Dr. Plyler held that his theory does explain "in a descriptive way all phenomena of light." Physicists have agreed for several years that light in some mysterious way behaves both like waves and like particles. The new theory explains the actions of light wholly as particles. Among the light phenomena, which Dr. Plyler said are explained logically by assuming the existence of atomergs are the quantum theory, X-ray and Einstein's relatively equations showing the change in mass of a moving body due to a change in its motion.

[The atomerg would be much smaller than the new neuron announced a few days ago from Cambridge university. The neuron is made of one or more protons and electrons bound closely together, while the atomerg is only one of the particles composing either an electron or a proton.]

WEDDING

Sackett Hope Verrall of Evanston announces the marriage of his daughter, Helen, to John Jay Barker of Glencoe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell D. Barker of Larchmont, N. Y., on Thursday, March 3. The ceremony took place in the chapel of the First Congregational church of Evanston at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and was followed by a reception at the Homestead hotel. Due to the bride's recent illness, only members of the family and a few friends attended. Miss Mary Louise Harris of Wilmette was the bride's only attendant and Phillip E. De Berard of Rockford was best man. Ushering were Robert Webster of Evanston and Robert L. Marsh of Chicago.

Ancient Books for Children on Display at Newberry Library

An exhibition of books for children made from the 16th to the 19th centuries will be held this week and will continue next week at the Newberry library, 60 West Walton place. The collection is that of Walter Schatzki of Frankfort am Main, Germany, and most of the books are in German.

The oldest book in the display is the "Colloquiorum Puerilium Formulæ," a series of conversations on ball playing, swimming, and other sports, which was printed at Cologne in 1534. Other 16th and 17th century volumes are "A-B-C" books with woodcut or copper plate illustrations, including an illustrated book of Æsop's Fables and a copy of the "Orbis Sensualium Pictus," by Johann Amos Comenius, which is the first picture book for children.

WHEN TEETHING makes HIM FUSSY

Teething time brings its troubles! For so often teeth cut through the tender gums in hot weather, when there is danger of digestive upsets anyway.

One of the most important things you can do to make a teething baby comfortable, is to see that waste matter is carried off promptly and regularly.

For this, there's nothing like Castoria. It is made specially for the delicate needs of babies and children. It acts so gently, you can give it to young infants to relieve colic pains. Yet it is always effective—keeps older children well regulated.

When your baby is fretful and feverish with teething or a stomach disturbance, give a cleansing dose of Castoria to make him comfortable and happy. Children like the taste of genuine Castoria—never object to taking it. Be sure you get it with the name Chas. H. Fletcher on the package.

Peasant Hero Sees Future in Lothar's Novel

Excellent Character Study Praised.

"The Clairvoyant," by Ernst Lothar. [Kinsey.]

ERNST LOTHAR, author of "The General" and the Trilogy "Power Over All Men" both of which achieved distinction and recognition, has written a new novel that has been heralded abroad by Thomas Mann, Jacob Wassermann and Heinrich Mann. In this country the book has been made the March choice of the Book League of America.

ERNST LOTHAR.

"The Clairvoyant" is a complex story of love and intrigue. It opens with an exciting burglary of far-reaching consequences. The reader is immediately thrown into an atmosphere of suspense and foreboding whose intensity is not lessened until the last few of the 358 pages. Sebastian Trux, a simple, honest, good-hearted peasant, enters the story in the capacity of a legal clerk in a huge bank. Shortly after his appointment he is made suddenly aware of a strange gift of which he had been only vaguely conscious before. Seeing the handwriting of a famous and ruined business man he instantly and successfully prophesies his death within three days.

Deeper and deeper Sebastian sinks into the quicksand of world-wide fame and adulation as a seer. He associates with and becomes the intimate of the richest and most powerful men and women in Europe. He gains unbelievable wealth and renown and he brings, through his power of clairvoyance, sorrow and disaster to ninety-nine people out of a hundred who consult him. Fedora, one of the most beautiful and destructive women in Europe, loves him and, lost in his passion for her, he forgets his childhood sweetheart, Agnes. Bimeter, the craftiest publicity agent on the continent, capitalizes this supernatural wisdom of Sebastian's, showing him off before crowds of people, raking in for himself, Fedora and Sebastian the hard earned money of a credulous public.

Remains An Honest Peasant.

In the midst of corruption, vice, soulessness and danger, Sebastian remains essentially a sincere, bedazzled, kind hearted and honest peasant. He scarcely realizes what is happening to him until one day the blinding thought that he has been unwittingly responsible for two deaths occurs to him. His efforts to save himself before it is too late, to recapture the love of his boyhood sweetheart and once more to find faith and his God, all furnish the material for the last part of the book.

The characterization of Sebastian is brilliantly conceived and effected. He enlists the reader's sympathy from the start and holds it throughout the book. His fumbling naivete, his unwitting tampering with his supernatural powers, his goodness and his stubbornness, his childish susceptibility and his ultimate firmness of purpose all make up a character that is interesting and real.

The narrative oftentimes drags. The author does not always select his details discriminatingly. But even while the reader does not lend his close attention to all the irrelevancies of plot and characterization he is nevertheless unflaggingly interested in the marvelous creation of atmosphere that embraces nearly every aspect of continental society from the lowest plane to the highest.

Keeps Feeling of Suspense.

The reader never loses the feeling of suspense. Though now and again the rhetoric is over elaborate and the apostrophizings of the author somewhat mannered, the main narrative goes on swiftly. The various climaxes and the tense as well as the calmer moments of the novel are handled with unerring skill.

"The Clairvoyant" is a thoughtful novel and contains a message that is becoming more and more characteristic of contemporary German literature. The vision of faith that is so obviously indicated did not need the underlining that the author chose to give it. Perhaps the book would have been more memorable if the author had allowed the characters and events to speak for themselves. However the last page of the book, if somewhat sentimental and unnecessary, nevertheless sums up the entire novel:

"The man who knew the future had named his son, in commemoration of the hidden mysteries. He had wandered far from his native place and traveled far and wide, now he was returning home. He knew more than other men; now he had learned more still; that ignorance may be a diviner thing than knowledge and that secrecy is the gift of God." M. D.

Levitzki Pays Another Visit to Symphony

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Mischa Levitzki, who appears as piano soloist with the Chicago Symphony orchestra about once every three seasons or so and is always liked when he does, returned for his fifth assignment in that capacity yesterday afternoon. It was something of a coincidence that he should play the same work with which he introduced himself to Chicago some fourteen years ago.

This was Saint-Saëns' Second Concerto, the one in the key of G minor, a work two generations old which happens to fall into Mr. Levitzki's happiest manner of playing. For he is a specialist on mellow piano tone, whether the notes come as sustained melody or in the trickiest of glistening tracery.

One feels completely safe when listening to Mr. Levitzki at work on a composition of this order. There is no catching of breath, no mental effort to help him over the hard places. If the performance yesterday was not entirely exciting, it was probably due to the concerto itself. One could hardly call it outmoded. There were too many good tunes in it for that. Still, it distinctly belongs to another age, and for that reason one felt comfortably serene in listening to Mr. Levitzki's rendition of it. All of which is merely another way of saying that Mr. Levitzki extracted everything that Saint-Saëns put into it, adding his own personality as a warming and vitalizing medium.

Thirteen other artists of high degree appeared earlier in the program. These were the players of two flutes, two oboes, two clarinets, four horns, two bassoons, and one double-bassoon, who opened the program with Richard Strauss' Serenade for Wind Instruments. It is by no means a new work on these programs, but it never sounded as well as it did yesterday, and for this there can be only one reason, the caliber of the artists who did it.

Thereafter Mr. Stock played Beethoven's Fourth Symphony in the mood of high nobility, and John Alden Carpenter's "Adventures in a Perambulator" in the mood of affectionate humor. One belongs to the classical era, the other is contemporary, but it never occurred to the composer of either to become hard or edgy or acrid or any of the other things that are supposed to make composers talked about these days. In fact, they are full of emotion and charm.

Oriental Rugs on Exhibition at Art Gallery

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

One of the most interesting places to spend a little time this week is the Grant Art galleries, 25 South Wabash avenue, where a marvelous collection of antique oriental rugs is on view.

Perhaps the most impressive is an Indo-Ispahan family prayer rug woven at the order of a late sixteenth century Persian prince. The prince wanted his family about him at prayers, probably, for there are seven different panels or prayer places, each woven in a different design, apparently to reflect the personality of the worshiper. The rug is the only one of its kind in the United States. It is twenty feet long and five feet wide.

Another fascinating rug, made by a wandering Bedouin tribe from the neighborhood of Tabriz, is woven in colors which are mellow with age and tied with more than 10,000,000 knots. A fast hand worker makes about 2,500 knots a day, so a rug such as this is a year's work for an entire tribe.

Another exhibit of interest is that of portraits in bas-relief by C. Warner Williams in the Allerton House gallery. Mr. Williams was awarded an important prize for sculpture at the recent Hoosier salon and his work is known to many of us. His portraits are charming. He secures a likeness and a pictorial effect at the same time. Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Allerton gallery Mr. Williams will model the head of some member of the audience. Every one is urged to come. It should be an interesting afternoon.

At the Cordon club there is a third exhibit which is worth seeing. Elizabeth Tuttle Holsman is showing paintings and sculpture. Her Lincoln plaque is very impressive. Her fountain is striking and her little wild duck beautifully handled. Her water colors are delightful. In the larger paintings she shows a picturesque and decorative lake scene and a fine portrait of a man. The exhibit will continue through March.

Engage Stock to Conduct at Hollywood Bowl Series

Hollywood, Cal., March 8.—(AP)—Frederick Stock, conductor of the Chicago Symphony orchestra, has been engaged to conduct in the Hollywood Bowl during the series of "Symphonies Under the Stars" this summer, it was announced today. Other well known directors also are being sought.

Says Fanny Butcher of—
Mrs. Abraham Lincoln
By W. A. EVANS
"About no other mistress of the White House, except Mrs. Andrew Jackson, have there been so many vicious and vituperative tales as about Mary Todd Lincoln. . . . It has remained, however, for Dr. W. A. Evans to sift the fact from the fiction. . . . (in this) popular but scholarly treatise . . ." The author is well-known as editor of the "How to Keep Well" column of this paper. One might well conclude from his portrait that Abraham Lincoln became president due almost as much to Mrs. Lincoln's efforts as to his own. Illustrated. A few numbered copies still available on all rag paper at $7.50.

MY FIRST HUSBAND
by His First Wife
Says Fanny Butcher in the Chicago Tribune:
"The tale which the first wife tells is what the English call 'fruity'. The former Mrs. ——— tells all, and there is nothing in the world that the public enjoys so much as a good jigger of 'all'. It will take no sleuthing for Chicagoans to recognize the husband, and half of newspaper and 'lit'r'y' Chicago are mentioned."

THE HUSBAND
He felt that his genius permitted him a life with two women—and even demanded that they be friends!

THE WIFE
She gave him love, devotion — all the frail things a woman can give. But her man was of the kind that wanted more . . . needed more . . .

Young Girl Says Boys Are Out to Insult Her

But Maybe She Provokes This Treatment.

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"It seems most of the boys that take you out these days are just out for one night, and then insult you besides, and you don't give them any reason at all for doing that. Boys about five years ago would want steady company, take you to a show and ice cream parlor. Today it is somewhere to go and drink—and you know the rest. A different girl every night. That's their speed. Just to see what they can get out of her.

"I don't know if the girls have spoiled fellows with their drinking and smoking or if the boys like to go on that way themselves.

"EDNA."

Let's get right down to a study of this insulting business, "Edna." You say you don't give them any reason for it. And maybe you don't. Maybe your dress and your line of conversation and your conduct generally would pass the strictest censorship. But there are a lot of girls who, though claiming to have no hand in the insulting, dress to invite insult, talk to invite it—beg it, really. And you, "Edna," the innocent one, may be called upon to suffer with the guilty. That much girls have done to lower their own general standard. That much they've done to one another. BUT——

Girls are not dragged by the hair of their heads to drinking dens. The young men do not kidnap them to get them there. Girls go to the drinking joints voluntarily. And I gather they have a concise idea of what follows these excursions. Even girls like you, "Edna," who claim to be no party to the later experience!

You do accompany the young man or men to the liquor spots. You're fired for the time being with the excitement of going. Isn't that right? You get there, see the cheapness of the whole thing, and your finer instincts rebel.

Now, regardless of what you say, "Edna," there are loads and loads of young men who have no more taste for the drinking spots than you have. There are young men who wouldn't any more dream of insulting a girl whose conduct is above reproach than you'd dream of kicking your mother downstairs.

As I see it, "Edna," the flaw in the working policy of you young women is that you relish the excitement—well, a little bit of it, you do. But you don't want to pay the piper. And, Eve-like, you try to put the blame on Adam.

Collins' Reply Pleases Critic of Play Critics

Washington, D. C., March 8.—[Special.]—Charles Collins, dramatic critic of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, is batting high tonight with Representative William I. Sirovich, the Democratic doctor and dramatist, as well as congressman from New York.

As chairman of the house committee on patents and copyrights, Representative Sirovich began an investigation into the ink pots of drama critics. His contention was that so much acid in the ink spoiled many a show and sent producers into bankruptcy. So he summoned critics from New York, Chicago, and other cities to come to a hearing next Monday.

Most of the critics wrote wisecracks in their letters of reply. But Mr. Collins sat down and typed three pages of dignity. Now, he did not say Representative Sirovich was right; but so pleasantly did he say that Mr. Sirovich was in error that Mr. Sirovich called a newspaper conference this afternoon and told everybody what a swell guy was Charles Collins. Then, fingering a birght red carnation in his buttonhole, he dictated the following telegram to Mr. Collins in Chicago:

"As chairman of the committee on patents and copyrights of the house of representatives, I desire to extend my profound appreciation to you for your gracious and interesting communication addressed to me in response to a letter sent to you. THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE deserves to be complimented in having so honorable a representative as you as its dramatic editor and critic. Of all the dramatic critics invited to appear before our committee you are the only patriotic scribe who has had the conscientious decency to respond as a gentleman should by answering with reason and logic instead of ridicule and abuse.

"I shall incorporate your letter in my remarks before our committee as an evidence of the honesty, courage, and integrity of an upright American critic. Would there were more like you. Expect to speak before congress on Thursday or Friday on the subject of dramatic critics and pay the tribute of my respect and admiration for you and your newspaper."

In his letter to the congressman Mr. Collins argues that it is wrong to blame adverse dramatic critics for the failure of many plays when the cinema competition is so largely to blame. That would be just about as logical, says Mr. Collins, as to insist that a "man, given a dose of poison and then shot in the back, were dying because he had stubbed his toe over an April fool brick concealed by irresponsible urchins in an old hat."

Partial Deafness Makes a Child Appear Unruly

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Does your child hear well?

Every once in a while it seems to me important to bring to the notice of parents—not to mention schools—this important fact: that partial deafness accounts for many otherwise unexplainable things about a child.

It is a comparatively simple matter to find whether your child hears well—the school doctor, your own doctor, or tests of your own are not difficult to make. But it is important that you do not overlook this in the routine examinations of your child. It may be necessary to remind your doctor, as many overlook this point.

Here are a few relevent facts about deafness in varying degrees:

Slight deafness may cause a child to have faulty speech, because of course he speaks by imitation and if he doesn't get a clear aural image to imitate he can't speak correctly.

Greater deafness may keep a child from learning to speak at all so he can be understood. Tantrums and tears and apparent stubbornness are often caused by an inability to make himself understood.

Partial deafness may make a child seem dull when he isn't. So, it may interfere with his school work.

The child who habitually doesn't come when he's called, or who seems to disobey directions at home or in school may be deaf instead of "naughty." Of course, we don't mean "mother-deaf" but really deaf.

It is important that this disability be discovered before a child's behavior or speech is affected and before his mental development and education are seriously retarded. For the child who is very deaf there are special classes where the work is given, taking this into consideration. Your own board of education will help you to locate these.

Touch of Cold Cream Does Wonders in Perfecting Makeup

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

It's curious how some lips after the use of lipstick still have a dry, and what a friend calls a "non-kissable" look to them. The object of using lipstick is not simply to put color on them. The object is to make them look young and soft—and sweet, shall we say, if not kissable.

Women are finding out by experiment that they can get that moist effect on the lips as they get it on the rest of the face with a bit of foundation work before the coloring is applied. A foundation for the lip rouge, then, is recommended for those who are dry-lipped. It's plain that the moisture in the lipstick used is not enough. A bit of cream, lightly applied, may be tried.

Or, it may work more easily for you by putting a bit of white vaseline or cream over the painted lip. The thing is not to let your lips be seen out with a dried paint look about them.

Then, in putting on the coloring you might try to see what this brings you in the way of personal or outside approval: Take your lipstick and put color on the top lip. Put more on the center of your lower lip. Don't spread the color now with your fingertips. Instead, press the lips tightly together, and give the rouge a chance to spread in a natural line of mouth. If you find on opening the lips that you need a bit more coloring, add it the same way, and when you are pressing the coloring in, don't forget about working it back behind the "pale" rim line that so often shows the rouge dead line.

If you use liquid rouge, the need of a moistening touch is often seen and felt. I'm speaking, of course, more of the older mouths than of the younger ones. It's just a little point we older women are inclined to overlook.

And speaking of that moist look, there is a similar trick to add to the eyelid to relieve the age-dried tone of the skin. A tiny bit of cream on the fingertip run over the top of the eyelid gives just that touch of moisture we speak of. Also, the fingertip can be run along beneath the lower lid to advantage, also.

Bad Skin Betrays • An Unclean Condition Here

NO USE TRYING to correct blemishes from outside when they are caused by disorders within!
Copyright, 1932, Standard Brands Incorporated
ASHAMED of your SKIN?
BLOTCHES. Blackheads. Eruptions! You try so hard—why won't they go away?
Because—to speak plainly — the cause of those skin blemishes is inside you.
Because—until you get rid of constipation—all the cosmetics in the world won't do a bit of good!
Now doctors—famous specialists who have spent their lives studying skin diseases—have discovered in a simple food certain amazing properties for correcting internal sluggishness and the pimples, boils, acne, etc., to which it leads.
You'll welcome this food that clears it up NATURALLY!
This food-remedy is the familiar foil-wrapped Fleischmann's Yeast.
When made a regular part of your diet, Fleischmann's Yeast softens and loosens accumulated waste matter in the intestinal tract. It also actually strengthens the intestinal muscles that clear these wastes away.
In this way poisons are cleaned out and the blood purified. The chief cause of skin troubles, headaches, colds, etc., is no more!
Furthermore, Fleischmann's Yeast is very rich in three vitamins—vitamins B, G and D.
It's all so very sensible—and easy. Why won't you try it? You can get Fleischmann's Yeast at grocers, restaurants, soda fountains. Directions are on the label.
Start eating it today!

The Woman Hater

BY MAY EDGINTON

SYNOPSIS.

Mrs. Chapelle is the owner of Flaxen's Casino, near the water front of Port Bai, which was established by her first husband of dubious color, who had fathered her daughter Aya, and was the refuge of her second husband of dubious morals though unimpeachable antecedents, who had brought his little daughter Faire to the island and remained there until his death.

Malise Bookes, aid-de-camp of Sir Philip Persian, governor and commander in chief of the Tama islands, Bai and St. Rosario, obtained an invitation for Mrs. Chapelle and her daughters to attend the government house ball. Faire's pride makes her reject the belated honor because the Chapelles had until now been left out of the ball list. Mrs. Chapelle and Aya believe it is because she doesn't want to go in their company. Faire admits to herself with misgivings the truth of their accusations. She prefers to remain in the casino, where she and Aya had been trained to work by their mother. She strolls over later to watch the gayety of the ball from a sheltered grotto in the governor's garden. She sees Mira Worcester, a faded beauty, and young Robert Grand, the governor's secretary and ward, steal away to a secret rendezvous. The governor follows them out and finds Faire. He requests her promise of secrecy regarding the incident. Faire is stunned by his formal treatment of her. She overhears him tell Bookes that he is leaving at dawn for St. Rosario, where trouble is brewing. From a high knoll over the deep water Faire waves the governor a mocking farewell, but as she does she slips and falls down the cliff and is rescued from the water by Sir Philip. The governor is anxious to save his young ward from a scandal. Worcester has become suspicious and has threatened Mira. Bookes promises to save the boy by proving it was another girl and not Mira he'd been meeting. Bookes calls on the Chapelles. He threatens to close Flaxen's and have them deported unless Faire consents to clear Mira. Realizing all she stands to lose, Faire accompanies Bookes to keep a rendezvous with Robert Grand.

INSTALLMENT IX.

A HUSBAND CONVINCED.

Faire went off on her bare feet along the side of the lake away from the bungalow. She was numb to care, to grief. She did not care! The gesture that she made now was wanton and she knew it; but it seemed less wanton than sitting in that hateful lounge, in some posture of love, while men came crudely in upon them. Rather the cool night water, the white magic of the moon, the clean balm of the outer air.

So she slipped into the lake very softly and, swimming on her back, then lay still, floating. And she tried to empty her mind of all but the beauty of the night, thinking: "When they come, I shall be here out in the open, and I shall come ashore quietly and put the cloak round me, and walk back and say to him: 'Who is this?' . . . I suppose that will do."

She heard the sound of men coming through the trees.

The sound synchronized with another; the splash of young Grand diving in from a springboard by the bungalow, at the other side of the lake. Across the water she heard him call: "You over there, sweetheart? Why so darn lazy? Swim to me."

They were aware of dark eyes; of a slim body, barefooted.

And she called back: "Swim yourself."

A moment later Worcester and two planters came into the open and ran up the veranda steps into the bungalow. He would see two glasses, cigaret ends, impress of shoulders on cushions. His savage voice seemed to fill the night.

"Where are you Grand? Where are you? Come on!"

She turned over, just kept herself high enough in the water by unprogressive strokes, and looked. She heard Grand call back "Who the hell's that?" And Worcester cry: "The hell I'll show you!" And a loud mutter of men as if restraining him. There was the splash of a strong, quick swimmer making his way to shore.

Two men held Worcester back, one on each arm, saying:

"Now, captain! Now, quiet! Now, Worcester, easy! Here he is!"

"His wife!" repeated little Grand, trembling and passionate.

"My wife!" answered Worcester, and then he began to call for Mira. He was half drunk. He stood, held back by the other men, and called to her—by every foul name—to come to him.

And Faire Chapelle slipped unobserved in the far black shadows out of the lake, wrapped the Paris cloak about her, called "Who is it, Bobby?" very loud and clear, and walked towards them steadily, swiftly.

"Who is it then?" stammered Worcester, his jaw dropping.

"Sorry, Mr. Grand," the other planter began.

The three intruding men gazed at the girl who halted a yard or two away, and stood staring at them. They were aware of eyes dark and immense in the pallor of a young face, of a slim body, barefooted.

And suddenly one of Worcester's companions said in a smiling voice: "The captain owes you an apology, Mr. Grand, and we do too, captain, you've spoiled sport. This is a young lady from Flaxen's."

"Go in, Faire," said little Grand, with a sudden qualm on her behalf.

She went past the men into the bungalow, into the bedroom where she had undressed, and she fell on the bed and lay on it, shaking.

So she could not hear Worcester's stammering, muddled apologies, nor his: "Hell! I'll skin those lying niggers!" nor the planters' easy laughter, nor little Grand's: "Get to blazes out of it! The lot of you!" Nor did she hear the boy come quietly in, terribly sobered; and qualmish for her; and after dressing quickly, come and knock at her door, and say: "Faire! Faire! It's all over. You're a sport. I—I'll see you home." For by then she was running home, not by the path down which Worcester and his companions went, but through the forest trees and undergrowth, down, down towards the little house by the waterfront. Lying on the bed, she had said aloud: "Here died Faire Chapelle." And then she had dressed, slipped through the opened windows, and so, running, into oblivion.

"Here died Faire Chapelle," she had said to herself. Next morning, awaking in the room shared with Aya—who, heavy with sleep, had not aroused for questions the night before—Faire Chapelle rose from the dead.

She felt with the immense tragedy of passionate youth the bitterness of this resolution. She arose a new Fair Chapelle in the eyes of men. When she looked at herself in the glass she seemed to herself to be different. She had been struck humiliatingly and with cruelty. And all too soon she heard Aya's sleepy excited stutter behind her.

Not turning, in the glass she saw Aya sitting up in bed.

"Faire! I was asleep when you came in. I was so tired with the night before and the champagne breakfast Mam gave those fellows——" a giggle—"and everything. But tell me quick. What did Bookes make you do?"

In the glass Faire watched Aya; saw the rampant curiosity, the expectation like knowledge, the glint of coarse mischief.

"You'll hear."

"Hear! How?"

"Mantigua'll bring it all to mother before we're down."

"Mantigua?"

"Does he ever miss hearing a scandal?"

"Scandal?"

"Scandal."

"O, Faire, tell me, did Bookes. . . ?"

You had to bear this, Faire thought, all the innuendo, the laughter of thick fibered people. There would be a lot of it—only she herself taking what had happened hardly, painfully. She pulled on her bathing suit and hung around her a towel as big and bright as an Indian blanket. "I'm going to swim."

"O, what for? I'll have to know all about it, some time!"

Faire left Aya, running down the stairs and through the living room where the house boy was polishing and the cook boy setting breakfast, out to the edge of the quay. Even here the sea was clean, glassy, for the governor would not endure the dirty harbor he had found. She dived in and swam out, and returning, lying on a golden beach, dried herself in the sun. And as she had done many times since childhood fell behind, and vision of a future on Bai assailed her, she began to think of her dead father.

Yet her father had died without enlightening her, only leaving her that vague scribbled letter in which names, details, appeared insufficiently.

Mrs. Chapelle did not know of the letter, nor Aya. It was her secret, futile, yet as a flash in a dark sky.

When she was dry, she slung her towel around her and went back to the house. Mantigua was just leaving it in his quick, slick, furtive fashion. There was excitement in his movements. She let him get away before she stepped on to the veranda.

Aya sulked very quietly at the breakfast table, dark, fat, and lovely.

"I'd have thought you'd had enough swimming just now, girlie," cried Mrs. Chapelle, arch and boisterous. "Well, it wasn't such a very terrible thing you had to do to save mother and sister and yourself last night. Though I'm not asking, mind. Don't tell anything. If there's things my little Aya shouldn't hear, let them be."

"Just a lovely evening with a nice young fellow," continued Mrs. Chapelle.

"Just shows," shrilly from Aya, "the kind of thing that Mira Worcester was up to. I wish her husband had caught her. I wish. . . ."

"Aya!" said Mrs. Chapelle in her voice that brooked no nonsense. And she ordered the "boy": "Get out."

Bright Sayings of the Children

A young boy was describing a room, the walls of which were painted gray. When he came to this part of the description he could not remember the name of the color. His little grandson attempted to help him. "O, grandmother, I know that color! It's dark white," F. W. W.

Mary, who is in the first grade, was asked by the teacher to name the seasons of the year. Mary proudly stood up and answered, "The seasons are salt and pepper." H. L.

Seventy Years in Chicago as Told by Dr. Hall

Civil War Prisoners His First Memory.

BY RUTH DE YOUNG.

ONE afternoon in the early sixties a tiny lad flattened his nose against the big plate glass window pane in his father's Michigan avenue house. Civil war prisoners in rags and tatters, handcuffed one to the other, were passing by on their way to Camp Douglas at 35th street.

"This is my earliest memory," Dr. Charles Berrien Hall related yesterday as he sat down to reminisce of wars and fires and society of an early day. I had asked him to tell me a story that might be entitled "Growing Up with Chicago During the Last Seventy Years." "I didn't understand why there were prisoners or where they were going," he went on, "but I do remember my childish sorrow."

Then with a twinkle he cautioned me not to forget the "Berrien," his middle name. There must be at least a dozen "Dr. Halls" in Chicago, he explained, and this is my only trade mark. Furthermore, the name recalls his father, Amos Tuttle Hall, who helped lay the foundations for Chicago, the railroad center of the country. It was Amos Hall who played a prominent rôle in bringing the Michigan Central railroad to this city in 1852, who served for 29 years as secretary and treasurer of the Chicago, Burlington, and Quincy railroad, and was appointed the first director of the Pullman company by the late George M. Pullman.

Named for Rail Builder.

"'Berrien' is not a family name," Dr. Hall said. "It commemorates Col. John Berrien, head of the Berrien Construction company in Detroit, with whom father worked in the development of the Michigan Central. I was born just across the street from the Art institute—at 162 Michigan avenue. Now this would be just about the entrance to the Pullman building. You know the numbers along Michigan were consecutive in those days."

A large family portrait painted by George H. Storey in February, 1866, in the parlor of that Michigan avenue house hangs now in Dr. Hall's Beverly Hills home at 9720 Prospect avenue. Of the nine children, he is the only survivor.

"Shortly after the close of the war," Dr. Hall went on, "my mother became enthusiastic about the country and persuaded father to take a place near Aurora.

"This didn't last long, however, for commuting meant four hours a day on the train. The suburban trains were doing well if they made 20 miles an hour in those days. So mother and father finally compromised on Hinsdale and we purchased a ten acre place in this town just at the time when O. J. Stough and William S. Robbins were booming real estate there, one on the west side of the tracks, the other on the east.

"Our good English butler, Napoleon Brierly, succeeded in burning this house down a year before the Chicago fire," Dr. Hall went on, "so we gave up the country—I was sorry because I liked to slide down the hills in the winter—and came back in town."

Home Escapes in Big Fire.

When the great fire of 1871 swept Chicago, "the city of sham and shingles," it carried with it the Halls' early Michigan avenue home but spared their new residence at 1636 Prairie avenue. In fact, it's there today, although title has changed hands several times in the last 30 years.

"I remember even more vividly the fire that swept the Chicago business district three years later, in 1874," Dr. Hall recounted. "It was discovered in a shanty adjoining an oil factory down on Taylor street and would have seemed like a terrible conflagation had we not had the bigger blaze in '71. I remember feeling like Nero when a group of us children in the neighborhood went up on the roof of the William Gold Hibbards' house to watch Chicago burn. Mr. Hibbard gave father a corn cleaver to use in case any riots broke out after the fire."

There was enough country round about Prairie avenue in those days for the Halls to keep two Alderney cows in their stable, in addition to driving horses and carriages. The cream supplied both their own household and that of the Robert Gregorys next door. "Milk from the same cows, day after day, was considered the only healthful supply then," said Dr. Hall. "But it's quite another story today."

Recalls Society Receptions.

Then he told of the receptions when society was festive in its plumes and trains, when Mrs. H. O. Stone pronounced grandly, "I am the mother of eleven and proud of it," and when Caterer Kinsley was mistaken time and time again for a guest. But best of all of Dr. Hall's Prairie avenue recollections is the story of the group of young Thespians that used to rehearse Shakespeare and the Greek tragedies in the Huntington stable on 16th street.

"We were technically correct even to the ermine robes fashioned of canton flannel with splotches of ink for the markings," he related. "And we made such a reputation that Mrs. Pullman called upon us to give 'Macbeth' for the sake of charity in her own little theater. James H. McVicker was there and John Root, the architect, made me up for the title rôle the evening of the performance."

Memories of that night lived on, for 20 years later when Dr. Hall returned with his bride for the Pullman-Lowden wedding, Miss Hattie Pullman stretched out her hand with the greeting, "Hello, Macbeth!"

Fashionable French World Likes Its Sweaters Either Feminine or Boyish

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—Everybody in the fashionable world of France has taken to the knitted sweater this spring. They wear sweater blouses with their sports suit, and knitted waistcoats, too. These smart little garments are either very, very girlish, or go to the other extreme and are whole heartedly boyish.

On the girlish side of the sweater vogue is the lace sweater, knitted or crocheted from the finest of cashmere wool. This sweater usually has little sleeves, about three or four inches long, and the newest models have berthas, too, as shown in the sketch today. The way in which the illustrated model is fitted in at the waistline by ribs and the short peplum help to make it smart. For such sweaters as this, shades like coral, sapphire, pink, lemon yellow, and light green are the most fashionable.

The boyish sweater is generally a sort of waistcoat like the Hermes sweater shown in the lower half of the sketch. This sweater is knitted into diagonal stripes of white, yellow, and brown, and it is fitted and buttoned at the waistline. With it goes a little skull cap of the same striped tricot. The gloves are also knitted and have plain yellow hands and flaring gauntlet cuffs in the brown, white, and yellow stripes of the vest.

Benefit Bridge Tea.

The Mother's Relief Association for the Aged will give a bridge tea at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Illinois Women's Athletic club. All proceeds will go to the organization's philanthropic work. Mrs. Frank Rayner is in charge of reservations.

Society of Authors Sues N. B. C. in Copyright Case

New York, March 8.—[Special.]—The Society of European Stage Authors and Composers, Inc., a New York corporation organized to protect the rights of foreign composers and playwrights in the United States, filed suit yesterday in federal court for $105,000 against the National Broadcasting company, alleging violation of copyright. The suit charges that the National Broadcasting company broadcast excerpts of Franz Lehar's operetta, "Paganini," over its system on June 14, 1931. The defendant, it is alleged, had no right to broadcast the program.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Not for This Department.

"Dear Miss Blake: I like a boy. I am married and can only see him when I go to a dance. How can I get to see him more often? DORA."

I can't devote space to such inexcusable actions.

"Tom said . . my LIPS looked COMMON!"

"IMAGINE! And he was right, too. Common is just what any man would call tawdry painted lips. And my lips did look painted!"

You too may have painted lips! Colors that look well on others often seem cheap and garish on you. And that painted look is one thing men can't overlook.

Don't take chances. Discard your present lipstick. From now on . . . Tangee your lips!

Tangee can't make you look painted. It isn't paint. It changes on your lips to the one color most becoming to you! It brings you new loveliness and charm.

Tangee is permanent—waterproof. Its cold cream base soothes and heals your lips . . . prevents chapping and caking.

Get Tangee at your favorite druggist or cosmetic counter. It costs no more than ordinary lipsticks. For Miracle Make-Up Set, containing purse size samples of Tangee Lipstick and Tangee Rouge—send 10c to The George W. Luft Company, Dept. T1010, 417 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y.

"ENDS THAT PAINTED LOOK"

Cheeks Mustn't Look Painted!

Tangee Rouge changes on the cheeks—just the way Tangee Lipstick does on the lips. It gives the color most becoming to you . . . ends that "painted look". When you get Tangee Lipstick, ask for Tangee Rouge.

A CUPFUL OF HILLS BROS COFFEE PROVES THAT CONTROLLED ROASTING MAKES A FINER FLAVOR

Roasts "a little at a time" instead of in bulk

As the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow . . .

a little at a time

. . . so the uniform flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee is produced by Controlled Roasting—the patented process that roasts evenly, continuously . . . "a little at a time."

No can of Hills Bros. Coffee will ever "go stale." The vacuum can keeps it FRESH ALWAYS!

Roasting, you know, is one of the most important things that takes place in the production of coffee. For it really influences the flavor. Ordinary coffees are roasted in bulk—several hundred pounds at a time. Such big batches make accurate roasting difficult. Sometimes the coffee is underdone; other times overdone. Either affects the flavor.

Instead of roasting in bulk, Hills Bros. roast a little at a time . . . as the coffee flows evenly, continuously through the roasters. It is called Controlled Roasting, invented and patented by Hills Bros. Every berry is done to the same perfect degree. Naturally, a perfect roast results in the perfect flavor of coffee! And it never varies.

Hills Bros. Coffee is vacuum-packed, and can't go stale. The vacuum process of packing coffee is the only method that fully preserves coffee freshness—the air is removed from the can and kept out. It was originated by Hills Bros. over thirty years ago. There is no magic about a vacuum can—it will not make poor coffee good, but it will keep good coffee fresh.

Lift a cup of Hills Bros. Coffee to your lips. Sip that taste-thrilling flavor. Prove to yourself that Controlled Roasting does make better coffee! Order some today by name, and look for the Arab trade-mark on the can.

Gardiner	10	12	12—34

Referee—Cleghorn and Daigneault.

New York, March 8.—(AP)—The New York Rangers all but clinched first place in the American division of the National Hockey league tonight as they defeated the Chicago Blackhawks, 6 to 1.

The victory left the Rangers only one game shy of a certainty to finish ahead of the Hawks—the only team which has a chance to do better than tie them—even if Chicago wins all its remaining games. It was the fifth Ranger triumph in eight games with the Hawks, who have beaten the New Yorkers only once this season.

Cecil Dillon, Dutch Gainer, and Ott Heller, the defense recruit, shared honors. Dillon scored twice, while Gainor and Heller had two assists, although it looked from the side lines as if Gainor should have been credited with the first goal.

Gottselig Thwarts Shutout.

Frank Boucher, Bill Cook, and Butch Keeling scored the other New York goals. Johnny Gottselig got the Hawks' only point, beating Johnny Roach with a long shot early in the third period. The game was fast and rough all the way.

After several minutes of puck stealing and penalties in the first period Gottselig went off for a board check. With two Chicago players holding Desjardins to keep him from taking a pass, Gainor slipped through the defense, spun around, and sent a long shot past Gardiner. Through some oddity of scoring the goal was officially credited to Desjardins with Gainor getting an assist.

A moment later Johnson broke loose and G. Boucher slashed him, drawing a penalty. Brennan caged a long shot, but it was called back because of offside. Gardiner then enabled the Hawks to hold off other Ranger assaults until Boucher returned.

Dillon Scores.

Just after the sides were evened Brennan brought Gardiner to his knees with a shot and Dillon tore in, caught the rebound almost before it hit the ice, and slapped it in.

The Rangers' Cook-Boucher line gave the Chicago defense trouble early in the second period with some excellent passing and then Keeling playing defense, tore down, circled the net, and let fly a shot from an angle. Frank Boucher slipped in and got the rebound for an easy shot before Gardiner could move.

On the next faceoff Bill Cook split the defense, feinted Gardiner out, and scored in just ten seconds of play.

A change of lines slowed things down a bit as defensive tactics came in for a little more attention, but it still was a fast, open game.

Boys Fight a Little.

Gainor revived things again with some clever stick handling and finally passed to Keeling for a goal at the bell. It was a well executed play and a perfect wing shot to the far corner.

The Blackhawks started sending four men down as the third period opened, finally scoring on a shot from the blue line. Johnny Gottselig made it, sending the puck past Roach into the corner before the goalie could make a move. G. Boucher was given an assist on a center zone pass.

After nearly eight minutes of the period had passed, Heller and Dillon got together for the sixth Ranger goal. Heller went through and made the pass, while Dillon came in on Gardiner and beat him with a shot that slid past his finger tips while the goalie was sprawled on the ice.

Ripley and Keeling clashed near the Chicago goal and began a lively fist fight. They were pulled apart and both given major penalties as the game ended.

SHAMROCKS TIE TULSA OILERS' SERIES, 1 TO 0

McFadyen Passes to Buswell for Goal.

Hockey Scores

Tulsa, Okla., March 8.—[Special.]—Buswell's quick shot on Donnie MacFadyen's pass in the middle of the third period enabled the Shamrocks to win the second game of the series with the Tulsa Oilers, 1 to 0, tonight in an American Hockey league contest.

It was one of the wildest hockey games from the standpoint of spills seen here for some time. Referee Moose Jamieson was lenient in handing out penalties and the number of banishments recorded does not begin to indicate the roughness of the play.

Goalies Have Idle Night.

The rival goalies were called upon to make few stops, so effective was the checking at the blue lines. But the stops they did make were all of the hard variety and particularly did young Karakas shine in the opening period.

Twice in the first period the Oilers attacked with four men when the Shamrocks found themselves minus a man as the result of a penalty. Fierce checking, however, turned them back without a score.

It appeared as if the game would end in a scoreless deadlock until Buswell scored. He teamed with MacFadyen and Headley on a sortie down the ice and took the former's pass inside the blue line, pivoted and sent a short shot toward the net which McCusker was unable to bat down.

Tulsa Battles for Tie.

From then on Tulsa tried desperately to score, and it was a tired Shamrock sextet that finally skated off the ice winner. Hansen nearly counted for the Oilers in the last 30 seconds when he took the puck deep in his own ice and carried it the entire length of the rink, only to have Karakas spoil his effort.

KEEP GORMAN AS FRESHMAN COACH AT PRINCETON

Princeton, N. J., March 8.—[Special.]—Following a conference between officials of Princeton university and Fritz Crisler, newly appointed head football coach, John Gorman, '23, of Monmouth Junction, N. J., was reappointed head freshman coach today.

Gorman has been coaching the freshman football and baseball teams for the last two years, replacing R. B. Dinsmore, '25. Gorman played quarter back for Princeton when it defeated Chicago, 21 to 18, in 1922.

Ray Tramblie Knocks Out Chastain in Third

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 8.—(AP)—Ray Tramblie, 163, of Chicago, spotted Clyde Chastain of Dallas, Tex., eight pounds and knocked him out in the third of their 10 round fight here tonight.

Hornsby Will Give Grimes Chance to Make Good Today

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Avalon, Cal., March 8.—Tomorrow marks the final full day of work in the Cub camp and in keeping with the occasion Manager Rogers Hornsby is planning an elaborate program. Burleigh Grimes, hero of last fall's world series, will be asked to do some pitching in a Regular vs. Recruit game. Burleigh thus far has refrained from serious labor because of respect for his well aged arm, but Hornsby believes he's now at the stage where no harm will result.

Grimes will not be the only veteran singled out tomorrow for a light performance. Charley Root, Bob Smith, Guy Bush and possibly Pat Malone will receive some attention. Except for Malone, none of them has cut loose this spring. These are the five men who will have to carry the load for the Cubs this summer, so you can't blame Hornsby for wanting to get them started on the final phase of their conditioning. The younger pitchers have already revealed their actual worth.

Player Limit Stickler.

The drill today was just another one of those routine affairs. The pitchers, young and old alike, spent another hour on the important matter of fielding bunts and covering first base. This was followed by a lengthy batting practice in which Lon Warneke and Johnny Welch did most of the pitching. It is gradually becoming evident that Hornsby has made up his mind about retaining both these fellows. That means only one pitching job remains open and a southpaw will get it. Of course, there still is a chance Lyle Tinning, the star right hander from the Des Moines club, will not be sent away for another year's experience.

The new limit of 23 players after June 15 is going to make it difficult for Hornsby to reach final decisions in the various departments. Other managers will be similarly puzzled. Hornsby's original idea was to keep three catchers, eight pitchers, seven infielders, including himself, and five outfielders. He might alter this by restricting himself to two catchers so as to make room for a ninth pitcher. Two catchers would be sufficient provided a third could be planted in a nearby minor league under a 24 hour recall arrangement. However, by June 15 Hornsby may learn that he hasn't more than eight hurlers worth retaining.

Ready to Pitch

BURLEIGH GRIMES. CHARLIE ROOT.

Cubs to Get Hafey?

The older pitchers are already beginning to talk about the coveted opening day assignment. It is a matter of pride with them. Just now it could be any one of the five veterans, but eventually Charley Root probably will be the choice. When the Cincinnati Reds see him warming up they usually lay down their bats and start thinking about dinner. Besides, Root is an Ohio boy and all the folks in Middleton will drive down to the Rhineland to see him work.

Although Thursday is get-away day here, Hornsby intends to include something more exciting than trunk packing in the daily program. He will have the men in uniform for about an hour in the morning, and practically all of the time will be devoted to hitting against pitchers able to throw fancy items.

A report reached camp today that Chick Hafey, the holdout Cardinal who lives in California, expected to be traded to the Cubs. All that Hornsby said about this was that he hoped it was true.

SARATOGA STAKE ENTRIES DECLINE; SPRINTS FAVORED

New York, March 8.—[Special.]—Twenty-five late closing stakes of the Saratoga association to be run during the five week meeting at Saratoga Springs in August have attracted 2,385 entries from 134 owners, Victor E. Schaumburg, racing secretary, announced today. This is approximately 13 per cent less than the 2,731 of a year ago. The decrease is most noticeable in the handicaps of the longer distances, a fact that seems to emphasize American preference for sprints.

Mrs. Payne Whitney has entered Twenty Grand, 3 year old champion of 1931. Top Flight, Mate, Equipoise, and Jamestown will be back as 4 year olds to give battle to Twenty Grand.

AMERICAN PIN CONGRESS OPENS 32D ANNUAL MEET

Detroit, Mich., March 8.—[Special.]—The 32d annual American Bowling congress tournament opened on 32 alleys at the fair grounds Coliseum here tonight. The meet will continue for six weeks.

Thirty-two Detroit teams were the first on the alleys, starting the tournament immediately after the ceremonies in which Gov. Wilbur M. Brucker and Mayor Frank Murphy took part.

There's still a chance to see Golden Gloves finals

More than 22,000 will be in the Stadium tonight cheering boys of Chicagoland on to Golden Gloves titles. Join the crowd and see Chicago's greatest boxing show.

Tickets are $1 and $2. They may be purchased until 5 o'clock at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street, 1101 East 63d street, 4152 West Madison street, or in the Tribune Tower lobby.

Here Are Best Routes to Stadium, Motorists.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Moving a capacity crowd from all parts of Chicago and surrounding territory into the Stadium tonight for the finals of THE TRIBUNE'S fifth annual Golden Gloves tournament will be no small job. So folks holding tickets are urged to start early for the scene of the battles.

Every facility to speed up traffic will be employed. Extra surface cars will be operated, extra trains will be run over the elevated lines, and automobile traffic will be handled by a special detail of police.

But remember the first bout starts at 7:45 o'clock and that the opening ceremonies will begin a few minutes earlier, so don't linger too long at the dinner table or you will miss part of the program.

Out of Town Fans Arrive.

Visitors from all parts of Chicagoland began to arrive yesterday and last night. Twenty out of the 32 boys who are to fight for the championships tonight come from points outside of Chicago. So the out of town Golden Gloves fans naturally number many more than at any former tournament.

The out of town rooters made their presence known in many parts of the loop last night, and most of them will be among the early arrivals at the Stadium. They have traveled to Chicago to see the boys from their own home towns perform, and they do not fancy arriving too late to see their heroes go into action.

Rockford Eyes Title.

The bout which caused more discussion than any other was the one which may bring together Johnny Phagan, the Chicago Negro welterweight, and Billy Celebron of Rockford.

Followers of the Rockford team believe that if Celebron can whip Phagan the Rockford team will carry away the team championship. If Rockford should win the trophy it will be the first time it has been captured by an out of town team.

Street cars on the Madison street lines will stop at gate No. 2, which is the main entrance on the Madison street side of the Stadium. Buses on the Washington street line will stop directly in front of gate No. 5 which is the main entrance on the Warren avenue side.

Attention Motorists.

The best automobile route from the northwest side is Western avenue to Warren, then down Warren to the Stadium. Autoists from the north side and from along Lake Shore drive should take Ashland avenue to Washington street, then go west to Lincoln street, south on Lincoln to Warren, and east on Warren, which goes direct to the Stadium doors.

Washington and Jackson boulevards are the best routes from the west side. South side auto parties can either take Western to Warren and then to the Stadium or go through the loop and west on Washington or Jackson boulevards.

Every effort will be made to speed the traffic away from the Stadium after the show. Persons in any part of Chicago should be home in time for some beauty sleep—that is if they want to get some beauty sleep.

Burke and Golden Reach Final of Golf Tourney

Miami, Fla., March 8.—[Special.]—Billy Burke, National Open champion, and Johnny Golden, Noroton, Conn., advanced to the finals in the international four ball golf tournament here today by defeating Harry Hampton of Chicago and Neil McIntyre, Indianapolis, 2 and 1.

Burke and Golden will meet Tommy Armour, British open champion, and Ed Dudley of Concordville, Pa., in the final tomorrow. Armour and Dudley won their semi-final match from Gene Sarazen and Johnny Farrell, 3 and 2.

Looking Over Golden Gloves Squad from Reviewing Stand

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[LIST OF FIGHTERS ON PAGE 16.]

Who are these boys who fight tonight for Golden Gloves?

There's Leo Rodak from Chicago's south side. Probably Rodak is the most widely known of the 32 who will participate in the finals at the Stadium. As a 112 pound amateur, with practically no experience, Rodak won Golden Gloves last year. He defeated the champion of New York and then whipped the best flyweight in France for international honors. Tonight Rodak, fighting in the bantamweight division, seeks a second title.

Max Marek, another Chicagoan, middleweight champion of the Catholic Youth organization, seeks the 175 pound championship. Marek, former full back on Lindblom's High school eleven, is one of the best big boys since the days of Dave Maier's competition in Golden Gloves.

Adam Trying Again.

Adam Smith? You've heard of the baker boy from Rockford. This is Adam's third year in the final tournament. Twice he has failed to win a championship, although he has won many other honors. Tonight Smith believes he will prove himself the best heavyweight in Chicagoland.

Twenty of the contestants are from outside of Chicago. Grand Rapids, Mich., sends Stanley Krannenberg, its best lightweight, while Walter Karpinski bars Adam Smith's path to a heavyweight championship. He's the lad who knocked out Jack Kranz, 1931 light heavyweight champion, with one punch.

Jimmy's Three Rivals.

Joe Roman, Joliet veteran, Joe Romano, the slugging featherweight from Rockford, and Geno Salvatore of Streator are Jimmy's rivals tonight.

Speaking of battles, Rodak will have a tussle with John Ginter from Chicago's north side before he can say he is the second lad in five years who won two titles.

And Danny Neenan of Chicago is ready for Grand Rapids' Krannenberg.

Welterweights! There are four of the best on tonight's card. Johnny Phagan, intercity winner last year, will fight it out with Billy Celebron of Rockford. If the luck of the draw brings these huskies together, watch for the fireworks. Then don't forget Johnny Kaktus of Streator and William Treest of Chicago, who also have their eyes on the Golden Gloves 147 pound championship.

Johnny Nate, Kenny Jackson, Al Soukup and Albert De Shepherd are the quartet in the flyweight division. Nate is from South Bend, Ind., Jackson is from Peoria, and De Shepherd from Rockford. Soukup carries Chicago's colors.

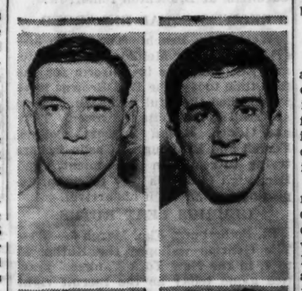
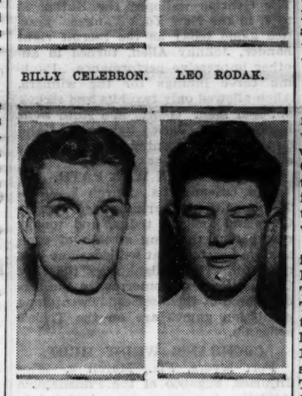
Champions?



BILLY CELEBRON. LEO RODAK.



JOHNNY KAKTUS. HENRY ROTHIER.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

DINNER COATS.

FRIEND ARCH: Well Arch, what is this bizness about wearing dinner coats at the Golden Gloves finals at the Stadium? French Lane said you wanted all members of the staff to put on the dog for this night. I don't think French would spoof me although he does spring some practical jokes besides those tips he gives us on the ponies.

So if you want me to wear a dinner coat I'll go up in the attic and look for it. But I can't wear an opera hat, Arch. I had one once that I bought for a wedding, but the better half dusted it off and gave it to a rummage sale for the Infant welfare so I'll have to wear a gray felt hat. Will that be all right? If my dress shirt isn't laundered, I'll get another one—I may need it some time other than at Golden Gloves.

Of course, in a way, I think you're right. Remember how embarrassed we were three years ago in New York when all the New York News fellows wore their tuxes to the bouts and we had just our working suits? And their boxers won two decisions we didn't think they should have won and we thought maybe it was because we didn't wear formal togs? This time, however, they're all Chicagoland boys so I don't see what difference it makes about the decisions, but as long as you want it I'll shoe horn myself into the dinner coat which fits more snugly around the waist line than it did 15 or 20 years ago.

I don't like to mention such matters, but the suit will have to be pressed. I never put valet service—which means pressing—on my hotel expense accounts, but this time the pressing is really to uphold the dignity of our staff. Should I put it on my expense account or pay it myself? It will cost either 75 cents or $1—I've forgotten which, it's been so long, for evening suits.

If it's just the same, however, I'd rather not wear a posey in my lapel. It's not becoming to my unusual type of beauty. Otherwise, I'll try to conform to the conventional. See you at the Stadium. Regards.

Harvey T. Woodruff.

CHAMPIONSHIP TRAIL ENDS IN STADIUM RING

2,000 Seats Remain for 24 Battles.

Things to Know

FOLLOWING are the facts concerning the Golden Gloves bouts tonight:

Place—Chicago Stadium, 1800 West Madison street.

Time—7:45 tonight.

Contestants—Thirty-two amateur boxers, survivors in a field of 3,000.

Boxers—Report this afternoon at the Stadium between 4 and 6 o'clock for physical examinations and to be weighed.

Prizes—Eight solid gold miniature boxing gloves each set with a diamond for the champions; eight silver gloves each set with an emerald for the runners-up; eight bronze gloves each set with a ruby for alternates on intercity team; silver trophy for team championship.

Tickets—Good $2 and $1 tickets may be purchased at The Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street, 1101 East 63d street, and 4152 West Madison, and at Tribune Tower lobby until 5 o'clock. Tickets on sale at Madison street box office of Stadium at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

BY ARCH WARD.

Thirty-two young men, survivors of a field of 3,000, tonight come to the end of the longest and rockiest trail in amateur boxing. They will battle for Golden Gloves before a crowd that is expected to fill every seat in Chicago Stadium, the world's largest boxing arena.

The first bout goes on at 7:45. Two minutes previous the Stadium will be darkened while spotlights are centered on the ring. Four world war veterans will raise the flag, while Miss Margery Maxwell of the Chicago Civic opera and Ravinia opera, accompanied by the Stadium's mammoth organ, sings "The Star Spangled Banner."

24 Bouts on Program.

From then until 11:30 there will be no letup in action. Twenty-four bouts will be required to pick the team that will fight New York in Madison Square Garden, March 28. It is probable that the eight champions will carry on to international fame, for they will meet the strongest group Germany can develop at Soldiers' field July 26.

You still have a chance to see boxing's greatest show, even though you haven't purchased tickets in advance. There are nearly 2,000 unsold seats. They will be on sale until 5 o'clock this afternoon at THE TRIBUNE'S Public Service office, 1 South Dearborn; 1101 East 63d street, 4152 West Madison street, and the lobby of Tribune Tower. They also will be on sale at Chicago Stadium from 1 o'clock until the supply is exhausted.

They're from All Chicagoland.

The Golden Gloves meet has become a unique institution. From all corners of Chicagoland, an area embracing Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana, Iowa, and Michigan, come hundreds of fans, most of them civic leaders, to bend a reverential knee before the knuckles of their favorite Neanderthalers.

The tournament is rich in blustery romance and truculent tradition. Most of the champions and runners-up have been colorful figures—Don Gonzales, with his slender build and tremendous hitting power; Adam Smith, whose bulging waistline serves as a shock absorber for body punches; Barney Ross, with his nimble legs and terrific wallops; Dave Maier, a contestant in one of the first meets who next week fights for the light heavyweight championship of the world, and countless others.

These boys have written enduring chapters in the history of a primitive sport, a sport that in some incongruous manner has fired the imagination of a civilized people beyond almost any other form of competitive athletics. Against this background the Rodaks, the Neenans and the Mareks will fight tonight with a color and glamor that set them apart from other figures in sport.

Bring Tall But True Tales.

This is a night folks will be talking about for another year. The tales they will tell will be tall but not exaggerated. They couldn't be. Tonight will prove once and for all who can take it and who can give it. The courage of the contestants is not on trial. Nobody with a faint heart could have reached this stage of the stiffest competition boxing has known.

For the first time in Golden Gloves, out of town boxers outnumber Chicago's entrants. Twenty of the 32 boys who battled their way through the Tournament of Champions last week are from cities outside the metropolitan district.

An out of town team also has a chance for the first time to win the team trophy, which goes for maximum points. Five of the eight fighters representing the Rockford, Ill., Morning Star are still in the tournament. The Catholic Youth organization of Chicago also has five.

The first part of the program will be made up of 16 semi-final bouts, pairings are made by lot, and two of the strongest boys in each division may clash in the opening round. The semi-final bouts will be three two minute rounds. The eight championship matches will be three three minute rounds.

Results of the bouts will be broadcast by W-G-N from THE TRIBUNE sports department at intervals during the show.

SOX ALL SET FOR BASEBALL UNTIL NORTHER HOWLS

Cold Spoils Everything for Authors.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

San Antonio, Tex., March 8.—You might have known that bad weather would sweep in and halt that authors' benefit game that Manager Lew Fonseca of the Chicago White Sox promised for today. A large norther is with us here in San Antonio, ladies and gentlemen, and they do say that tonight they are going to have their first snow since 1929.

Instead of playing their first baseball game of the year, the White Sox went over to the Y. M. C. A. to play around with a basketball or a dumbbell or maybe a trapeze. Whether or not the forecast of snow comes through tonight, the weather schedule calls for two more days of near-freezing weather and it is probable that tomorrow and Thursday the Sox will dash over to the gym to see who can chin himself the most times. This will be interesting, and we promise to flash you the result.

Just One of Those Things.

Of course, there is no one to blame for the conditions here. You can't blame the Sox for coming to San Antonio to train, for the place for years has produced the best training climate available anywhere. And this winter, up till the arrival of the Sox, was winning a reputation for being the best on record.

If there had been any idea that there was to be a spell of ornery northers, it is probable that more of the time would have been spent outdoors during the perfect days at Mineral Wells, 300 miles north of here. But at that time no one could foresee a blizzardly environment, so good sunshine was wasted while the lads romped in their nakedness about their luxurious bathhouse.

The frigidity so far has not destroyed the fine morale of the fellows, all of whom are well dressed men who own overcoats. The only danger is that the boys will misplace their baseball gloves, and you can see how much confusion that would cause eventually.

Will Use Park Afternoons.

By the time the Sox are able to resume outdoor work, the San Antonio Indians will be in possession of their own park, the emergency training base of the Sox. For a time President Homer Hammond of the Indians showed signs of feeling a little hurt about the way the Sox had high hatted his layout until necessity drove them to the premises. Mr. Hammond had said frankly that the White Sox couldn't hang around if they were going to get in the way of his Indians.

Since his first announcement, however, Mr. Hammond has relented somewhat and a schedule has been doped out whereby the Indians are to use their park till 1 o'clock each day. The Sox will be permitted to exercise from 1 till 4 o'clock, weather permitting.

POSER OFF TO CAMP

Madison, Wis., March 8.—[Special.]—John F. [Bobby] Poser, University of Wisconsin basketball and baseball star, left tonight for the Chicago White Sox training camp at San Antonio, Tex. Poser, a pitcher and outfielder on the Badger nine for the last two seasons, signed a contract with the Sox last night.

Poser was ruled ineligible for further participation in Wisconsin athletics in February, being shy one-twentieth of a grade point. He was on the verge of signing with the Minneapolis club of the American Association when he received a telephone call from Secretary Harry Grabiner of the Sox offering him a one year contract. Poser received a bonus for signing with the Sox, and there is a stipulation in the contract which prohibits his sale to a league smaller than class AA.

Four Notre Dame Stars End Careers Against Butler

Notre Dame, Ind., March 8.—[Special.]—A double significance marks Notre Dame's basketball game with Butler here Thursday night. It will be the last game on the Irish schedule and the last in Notre Dame uniform for four regulars. They are Capt. Norb Crowe, guard; Ray De Cook and Bill Newbold, forwards, and Tommy Burns, guard.

Cambridge, Oxford Oarsmen Test Power

LONDON, March 8.—(AP)—The Cambridge and Oxford crews, which meet in their historic race on the Thames March 19, each put in an hour of stiff practice on the flood tide today. Both will have another trial Saturday, after which they will leave for the south coast until March 15.

JIM BOTTOMLEY LINES OUT HITS IN CARD DRILL

Bradenton, Fla., March 8.—(AP)—Jim Bottomley gave a flash of his batting punch at the Cardinal workout here today. He put so much steam behind his line drives Manager Gabby Street warned him not to overdo it.

Frankie Frisch, who spent his second day in camp, found that he has more weight to take off than in previous years. In making a trip to Japan with the baseball tourists and going around the world, he missed the skating and hunting which kept him in condition in other winters.

REDS SAME AS EVER.

Tampa, Fla., March 8.—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds, known as weak batters, are starting the new season right where they left off last year. The regulars got only two hits in a six inning intracamp game today and only three safeties in a nine inning contest against a local amateur team Sunday. The regulars were beaten today, 4 to 1, by the rookies.

Si Johnson, Owen Carroll and Al Eckert are scheduled to pitch for three innings each against the St. Louis Cardinals at Bradenton tomorrow.

BROWNS' SQUAD ENLARGED.

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 8.—(AP)—With Oscar Melillo, Fred Schulte, and Eddie Grimes in uniform for the first time today, the 1932 Browns have approached their full strength. There are still six holdouts, however. They are Goslin, Kress, Stewart, Collins, Ferrell and Bengough. Goslin is here trying to reach an agreement, and Bengough is on his way to camp, expecting to sign upon his arrival.

GEHRIGS BEAT RUTHS.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 8.—(AP)—The Gehrigs walloped the Ruths, 11 to 2, in the New York Yankees' practice game today as the recruit right hander, Johnny Allen, turned in another impressive performance. Pitching three innings for the winners, Allen allowed only two hits and struck out four men. Gehrig and Ruth went hitless, but Jack Saltzgaver and George Selkirk contributed three hits apiece.

INDIANS ON WAR PATH.

New Orleans, La., March 8.—(AP)—The conditioning grind ended for the Cleveland Indians today, and tomorrow begins the long stretch of competitive baseball that will continue into next fall. The Indians meet the New Orleans Pelicans tomorrow in the second game of their series. Twenty-one exhibition games are on the Tribe's schedule.

COCHRAN'S WRIST HURT.

Fort Myers, Fla., March 8.—(AP)—Injuries, bugaboo of the Philadelphia Athletics last year, were reported in camp today with Catcher Mickey Cochran No. 1 on the list. Mickey reported with a badly sprained left wrist, sustained in yesterday's game with the Cardinals. Ed Rommel also has a bad wrist. Dib Williams, the shortstop, had some trouble with his arm and Manager Connie Mack cautioned him to go easy with it today.

ALL RED SOX IN CAMP.

Savannah, Ga., March 8.—(AP)—Marty McManus, veteran infielder, reported today to complete the Boston Red Sox training squad. He was a bit too stout to get into his old uniform and Manager Shano Collins gave him a few days to thin out.

PHILS FALL IN LINE.

Winter Haven, Fla., March 8.—(AP)—It was learned today that Barney Friberg, last of the Phillies' holdout brigade, had signed up and Dick Bartell, shortstop, was on his way southward. Friberg, utility outfielder, mailed his signed contract to President Louis Ruch and has left his home in Swampscott, Mass., for the training camp.

BRAVES WORK AT PLATE.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 8.—(AP)—Manager Bill McKechnie promised his Boston Braves a batting drill today and he gave it to them. Every pitcher was pressed into service and the happy batters whacked away at the ball until their arms tired.

Big Ten Track Athletes Threaten Indoor Records

Assault of the Big Ten track and field stars is expected to produce several new records in the championship meet at the University of Chicago fieldhouse Friday and Saturday. The clay track in the new building is called the fastest in the conference by track coaches whose teams have competed on the Midway this season.

The 60 yard dash mark of :06 2-10 may be equaled this week, although the best time made so far this season is one-tenth of a second slower. Harold Thompson and Walter Haas of Minnesota and Donald Renwick of Michigan are consistent :06 3-10 men. The record is shared by George Simpson, Ohio; J. A. Timm, Illinois, and Eddie Tolan, Michigan.

Jack Keller of Ohio State is a good enough hurdler to threaten Lee Sentman's record of :07 4-10 in the 60 yard high hurdles. Capt. George Saling of Iowa did :07 4-10 in the Northwestern meeting, breaking a ten year old Iowa record. Curves on the Maroon track are too sharp for ideal conditions in the 440, but when Capt. Edwin Russell of Michigan and Ivan Fuqua of Indiana are matched the four year old mark of :50 1-10 is likely to go. Russell breezed a :50 8-10 in the recent dual meet at Chicago.

Henry Brocksmith, Indiana, favorite in the mile run, did an even 4:15, the fastest indoor mile the conference has known, in the meet last week. Michigan's mile relay team, which won the race last year, has all four men back this year. Russell, Turner, Echnovich and Ben Glading, should beat Iowa's 3:24 2-10 mark. The Wolverines did 4:22 9-10 last week in the triangular meet with Illinois and Ohio.

Big Ten Records

WESTERN CONFERENCE indoor track records follow:

60 YARD DASH—:06 2-10; G. S. Simpson, Ohio State, 1929 and 1930; J. A. Timm, Illinois, 1929; E. Tolan, Michigan, 1931.

880 YARD RUN—1:55 7-10; O. Martin, Purdue, 1930.

ONE MILE RUN—4:21 6-10; D. Letts, Chicago, 1931.

TWO MILE RUN—9:26 4-10; D. A. Abbott, Illinois, 1929; V. Chapman, Wisconsin, 1926.

ONE MILE RELAY—3:24 2-10; Iowa [V. W. Stevenson, R. I. Stamats, G. H. Baird, F. J. Cuhel], 1928.

HIGH JUMP—6 feet 5 inches; C. McGinnes, Wisconsin, 1927.

LONDOS SIGNS TO MEET CALZA ON COLISEUM MAT

Promoter Doc Krone announced yesterday that Londos has signed on that date against George Calza, 220 pound Italian challenger.

Londos at present is campaigning in California, where he has scored three straight victories, his last one being over Bonnie Muir of Australia.

In his last appearance here Londos scored two consecutive falls over Rudy Dusek. Calza has been a frequent performer on local cards for the last year.

The two met at New York several months ago, George staying with the champion for more than an hour. They will go to a finish in this match.

FREE SOUVENIR PROGRAMS TELL OF GLOVES BOXERS

An eight page souvenir program of tonight's Golden Glove finals will be distributed by THE TRIBUNE at the Chicago Stadium tonight. It contains pictures and a brief sketch of each of the 32 boxers who are to perform in the finals, and it will be free to all patrons in the big crowd. The program will be distributed throughout the Stadium.

CANADIENS GIVE AMERICANS 6-1 BEATING ON ICE

MONTREAL, Que., March 8.—(AP)—The world champion Montreal Canadiens swamped the New York Americans under a 6 to 1 count in a National Hockey league game here tonight.

The victory enabled the Canadiens to strengthen their hold on first place in the International group and, at the same time, reduced the Americans' chances of finishing in a playoff berth.

After a scoreless first period the Canadiens rushed four goals across in the second period, Pete Lepine getting two of them. The Canadiens scored twice more in the third period before Shields saved the Americans from a shutout, 12 seconds before the end of the game.

FALCONS LOSE, 2-0.

Boston, Mass., March 8.—(AP)—The Boston Bruins, with a playoff berth probably hinging on their play this week, got off to a great start tonight by outbattling the Detroit Falcons, 2 to 0, in a rough National Hockey league contest.

The Falcons resisted stubbornly until late in the final period, although they were without the services of their outstanding scorer, Ebbie Goodfellow, for 14 of the 60 minutes on penalties.

Chapman opened the scoring in the first period. Jerwa added the other Boston tally late in the second, taking a long forward pass from Oliver.

COCHRAN WINS 2 GAMES TO LEAD 3 CUSHION MEET

Welker Cochran took the lead in the all-star three cushion billiard tournament by winning two games at Mussey's Wabash avenue room yesterday. He defeated Willie Hoppe, 40 to 35, in 45 innings, and beat Jay N. Bozeman, 40 to 33 in 47 innings. Allen Hall won from Johnny Layton, 40 to 33, in 45 innings. Layton defeated Bozeman, 40 to 25, in 33 innings.

Layton and Hoppe will meet this afternoon, Bozeman vs. Hall, Cochran vs. Hall and Hoppe vs. Bozeman are other games on today's program.

WALKER, JONES AGREE TO BOUTS IN STADIUM RING

Matchmaker Nate Lewis of the Chicago Stadium yesterday announced that Gorilla Jones, middleweight champion, and Mickey Walker, heavyweight contender, have agreed to fight at the Stadium.

According to Lewis' plan, Walker will meet the winner of the Dave Maier-George Nichols world's light heavyweight championship bout of March 18 and Jones will fight the victor of the Ben Jeby-Frankie Battaglia bout.

RUPPERTS PLAY MONDAY.

The Ruppert All Stars will meet Kenosha, Wis., indoor baseball team at the Rainbo fronton next Monday night. There will be two other games.

4 More Teams Are Invited to Loyola Meet

Invitations to four more leading Catholic high school teams and tentative bids to nine others yesterday practically completed the bracket for the national championship meet to be held at Loyola university starting next Wednesday night.

The new teams in the meet are Central Catholic of Fort Wayne, Ind., and Catholic High school of Washington, Ind., semi-finalists in the Hoosier state meet; St. Bonaventure High school, Sturtevant, Wis., runner-up in the Wisconsin state meet, and Catholic High school of Little Rock, Ark.

The two Hoosier teams, both of whom went as far as the quarter-finals last season, are expected to be as powerful this year. Fort Wayne has won 19 and lost five, while the Washington quintet has won 20 and lost five.

HIGH GOAL POLO TEAMS MEET IN SATURDAY GAME

Two of the highest goal teams in the Metropolitan Indoor Polo league will meet Saturday night in the fourth round of the tournament at the 124th Field Artillery armory, which will decide three qualifiers to play in the world's championship tournament in New York in April. They are the Chicago Riding club and the 6th corps area squads, both 14 goal teams.

Capt. Maxwell Corpenning, who rates six goals, leads the Chicago Riding club team, while Capt. C. A. Wilkinson, famous army player, leads the 6th corps area. Capt. Wilkinson, a member of the U. S. army team when it defeated the Argentine team in an international tournament last year, is a five goal indoor player.

ST. MEL DEFEATS ST. PATRICK IN PLAYOFF, 27 TO 22

Captures North Section Catholic Title.

Prep Games Today

CATHOLIC LEAGUE.

Joliet vs. Leo at Loloya gymnasium [heavies].

St. Mel vs. De Paul at Fenwick gymnasium [lights].

St. Mel, 1931 Chicago Catholic High School league champion, won the north section title last night by defeating St. Patrick, 27 to 22, in a playoff at Loyola university. The victory qualified St. Mel for the national Catholic tournament on the same court next week and also to play the winner of tonight's Leo-Joliet game for the league title.

Jerry Crowley led St. Mel to victory in the last two minutes when he sank a field goal to give the champions a 23 to 22 lead. Then Allen clinched the triumph by scoring two goals in quick succession.

Mount Carmel Wins.

St. Mel held a 14 to 10 advantage at the end of the first half, but St Patrick had gone into the lead at the third period, 22 to 20. St. Patrick did not score in the last quarter.

The lightweight championship in the south section was won by Mount Carmel, which defeated St. Philip, 21 to 17, at St. Rita gymnasium yesterday. Gallagher led the Mount Carmel attack with eight points. Mount Carmel led at half time, 13 to 10.

Leo Meets Joliet.

Mount Carmel's opponent in the final game for the league lightweight title will be determined tonight when De Paul and St. Mel meet at Fenwick High school in Oak Park. The Leo-Joliet game at Loyola gym will decide the south division heavyweight title.

RAN REPLACES PETROLLE AS FOE FOR BATTALINO

New York, March 8.—(AP)—Eddie Ran, Polish welterweight, tonight was selected to replace Billy Petrolle in a 12 round bout with Christopher [Bat] Battalino at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

The bout will be at catchweights with Ran scaling about 147 pounds. Battalino, featherweight champion only a couple of months ago, will come in around 142 pounds.

Petrolle, who has been training hard here for a week for the Battalino match, turned up with a stiff neck today and informed Garden officials he would not be able to appear. The Garden at first decided to postpone the battle until March 23, but determined to go through with the show when it became known that Ran was available.

The Polish slugger knocked out Marty Goldman of New York in 45 seconds at the St. Nicholas arena here last night and in his last Garden appearance knocked out Billy Townsend of Vancouver in two rounds.

Battalino, since he quit the featherweight throne, has jumped two divisions. He lingered among the lightweights long enough to knock out Al Singer and Bill Shaw. His match with Ran will be his first among the welterweights.

GOPHERS, ILLINI MENACE MAROON GYM SUPREMACY

Chicago's perennial supremacy in gymnastics is threatened this week in the conference championship meet at Bartlett gymnasium. Although Coach Dan Hoffer of the Maroon team had two of the best men of his career in Capt. Everett Olson and George Wrighte, the Chicago team has lost two dual meets to Minnesota and to Illinois. Minnesota with a well balanced squad is the favorite in the meet, with Chicago and Illinois ranking evenly.

Six teams are entered in both gymnastics and fencing. The competing gymnastic teams are Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio, and Chicago. The fencing teams are Illinois, Michigan, Northwestern, Ohio, Purdue, and Chicago.

Vince Hambright K. O.'s Tommy Rizzo in 2d Round

U. S. Golfers Lead British, 16-4, in Bermuda Match

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CASTLE HARBOR, Bermuda, March 8.— [Special.] —The United States golf team took a lead of 16 to 4 over the British-Bermuda squad in the international tournament here today. Eddie Held, George Voigt, P. Miller Jones, Leonard Martin, Clive Alvord, Charles Shelton, and George Hackl turned in the American triumphs in today's matches.

Voigt defeated Cyril Tolley, former British open champion, and captain of the British-Bermuda squad. The score was 1 up. Voigt won the match when Tolley lost his ball on the 18th hole. The results follow:

Voigt beat Cyril Tolley, 1 up.
Martin beat Arthur Gosling, 3 and 2.
Jones beat Phil Farley, 1 up.
Alvord beat James Fearman, 4 and 3.
Held beat Nicol Thompson Jr., 1 up.
Hackl beat Hal Butterfield, 5 and 3.
Shelton beat Frank Thompson, 3 and 2.

1,500,000 SOVIET WOMEN ASKED TO GO TO WORK

Russia Maps Scheme to Speed Up Industry.

MOSCOW, March 8.—(AP)—Soviet Russia seized upon international woman's day today to issue a call for 1,500,000 more women in industry in 1932, to augment the 6,000,000 already engaged in industrial activity.

The government campaign to draw women from what it calls "domestic drudgery" into "productive activity" was intensified through the newspapers, which pointed out that more than one-third of all the workers in the soviet union were women.

The newspapers also took occasion to point out that more than 300,000 women are members of various soviet executive committees and that 15 per cent of the entire membership of the soviet party was women. More than 1,050,000 girls are members of the young communists' organization.

Wives of Officials Work.

It was pointed out that wives of the leaders of the Russian states are turning increasingly to occupations which heretofore had been reserved for men.

Mme. Katerina Ivanovan Kalinin, wife of the president of the soviet union, at the age of 48 is running a huge communist grain farm near Novo-Sibirsk, Siberia. There are dozens of other examples before Russian women to demonstrate their equality with men in every field.

Calls for Action Against War.

The government has in the past frequently called attention to the shortage of labor to carry out the first five year plan, and now that the second five year plan has been announced, with a greater emphasis on production and betterment of the material condition of the masses, woman's opportunity is stressed.

The international woman's day was commemorated with a half holiday for all the women workers in the nation.

The press called upon working women "all over the world" to mobilize against "the new war and for the defense of the soviet union." It was declared that the day coincided with successes of socialism in the U. S. S. R., but that the soviet union also was menaced by "intensive imperialistic war preparations."

9 MILLION SOVIET PEASANTS FOUND FACING FAMINE

Rush Special Grain Trains to Area.

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, March 8.—Commissar of Agriculture Jakovleff has left Moscow for the lower Volga districts, accompanied by a special gaypayou [secret police] commission with full powers to restore order in the spring sowing campaign. A famine affecting 9,000,000 inhabitants in the region from Saratov across the Caucasus looms.

Hunger is also reported widespread in Kazakstan in the middle Volga, the Ural districts, and even in West Siberia, all important grain producing areas. Famine reports from these districts began to arrive in Moscow in December, but were discounted by the grain trust, which claimed that collectivized farms possessed stores of hidden grain.

Peasants Eat Seed Grain.

In January, when local authorities began to make urgent appeals for grain for spring sowing, Moscow ordered an investigation, which revealed that peasants in many districts had eaten seed grain and confirmed reports of famine.

A special meeting of the central committee of the communist party was held to discuss the situation and an emergency decree was passed, assigning 1,000,000 tons from the government's "iron fund." Of this amount, 350,000 tons will be distributed among individual farmers and the remainder on the collectivized farms. The commissariat of communications has issued orders giving grain trains right of way. Sleds and caravans are also being organized to carry grain to distant districts.

According to the government's program, supplies of grain for spring sowing should have been prepared by Feb. 15. The Moscow Izvestia insists that desperate efforts are necessary to insure the fulfillment of the sowing campaign in the famine districts, since even the Ukraine has completed only one-fourth of the scheduled program.

Halt Grain Exports.

The possibility of further grain exports is excluded until after the next harvest, and stores remaining in elevators at Black sea ports will immediately be transported back inland.

Other reports published by the soviet press state that a dangerous attitude has developed among peasants on collectivized farms, who are apathetic toward the government's production plans. Many are refusing to work until supplied with manufactures promised for grain delivered last year.

Izvestia gives another reason why a short crop may be expected this year, charging that grain was indiscriminately mixed at collection points and that varieties ripening three weeks before others will be sown together, complicating the harvest.

Germany Favors Trading of Merchants with Russia

BERLIN, March 8.—(AP)—The government through the reichsbank today extended a credit of 120,000,000 marks [$33,440,000] to trades and industries for discounting bills of exchange in the hands of Germans for goods already exported to Russia. While the government did not comply with the wishes of industrialists to finance future deliveries to the extent of 1,000,000,000 marks, it was expected that in addition to the sum which Russia is now beginning to transfer for redemption of bills maturing shortly, these 120,000,000 marks will aid German exporters in concluding fresh Russian contracts.

Brother of General Bolles of Fort Sheridan Dies

Hiram H. Bolles, 81 years old, died yesterday at the Hotel Madison in Waukegan, where he had made his home for the last five years. Mr. Bolles was a merchant tailor in Danville for thirty-four years, retiring in 1924. He was a brother of Brig. Gen. Frank C. Bolles, commandant at Fort Sheridan. A daughter and another brother also survive. Funeral services will be held at 11 a. m. today at 236 North Tennessee street, Waukegan. Burial will be at Danville tomorrow.

PROBE BOMB IN DRUG STORE OF HOLDUP WITNESS

Detectives from the state's attorney's office yesterday afternoon announced their belief that the bombing of the W. G. Trautvetter drug store at 2338 East 71st street early yesterday had no connection with the case of two convicted robbers, Carl Parker and Stanley Wilson, who were released from prison by Judge Charles A. Williams in an unusual court proceeding recently. Trautvetter identified the two men as the pair who robbed his store and fired six shots at him.

"Parker and Wilson are free now and it isn't likely they would do such a thing," said investigators from the state's attorney's office.

Trautvetter told police that he had no idea of any motive for the bombing of his store. "I wouldn't say that Parker and Wilson had anything to do with it," asserted Trautvetter. "I was a prosecuting witness at their trial and I objected to their release from the Joliet penitentiary."

State's attorney's detectives said that they did not plan to make an investigation of the bombing with a view of determining whether it had any connection with the prosecution of the two robbers.

SAMUEL SMITH, MERCHANT, IS DIVORCED BY WIFE

Mrs. Florence Smith of the Congress hotel was granted a divorce yesterday from her husband, Samuel H. Smith, 5555 Everett avenue, wealthy retired merchant, on grounds of cruelty. The decree was granted by Superior Judge Joseph Sabath, who also approved the property settlement arranged outside of court. Mrs. Smith was given $5,000 cash, $2,500 in two notes, 100 shares of Bendix Aviation corporation stock, and $2,000 additional as lawyers' fees for her attorneys, Socrates and Davis.

The suit was uncontested, although Smith appeared in court and listened attentively to his wife's testimony. He had agreed to default decree after a two hour conference in chambers with Judge Sabath. Smith's divorce bill, filed in the court only fifteen minutes after his wife's on Dec. 4, was withdrawn.

Oliver Prison Mandate Recalled Pending Appeal

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday recalled the mandate for the imprisonment of Gene G. Oliver, former county assessor, who was sentenced to eighteen months in the penitentiary and fined $5,000 last summer by Federal Jurge Charles E. Woodward for income tax evasion. Oliver will remain at liberty on bond until the United States Supreme court decides whether it will review his case.

REDUCES 16 POUNDS IN 8 DAYS—DOCTOR'S REPORT

WORLD-FAMOUS CARLSBAD TREATMENT BRINGS GLORIOUS HEALTH

"The first case upon which I tried Carlsbad was so unique I was literally dumbfounded at the result. A woman weighing 190 pounds came to see me for treatment. I used the Carlsbad Sprudel Salt. In 8 days she lost 16 pounds and was, in consequence, losing all the symptoms of which she had so much complained."

Every year thousands upon thousands of men and women are sent by their physicians to Carlsbad Springs in Europe. —some to overcome stomach troubles, intestinal disorders, liver irregularities, constipation, neuritis, and rheumatism —a large majority to banish surplus, unhealthy fat.

If you can't visit Carlsbad you can still derive the same wondrous, health-restoring and excess-fat reducing properties by taking Carlsbad Sprudel Salt (powder) dissolved in warm water every morning. It's a mighty refreshing and pleasant-tasting drink, too!

Carlsbad is a natural product—it cannot be manufactured and is obtained only by a special process of evaporation (under the supervision of the City of Carlsbad) from the Carlsbad waters as they come gushing forth from the earth.

Many noted authorities claim faulty elimination of bile is one of the controlling factors in maintaining proper weight. And many agree Carlsbad, as a reducing agent, happily solves the problem. What a comfort to know that while excess fat gives way to trim slenderness, Carlsbad so regulates and corrects system functioning that your general health is greatly improved! What a joy to see blemishes disappear as blood becomes purer—what a comfort to know no rigid diets are required with Carlsbad—just eat sensibly—don't stuff yourself. Avoid fat meats and starches.

An original imported carton containing 30 treatments is sold by druggists everywhere. The cost averages a few pennies per treatment. Start today and reduce this healthy way. Avoid imitations.

HIGH AND LOW OF FRANCE SOB OVER DEAD BRIAND

10,000 Visit Home to Pay Homage.

PARIS, March 8.—(AP)—More than 10,000 persons—porters, shopkeepers, statesmen and all intermediate ranks—filed today through Aristide Briand's little bedroom to do homage to the dead "apostle of peace."

By nightfall Briand's bachelor apartment was filled with flowers. These tributes ran all the way from an imposing piece sent by the German ambassador to single carnations left there by midinettes and wounded war veterans.

The family of the French statesman, who succumbed yesterday to a heart attack, was so touched by the genuineness of the affection shown him that the room was kept open longer than had been planned.

Formal Tribute Paid.

Thursday morning the coffin will be transferred to the foreign office, where it will be placed in the famous clock-room in which the Kellogg-Briand pact outlawing war was signed in August, 1928.

Formal tribute was paid to the "man of peace" in both the chamber of deputies and the senate today. President Buisson of the chamber declared Briand was a perfect Frenchman who became a "citizen of men the world over; who gave him their confidence."

Premier Andre Tardieu said Briand was one of the great statesmen of history and that he had labored indefatigably for "peace of consciences, peace of parties, and peace among peoples."

Funeral on Saturday.

Making what was deemed an allusion to projected negotiations with Italy, Germany, and Great Britain, Tardieu concluded:

"May Briand's ideals bring to us that appeasement from which real progress is born."

In the senate President Lebrun said the dead statesman was a symbol of France's desire for peace and predicted his efforts would bear signal fruit. The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon.

Rites Today for W.R. Stiles, U. S. Mail Superintendent

Funeral services will be held this afternoon for William R. Stiles, superintendent of the general delivery service of the postoffice for twenty years and a government employé for forty-five years. Mr. Stiles, who was 65 years old and lived at 816 Galt avenue, died Sunday. He was a former member of the Marquette and Hamilton clubs. He was born in Savannah, N. Y., but had lived in Chicago since infancy. He is survived by the widow, Elvina, and a daughter, Thelma E. Love. Services will be held at 2 o'clock in the chapel at 4506 Sheridan road. Interment will be in Oakwoods cemetery.

Deaths of a Day

TUSCOLA, Ill.—[Special.]—Everett Stacy, prominent druggist of this city, died at the Decatur and Macon county hospital. He was a member of the Stacy & Brother firm, all of whom have died in the last two years.

BROWNFIELD, Ill.—[Special.]—Mrs. Eliza J. Hooker, 63, native of Hamilton county, died of heart failure.

LOUIS WEIL, 48, STATE MANAGER FOR R-K-O, DIES

Louis Weil, 48 years old, state manager for Radio-Keith-Orpheum, died yesterday at the Grant hospital after an illness of several weeks. A contributing cause of his death, it was said, was a beating given him a little more than a year ago by three men who attacked him near the State-Lake theater, of which he was then manager.

Mr. Weil asserted he did not know the motive of his assailants. A kick in the abdomen resulted in the formation of a cancer, according to his brother, Ike Weil, Municipal court bailiff. For the last two weeks Mr. Weil, who lived at 1624 Lunt avenue, had been in the hospital.

He is survived by his wife and two brothers. Funeral services will be held today at 2 p. m. in Piser's undertaking rooms at 4911 Broadway. Burial will be in Waldheim cemetery.

Rites to Be Held Today for M. H. Eichengreen

Funeral services for Meyer H. Eichengreen, retired produce merchant, will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the chapel at 936 East 47th street. Dr. Louis L. Mann of Sinai temple will have charge. Burial will be in Rosehill cemetery. Mr. Eichengreen died on Monday after a heart attack in his home at 5048 Woodlawn avenue. He was one of the founders and for years an officer of the old Chicago butter and egg board, which preceded the Chicago Mercantile exchange.

Bryce B. Smith, mayor of Kansas City, Mo., passed through Chicago yesterday on his way to New York to attend a meeting of directors of the General Baking company, of which he is vice president. Mayor Smith said that he had notified Gov. A. Harry Moore of New Jersey that Kansas City will do its utmost to aid in the search for the kidnaped Lindbergh baby.

Veteran County Employe Will Be Buried Today

Funeral services for William Reardon, 64 years old, 212 Whiting street, for many years an employé in the county clerk's office, will be held from the chapel at 935 North Wells street this morning to St. Dominic's church. Burial will be in Mount Carmel cemetery. Mr. Reardon was active in the 42d ward Democratic organization and in charitable work. He was unmarried. A brother, James, survives him.

UNABLE TO EAT

What a joy to relish every meal you eat and then experience no distressing after-effects! Yet, men and women everywhere every day suffer unnecessarily from stomach trouble, believing it is something that must be endured.

Wenvo, the New Master Medicine, has freed thousands from slavery to their stomachs, restored a healthy appetite to those who had known the tortures of indigestion for years. Stubborn cases of liver, bowel, and similar functional disorders have yielded to Wenvo. These people have regained their health, eat what they like, free from aches and pain, to enjoy the pleasures of life again!

Mrs. Bowen's condition for 2 years may be similar to yours today. Mrs. Fred Bowen, 709 West First St., Tulsa, Okla., writes: "For more than two years I have suffered terribly with spells of nervous indigestion. I could not sleep and I had pains running about my shoulder blades and in my chest. I tried several different medicines but it was not until I tried Wenvo that I experienced any benefit. This fine medicine has made a new woman of me."

Sounds too good to be true? It is easier to understand when you realize that Wenvo is compounded of 28 active ingredients, long recognized by medical and scientific authorities. Nothing to upset you, to disagree with you. A powerful agent for building up rich, red blood, cleansing the entire system and keeping out body poisons that drain away your energy. For this Master Medicine goes direct to the CAUSE!

The best way . . . the only way for you to truly know what Wenvo can do for you is to try it. Give this Master Medicine a chance to restore your health . . . do it on an Iron-Clad Money-Back Guarantee. If you don't feel and look years younger, if your aches and pains don't leave you, then return the empty bottle and your money will be refunded. Could anything be fairer? That's Wenvo!

WOMAN NAMED AS A FORGER IN ESTATE FIGHT

Charges of forgery and perjury were made yesterday in the Probate court against Mrs. Cecelia Daugelas, alias Milles, 1907 South Ruble street, who was convicted on Monday before Federal Judge John P. Barnes of conspiracy to steal and forge postoffice money orders.

The charges were made by Attorney George D. Carmichael, representing Mrs. Valeria Grigalunas, 3429 South Union avenue. Her husband, Anton, died Nov. 24 last year, leaving an estate estimated at $35,000. Mrs. Daugelas, who had been living with him, it is charged, presented herself as his widow, and a will leaving the estate to her was admitted to probate.

Oscar S. Caplan, assistant to Probate Judge Horner, ordered the will stricken from probate yesterday. He set March 18 as the date for hearing of the charges made against Mrs. Daugelas. She faces three five year sentences on the federal conviction, and sentence will be pronounced today by Judge Barnes.

Wife Seeks Reno Divorce from Theodore Merseles

Mrs. Natalie Merseles filed suit for divorce from Theodore I. Merseles yesterday at Reno, according to a dispatch. Mr. Merseles is a son of Theodore F. Merseles, former president of Montgomery Ward & Co. and of the Johns-Manville corporation of New York, who died three years ago. The Merseles were married in Hoopeston, Ill., Oct. 30, 1923. Mrs. Merseles charged cruelty. It was reported that an agreement had been made for a large cash and property settlement out of court.

CITY'S LARGEST BANK CUTS $4 OFF DIVIDENDS

Continental - Illinois Rate Now $12.

BY O. A. MATHER.

Reduced earnings and large write-offs during the last two years of depression have forced some of the largest banks in the United States to reduce their dividends. The Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company, Chicago's largest bank, yesterday fell in line when the directors lowered the annual rate from $16 to $12 by declaring a quarterly payment of $3 compared with $4 heretofore paid. The current dividend is payable April 1 to stockholders of record March 21.

A statement issued by the directors following their meeting, indicates that write-offs and the desirability of increasing the bank's reserves prompted the action in reducing dividends. While earnings for 1931 exceeded dividend requirements,they were not sufficient to cover both dividends and charge-offs. However, this situation was not uncommon to many banks.

Earnings Show Increase.

"Earnings for January and February exceeded those for the same period last year and were in excess of monthly dividend requirements at the old rate of $4 a quarter," the statement said. "The change in rate was made in pursuance of a conservative policy of building up contingent reserves. The new dividend rate will call for payment to stockholders of $9,000,000 a year. Net earnings of the bank last year, after setting aside reserves for taxes and interest, but before charge-offs, were $14,876,275."

The Continental Illinois bank's action has been expected in La Salle street for some time. In fact, there were rumors that the annual rate might be cut to as low as 10 per cent. Continental Illinois shares in December sold down to a record low price of 113, although the lowest price this year was 121½. The shares last night were quoted at 132½ bid, 135 asked. In April, 1929, when the merger of the Continental National and the Illinois Merchants Trust and Savings banks took place, the shares of the new institution sold at 675, but later rose to 1,040 at the crest of the bull stock market.

Largest Banks Cut Dividend.

The two largest banks in the country, the Chase National and the National City, both in New York, recently reduced their dividend rates.

There were several indications yesterday that the general banking situation throughout the country is gradually improving. The big Chicago banks reported that the sharp decline in deposits that marked the closing months of 1931 and the first month of this year has been flattening out.

"Any considerable gain in deposits is not to be expected until general conditions improve," he head of one bank said. "But within the last few weeks we have opened more savings accounts than we have closed, and we have found that withdrawals have been almost solely by depositors who have been forced to draw on their savings because of lack of employment. This indicates that the hysteria of hoarding and fear of bank failures has passed."

Deposits Show Advance.

Similarly, the weekly report of the federal reserve board on the condition of member banks in the larger cities showed the first gain in deposits thus far this year. These banks had an aggregate gain of $2,000,000 in net demand deposits and an increase of $15,000,000 in time deposits. While these gains were nominal, they did afford a reversal of the long declining trend and so were hailed with satisfaction.

As the result of slack conditions in trade commercial loans of these banks declined $23,000,000 during the week, but loans on securities increased $2,000,000. The banks reduced their investment in government securities by $64,000,000, but increased their holdings of other securities by $2,000,000.

GENERAL MOTORS WORLD SALES ARE BELOW JANUARY, 1931

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 8.—A decline of 15.8 per cent in world sales during February was reported today by the General Motors corporation. The total for the month was 62,850 units, compared with 74,710 in January and 96,003 in February, 1931.

February dealer sales to United States consumers were 46,855 units, against 47,942 in January and 68,976 in February, 1931.

February divisional sales to United States dealers were 52,539 units, against 65,382 in January and 80,373 in February, 1931.

Divisional sales to world dealers in the first two months of 1932 were 137,560 units, against 185,352 in the corresponding 1931 months.

Dealer sales to United States consumers in the first two months of 1932 were 94,797 units, against 130,542 in the corresponding 1931 months.

Divisional sales to United States dealers in first two months of 1932 were 117,921 units, against 157,054 in corresponding 1931 months.

The Rockne division of the Studebaker corporation today shipped its five thousandth car from the Detroit plant. The first car was shipped on Dec. 22, last year. Production schedules call for 6,000 cars this month.

February factory shipments of Cadillac and La Salle cars totaled 2,058 units, compared with 1,633 in February last year.

East's Larger Railways Buy Others' Stocks

[Chicago Tribu.. Press Service.]

New York, March 8.—Taking advantage of the low prices prevailing for securities during the last year, indications are that the eastern trunk line railroads grasped the opportunity of strengthening their positions and averaging costs by adding, during 1931, to their holdings of securities of carriers in which they already had substantial investments.

The New York Central, it is understood, increased its holdings in the capital stock of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western from $6,566,250 to $7,791,250 during the year and is also said to have slightly increased its already large investment in the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie.

Would Fit Central's System.

The New York Central, through its securities corporation, owned 131,325 shares of the 1,688,824 outstanding shares of the Lackawanna's capital stock at the close of 1930. Under the four party plan for consolidation of the eastern carriers, the Lackawanna is assigned to the Central and would fit into the latter's system as a short connecting link between New York and Buffalo.

The Baltimore and Ohio and the Pennsylvania, other major companies of the proposed four party consolidation plan, likewise tightened their grasp on carriers which they hope to add to their systems as the result of the unification proposals now under consideration by the interstate commerce commission.

In the case of the Baltimore and Ohio, it is understood that it increased its holdings in all classes of the Reading company's stock issues last year. Holdings of Reading common were increased from $27,435,000 to $29,880,000 during the year, first preferred holdings were expanded from $11,563,250 to $11,683,250, while second preferred holdings increased, it is understood, from $16,540,000 to $16,955,000.

Pennsylvania Increases Holdings.

The Pennsylvania, which has been acquiring a controlling interest in the Norfolk and Western for several years and holds large blocks of both common and preferred, is said to have increased its preferred share holdings in the latter from $12,520,000 to $13,595,000 during 1931.

Holdings of the Chesapeake and Ohio railway and its securities affiliate, the Virginian Transportation company, in the common and preferred stocks of the Erie are said to amount at present to 1,196,390 shares, or about 56 per cent. Some of this stock is under option, the chief block being 215,000 shares of Erie common on option from Alleghany corporation. In addition, C. & O. and its affiliate are known to hold 313,900 shares, or 69.6 per cent, of Pere Marquette common.

Orders Anti-Trust Inquiry.

Washington, D. C., March 8.—(AP)—The senate today asked the justice department to report whether recent railroad consolidations have been in violation of the anti-trust laws and whether the proposed four system eastern consolidation would condone violations.

Without debate the senate adopted a resolution by Senator King [Dem., Utah] calling upon the department to report what steps if any have been taken or are contemplated for enforcement of that law in these instances. The resolution quotes the chairman of the legislative committee of the interstate commerce commission as saying recently that through formation of holding companies and by other methods combinations of parallel and competing roads have been effected without authority of law.

It calls attention to the pending application for eastern consolidation around four large roads and asserts approval of this by the commission "would render the commission powerless to exercise its independent judgment as to the public interest."

Tells of Millions Lost on Shipments of Live Stock

D. L. Swanson, manager of the Chicago Live Stock Producers commission told its members at the Hotel Sherman yesterday that although there had been a decrease of only 900 carloads of live stock brought into Chicago by members of the association between the years 1930 and 1931, there had been a decrease of almost $9,000,000 in market value. Mr. Swanson asserted that the commission had handled 15,072 carloads of live stock for a total value of $18,994,565.06 during 1931. In the number of carloads shipped to Chicago, Illinois led with 4,145 and Iowa was second with 2,264. Mr. Swanson explained that these figures represented only the live stock handled by the member firms of the association.

Safeway Stores Earnings Show Advance During 1931

The report of Safeway Stores, Inc., of Maryland, and subsidiaries, for the year ended Dec. 31, shows net income of $5,415,590, after depreciation, interest and federal taxes, equivalent to $6.34 a share. This compares with net income in 1930 of $3,749,901, equal to $4.82 a share.

RADIO-KEITH TELLS $5,660,770 LOSS IN 1931 AFTER CHARGES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 8.—The Radio-Keith-Orpheum corporation, in the first statement of earnings issued since its reorganization last year, reported today for 1931 a net loss of $5,660,770 after "extraordinary charges" of $2,577,834 and dividends of $461,473 paid on preferred stocks of subsidiary companies. This contrasted with a net profit of $3,385,628 in 1930 before nonrecurring profits, equivalent to $1.40 a share on the company's old class A stock.

In a letter to stockholders, Hiram S. Brown, president of the company, said the loss from operations for 1931 before payment of dividends on the preferred stock was $2,576,602, "without taking into account a net loss of $44,860 from the sale of investments and capital assets, and excluding $1,500,000 of the loss from the operation of the properties of RKO-Pathé Pictures, Inc., and its subsidiaries. For that a reserve was created to provide for losses expected at the time of acquisition, pending complete organization."

"In addition to the loss from operation," Mr. Brown said, "extraordinary items have been charged to profit and loss account for 1931 in the amount of $2,577,834, representing charges, write-offs, and deductions in respect of unabsorbed salaries of artists, abandoned picture productions, amortizations of organization, development and experimental expenses, provisions for deposits and losses on foreign exchange, which from the standpoint of future operations the management has deemed it advisable to make as of Dec. 31, 1931, and also representing an acceleration of the basis for amortizing the cost of pictures."

REVENUE FREIGHT CAR LOADINGS TOTAL 535,498

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 8.—Loading of revenue freight for the week ended on Feb. 27 totaled 535,498 cars, the car service division of the American Railway association announced today. Due to the observation of Washington's birthday holiday, this was a decrease of 37,108 cars below the preceding week, 145,723 cars below the corresponding week in 1931, and 364,000 cars under the same period two years ago.

Miscellaneous freight totaled 178,128 cars, a decrease of 71,206 cars below the corresponding week last year; merchandise, 169,733, decrease, 28,836; grain and grain products, 32,627, decrease, 8,423; forest products, 19,640, decrease, 13,573; ore, 2,833, decrease, 2,897; coal, 108,203, decrease, 17,306; coke, 5,959, decrease, 1,823; live stock, 18,375, decrease, 1,659.

Objectors Win Places on P. Lorillard & Co. Board

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 8.—Minority stockholders of P. Lorillard & Co., who blocked adoption of a revised bonus plan through court action, today won representation on the board of directors at the annual meeting of stockholders in Jersey City. The men elected were John J. Driscoll, William S. Gray Jr., and Jacquelin P. Taylor. Other directors were reëlected.

Brooklyn Standard-Union Sold to Brooklyn Times

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 8.—The Brooklyn Standard-Union has been sold by Paul Block to the publishers of the Brooklyn Daily Times, it was learned tonight. Negotiations for the transfer were concluded late today, to take effect immediately, it was said. The two papers will be consolidated, beginning probably on Thursday.

RAIL INCOME OFF BILLION; MEET FIXED CHARGES

Washington, D. C., March 8.—(AP)—Although operating revenues of the large railroads of the country decreased more than 1 billion dollars in 1931, the class one roads as a whole made more than enough to pay their fixed charges of that year.

The interstate commerce commission today made public summaries of tabulations by its bureau of statistics showing that class one railroads were capitalized at $19,295,571,388 at the end of 1931 as compared with $19,285,066,685 in 1930, an increase of $10,504,703.

Operating revenues in 1931 were $4,188,343,237, compared with $5,280,829,680 in 1930, a decrease of $1,092,486,443. The roads had net railway operating income totaling $525,678,252 and income from other sources of $298,077,860, making a total income of $823,756,112. During 1930 net railway operating income was $868,753,501; other income $349,659,764, making a total of $1,218,413,265. Rent for leased roads, interest on various forms of indebtedness, and other deductions left a net income of $141,160,935 as compared with $527,704,007 in 1930.

Dividend payments made from income and surplus during 1931 totaled $273,788,431 on common stock and $54,654,761 on preferred stock. In 1930 common stock dividends totaled $420,982,239, and preferred $85,990,649.

CORN PRODUCTS 1931 NET INCOME TOTALS $10,700,775

Corn Products Refining company yesterday reported net income for 1931 of $10,700,775, after interest, depreciation, federal taxes, and other charges, but excluding $1,033,023 net loss on the sale of securities, charged to reserves. This is equal to $3.54 a share on the common stock, and compares with $14,067,689, or $4.86 a share, in 1930.

Current assets as of Dec. 31, 1931, including $35,462,285 cash and marketable securities, amounted to $49,989,369, and current liabilities were $3,631,872. This compares with cash and marketable securities of $41,754,190, current assets of $59,328,984 and current liabilities of $6,133,420 at the close of the previous year.

Insulls Retire as Directors of West Ohio Gas Co.

Samuel Insull and Samuel Insull Jr. retired yesterday as directors of the West Ohio Gas company, a subsidiary of the Midland United company. To succeed them stockholders elected William A. BRITISH POUND SOARS; HIGHEST SINCE AUTUMN

Financiers of World Show Confidence.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 8.—Financiers of the world passed a strong vote of confidence in Great Britain today and joined in a general rush to buy sterling exchange, raising the rate 20 cents, despite the efforts of the British government to keep the market down.

The rate on sterling showed sensational jumps this morning, as people who withdrew balances from London last year were just as eager to replace them now and frightened shorts hastened to cover.

Before the opening of the foreign exchange market here brokers abroad reported a strong and active market, with heavy speculative buying of sterling from Paris and Amsterdam. The forward market for sterling also was active.

Rises at Opening.

The pound closed here last night at $3.52⅞. At the opening of the London market sterling rose rapidly and at 12:45 p. m., English time, was selling at $3.59½. The advance continued in London and sterling opened here at $3.61, up 8 cents. This afternoon it had advanced to $3.73. This was the highest level since November.

Canadian exchange, which had been weak for some time, joined in the upward movement, opening at a discount of 9½ per cent. In the past few months Canadian dollars had sold at a discount of as much as 21 per cent.

In London foreign interests were reported offering francs, dollars, and other currencies for exchange into sterling, but this did not check a substantial rise in the English affiliated currencies. Francs were weak.

Foreign exchange brokers characterized the "bull" market in sterling as a "good will" market brought about by the repayment a few days ago of the $150,000,000 credit obtained in this country by the British treasury. Since then great restlessness has been shown in the market for sterling and the British government was reported buying other currencies to check the rise in sterling. Today the foreign demand for sterling broke all restrictions.

Gets More Dollars.

Due to the spectacular flow of foreign currencies to London the British treasury has been able to accumulate further large supplies of dollars with which it may extinguish the $50,000,000 remainder of the $200,000,000 American banking credit, on which $150,000,000 was repaid last Friday. At the same time, it is believed, the British treasury has been given the opportunity to acquire further large supplies of francs, which will permit the early extinguishment of the remaining $35,000,000 of its $100,000,000 overdraft upon French private banks. The other half of the $200,000,000 French credit is in the form of a one year noncallable note which was sold in the form of participations to the French public.

The repayment of the remaining $50,000,000 of the American banking credit, when made, will take the form of redemption of $30,000,000 British treasury bills due here March 29 and the $20,000,000 due April 5.

Hailed in London.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 8.—Pound sterling's sharp advance today was hailed in London where market dealers attributed the comeback to the almost complete termination of official selling. It has been reported that both the treasury and the Bank of England had been buying dollars and francs through a group of London banks for many days. Banks here were bombarded with offers of foreign money at low rates. Large British holders of American securities, such as trust and insurance companies, have been making arrangements to transfer money from New York to London.

Northwest Bancorporation 1931 Earnings $5,741,626

Northwest Bancorporation's pamphlet report for 1931 shows net earnings of $5,741,626, applicable to the parent corporation, or $3.43 a share, as compared with $6,678,039, or $3.87, in the preceding year.

Paley Group Gets Control of Columbia

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 8.—Conclusion of the negotiations for sale of the Paramount Publix corporation's half interest in the Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc., to William S. Paley and associates was announced today.

Termination of the deal also marks the end the Paramount's obligations for repurchase of stock which was issued in the acquisition of various properties three or four years ago.

Paramount acquired its half interest in Columbia Broadcasting from the Paley group, paying principally with common stock, which Paramount agreed to take back at a fixed price within a certain period if requested by the holder.

Columbia Stock Resold.

The Columbia stock has been resold for $5,200,000. Out of the proceeds $4,036,000 was required for repurchase of the common stock originally issued for the Columbia interest.

Mr. Paley and associates held a half interest in Columbia, while Paramount was a half owner. They now own all the stock.

"This step," the announcement said, "brings the ownership of the broadcasting system completely into the hands of Mr. Paley and his management, with no interests represented external to the company."

Obtain Allied General Control.

Complete control of Allied General corporation has been secured by its officers and executives through the acquisition of all the corporation's stock formerly owned by American Founders corporation and United Founders corporation, according to an announcement by Chase Donaldson, president of Allied General.

With this change in control, Allied General corporation is now an entirely independent wholesale securities distributing organization.

R. F. C. ADVANCES TO U. S. BUSINESS TOTAL 183 MILLION

Washington, D. C., March 8.—(AP)—The Reconstruction Finance corporation has loaned a total of $183,000,000 to banks, railroads and agricultural credit corporations.

A total of $61,800,000 has been loaned to banks and building and loan associations. Two hundred and fifty-five different institutions of this nature have been aided, it was disclosed today, the great majority of them being country banks.

The corporation has loaned $47,000,000 to railroads, the greater part of which is expected to be repaid as soon as the Railroad Credit corporation begins to function. The railroad credit organization was set up following increases in rates by the interstate commerce commission as a pool through which the stronger railroads would assist the weaker ones.

Agriculture has been allocated $75,000,000 through the agriculture department and intermediate credit banks.

STERLING RISE IS STIMULANT FOR STOCK MART

Active List Recovers 1 to 2 Points.

BY FRED HARVEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 8.—Cicerones of the stock trading community were able to find fresh signs of returning confidence in the sharp upturn of sterling exchange today and thereby point the way for another forward movement of the share market.

Recoveries of one to two points or more were made by most of the active list, enabling the beneficiaries to recover all the ground lost yesterday and in some instances to push ahead a trifle from that point. Efforts to break through to higher levels, however, encountered rather persistent selling. In the later dealings, the market turned extremely dull, although the vast majority of issues held within fractions of their highs for the day. Turnover was around 1,600,000 shares.

Most Share Advance.

Virtually all groups participated in the day's improvement. An encouraging feature was the prominence taken in the operations by such oldtime leaders as United States Steel, American Can Consolidated Gas, all of which registered gains of 1 to 2 points on fairly large volume. United States Steel at one time crossed 50, but the final sale found it fractionally below that figure again.

Oil shares were again fairly active, thanks to the incorporation in the new tax bill just introduced in the lower house of congress, of the oil tariff long demanded by Mid-Continent petroleum producers. Standard of New Jersey set the pace for the group and bettered its standing by a full point.

Rails are Active.

Some of the rails were conspicuously active at intervals, although few of them succeeded in going ahead more than fractionally. Announcement late in the morning of the declaration of the regular quarterly dividend by New Haven on its preferred stock stimulated buying in this lately-backward group. New Haven preferred bounced up 5 points to a new high for the year. New York Central, Atchison, and others did somewhat better than usual.

Leaders of the group reached their best levels around noon and then fell

EXCHANGE LOSS CUTS EARNINGS; COSTS REDUCED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 8.—International Telephone and Telegraph corporation realized net income of approximately $1.20 a share on its capital stock in 1931 after all charges, taxes, depreciation and loss entailed in converting foreign currencies into dollars. This was learned today. But for this loss on exchange conversions, the company would have earned about $1.50 a share. International Telephone in 1930 earned $2.07 per share. The report for 1931 will be issued soon.

Charge Off Exchange Losses.

The income statement for the first nine months of 1931 showed that $2,000,000 had been charged against earnings for loss on exchange transfers. During the final quarter the exchange situation grew no worse, and it is understood that during this period the loss on exchange was not increased. The reserve of $1,900,000 set up out of surplus during the first nine months to cover eventual losses on current assets in countries which went off the gold standard is understood to have been increased to $3,000,000 at the end of the year, Japan having abandoned gold after the smaller reserve was set up.

To combat declining gross revenues, International Telephone started a program of expense economies late in 1930. With such an extensive system there is a considerable lag between the time of putting into effect a given reduction in operating expense and the time when the full effects of such a reduction are realized.

Operating Costs Drop.

Thus the company's operating costs are still declining at a satisfactory pace, and it is expected that during the first quarter the line represented by this decline will cross another line represented by declining revenues. If business activity remains unchanged during the current quarter, or even if it should show a small decline, International Telephone would, thanks to the cumulative effect of cost reductions, realize greater net income than in either the third or fourth quarters of 1931.

Central Illinois Light.

I have some money invested in Central Illinois Light 6 per cent preferred stock. Is this investment at this time a good one?—B. E. B.

Central Illinois Light company, a subsidiary of Commonwealth and Southern corporation, supplies electricity and gas to Peoria and 40 other Illinois communities having a combined population of about 153,000.

Gross income for the twelve months to Oct. 31, 1931, was $5,049,000. Net available for dividends was $1,665,000 and preferred dividends were $420,000. For the preceding twelve months gross was $5,256,000, net income was $1,603,000 and preferred dividends were $404,000.

Gross income for 1930 was $5,229,000, against $5,136,000, for 1929 and $4,766,000 for 1928. Net for 1930 was $1,600,000, or $24.30 per preferred share, against $1,479,000, or $22.37 per preferred share for 1929. Net for 1928 was $1,283,000.

On Dec. 31, 1930, there were outstanding $7,178,000 of first 5s, due 1943, the company's only funded debt. There were outstanding 8,265 shares of 7 per cent preferred and 57,573 shares of 6 per cent preferred, both with a par value of $100. The two classes of preferred have equal preference over the common.

The preferred is considered high grade.

National Candy.

Will you be kind enough to please let me know what you have on National Candy common stock? Will appreciate all information.—L. G. K.

National Candy company has in recent years been readjusting its manufacturing and distributing facilities. Some plants have been closed, others consolidated, machinery has been moved, etc. This policy should eventually result in increased efficiency, but expenses incidental to this program have reduced net income for several years.

Net for 1931 was $155,000, or six cents per common share, against $946,000, or $3.76 per common share for 1930. Net for 1929 was $1,349,000, before minority interest.

On Dec. 31, 1931, current assets were $4,781,000 and current liabilities were $512,000. Cash assets were more than $2,000,000. Working capital was $3,870,000, against $4,677,000 the year before.

Funded debt totaled $752,000. There were outstanding 9,441 shares of first preferred, par $100, 10,140 shares of second preferred, par $100, and 194,805 shares of no par common.

On March 2, 1932, directors reduced common dividends to 25 cents per quarter. The previous rate was 50 cents.

Top yesterday, $7.50; average, $6.65.
Estimated receipts at Chicago today: Cattle, 7,000; hogs, 17,000; sheep, 15,000.

The response to continued light supplies of hogs was emphatic again yesterday. Prices went up 10@20c on active bidding between smaller houses and order buyers, with all branches setting up new high levels for the year. The top and general average prices at $4.85 and $4.50 were both 75c above the low day of the winter about four weeks ago. This four weeks' advance amounts to more than $100 per carload and has added more than $30,000 to the daily valuation of Chicago receipts.

Yesterday's receipts of hogs at 20 leading markets were valued at almost $1,000,000, against $750,000 at the low point of the winter. Buying on eastern account gained momentum yesterday.

Selected 170@200 lb averages reached the top of the list, while 140@260 lb hogs sold at $4.60 and 300 pounders reached $4.40. Some outstanding 350@370 lb butchers were sold up to $4.30. Fresh pork loins showed no additional gains on top classes, but the inside prices moved up and trading was done within a closer range on a slightly higher average market.

Medium weight hogs for delivery this month were sold at $4.65 on the futures trade yesterday, while all offers and bids in other months remained unchanged. July and September contracts could be purchased at $6.00, or sold at $5.00@5.50. May hogs were offered at $5.25 and bid $5.00.

Cattle Market Better.

Cattle also moved to a slightly higher position on light supplies yesterday.

Prices for the day ruled steady to 25c higher. Several carloads of steers averaging 1,074@1,292 lbs brought $8.75, the day's peak. Most packer purchases were made within a range of $5.50@7.75 and some cattle with a fair "kill" were sold as low as $5.00. Only a very small proportion of low grades were under the latter price. Butcher stock lately shows more strength than steers, due probably to an attempt to hold down initial costs of beef.

Beef Price Up.

The wholesale market for beef has gone up 50@75c the last few days.

The lamb market was irregular. Packers gained their point in plainer kinds and some places were cited that showed 25c reduction in stock selling below $7.00. However, while they were hammering the poorer grades eastern buyers dipped in during midsession and took out a big share of the choice grades of lambs at $7.15@7.25, mostly steady prices. From then on the market improved rapidly and packers paid up to $7.50 in a belated drive for good grades to offset the quality of their earlier purchases. Closing sales were highest since middle of last October. Aged sheep and yearlings shared in the later gain.

STERLING RISE IS STIMULANT IN STOCK MART

back on profit taking by the more cautious. Constructive forces were no little disappointed over the failure of the section to carry its end of the advance. According to a report issued by the Reconstruction Finance corporation this morning, the railroads have been granted loans of $47,000,000 from the public funds.

Peoples Gas Spurt.

Reports from Chicago that arrangements had been completed to take care of the Insull bank loans brought a fresh spurt in Peoples Gas, along with strength in Commonwealth Edison and Middle West Utilities bonds on the curb. Peoples Gas went to 101 at one stage of the afternoon trading, but fell back to 99 at the close—up 4 points on the day.

Strength and activity of the big mid-western favorite was responsible for much of the brisk trading noted elsewhere in the utilities department.

Copper shares, which have been displaying a somewhat better turn in the last two or three days, turned sluggish on rumors that a new hitch had occurred in the negotiations now under way by world producers here looking to a new agreement on curtailment and marketing of the red metal.

The motors did not do so well. The General Motors report showing poor sales in February had a dampening effect on sentiment toward shares of this group.

MILLERS OBTAIN 5,000,000 BU. OF FEDERAL GRAIN

Traders See Proof in Kansas City Deal.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Millers have taken about 5,000,000 bu of cash wheat from the Stabilization corporation of late, according to reports current yesterday, and have given Kansas City December futures in exchange.

It is understood that business has been under way for some time but the traders did not become convinced of it until yesterday. Official reports showed an open interest of 5,370,000 bu in December wheat at Kansas City at the close on Monday compared with none on Saturday. The traders regarded this as confirmation of the rumors they had heard.

The December wheat at Kansas City was said to have been taken on the basis of 59c or around 7c over the closing price of the May future in that market on Monday, or considerably less than it would cost to carry the cash grain from March until the first delivery day. The exchange of the cash grain for the futures was generally regarded as a good business move on the part of the government agency, as it will cut down its carrying charge.

Policy is Unchanged.

No change in the policy of the Federal Farm board is said to have been involved in the sale of the cash wheat in exchange for the futures, as its holdings are theoretically intact. The farm board some time ago pledged itself not to sell over 5,000,000 bu a month, the agreement expiring June 30 this year. How much of the total holding of wheat by the Stabilization corporation is now in the shape of futures which call for a delivery to them of the cash grain at a later date is not known. Chairman Stone in a Washington statement last week placed the total holdings of wheat by the government agency at 185,000,000 bu.

It is understood that the congressional donation of 40,000,000 bu of farm board wheat to the American Red Cross for relief purposes will not change the farm board policy as far as sales of cash grain are concerned.

George S. Milnor, president of the Stabilization corporation, confirmed the reports that there had been considerable wheat sold to mills of late, but gave no figures. "We have kept within our quota of 5,000,000 bu per month," he said. Mr. Milnor, however, denied reports that the sale was an effort on the part of the corporation to gradually turn over its holdings of cash grain to the trade.

Sell Wheat For Export.

A sensational upturn in sterling exchange of over 17 points from Monday's close advanced the relative worth of the grain abroad to a point where it was possible to sell around 250,000 bu American hard winter and also some American durum wheat for export. According to seaboard messages the price of American No. 1 hard at the Atlantic was considerably less than No. 3 Manitobas from Vancouver, which resulted in the export business, the first mentioned for some days. There was also around 500,000 bu Manitobas taken.

Wheat futures fluctuated in a most erratic manner yesterday, being fractionally higher at the start only to break around 1c later on scattered liquidation to a low of 60¼c for the May. Buying against bids checked the break, and later when reports of export business commenced to be circulated plus the pronounced strength in rye, the market reacted as rapidly as it had gone down, with the May touching 61⅝c on the advance.

Selling against offers was the main factor in checking the upturn in wheat, but a good part of it was maintained, and the finish was ½@⅝c higher. March closed at 57⅞c; May, 61⅜c; July, 63¼@63⅜c, and September, 65⅛@65¼c.

Liverpool wheat futures closed 1⅞@2⅛d per cental lower, but this decline was fully offset by the advance in sterling, with the actual net change ⅜c higher to ⅛c per bu lower as compared with Monday. The May delivery there finished at 60⅝c, or within ⅜c of the same future in Chicago, compared with 1¾c under the previous day. Winnipeg showed a firm undertone throughout the day and closed ⅜c higher, with May at 67⅛c in Canadian funds, which were around 9⅛ per cent discount.

Corn Market Unsettled.

Corn futures were influenced largely by the action of wheat, and after touching the offers early broke well below the cost of bids and then rallied into the offers again and closed ⅛@¼c higher. Prices had a range of ⅜@⅞c for the day. March finished at 36⅜c; May at 40⅛c; July at 42⅝c, and September, 43⅞c. The country sold 66,000 bu to arrive during the day.

Oats held within narrow limits, but were helped by the strength in other grains and gained ¼@⅜c for the day. May was 25⅛c and July, 25¾c at the last.

Reports of export sales of around 500,000 bu Canadian rye, the first large day's business claimed so far, imparted independent strength to futures, and the close was at net gains of ⅜@1⅛c, with May closing at 50⅝c, the best figure since last November, while July was 52⅛c. Houses with New York connections were on the buying side of futures at Winnipeg.

RED CROSS CONFIRMS RELEASE OF 5 MILLION BUSHELS U. S. WHEAT

Mitchell, S. D., March 8.—(AP)—Release of 5,000,000 bushels of farm board wheat for use in South Dakota's drought area as food for farmers and live stock will bring immediate solution of the live stock feeding problem, with the exception of roughage, according to Albert Evans, Red Cross relief director.

Red Cross organizations are ready to handle the wheat, Mr. Evans said. Today, headquarters here having been at work since Sunday making preparations for the task and surveying needs both for live stock feed and flour.

HIGH GRADE
SALES CONNECTION.

One of America's largest manufacturers is offering a very few men who can qualify an unusual opportunity. Not selling house to house—interested only in men capable of intensively calling on merchants. You must be well dressed, strong personality, between 30 and 55 years of age, and with car; able to qualify for bond and ambitious to make more than bread and butter livelihood. Connection offers remuneration big enough to interest the highest class salesmen. Our products are nationally known. The demand has been created and all merchants know us favorably. Men with meat and grocery or experience selling mechanical refrigeration, freezer counters, coolers, display boxes, given preference, but this not necessary if you can qualify, as we fully train all men. Big future in our business—can offer quick advancement to zone manager positions to men who can qualify and demonstrate their ability to sell our line. Want men in the following territories: Chicago, metropolitan Indiana northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin. Appointment by telephone only. Call our Sales Manager, Mr. C. I. Fishel, Sherman hotel, between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. Wednesday.

MEN

Do you know that you can earn $5,000 or better this year in specialty selling? We have many men who are ahead of that every day today. They are not through with "lay-offs" and the difficulties they bring their families. They are not only meeting their obligations today, but are laying up some cash against a rainy day and to educate their children.
Our product and our plan are both revolutionary. The product is covered by nine exclusive government patents that place it beyond the field of competition. It is priced to sell readily in today's market. Its producers have inaugurated a 1932 profit sharing plan that closes sales as swiftly as it can be explained. Our daring, unusual methods captured the market for us, and the same type of aggressive plans are keeping us on top today.
You invest nothing, and your past selling experience doesn't interest us. If your record is clean and you will work for real results, we will train you thoroughly and give you a contract with the fastest specialty organization in the world. This is not a miracle business, and neither are we miracle people. We just happen to have a lock on a specialty that is a necessity and a method of marketing it that gets results in all kinds of "times."
Our operations are international. We carry AAA-1 rating. Millions are behind our product. Only high type men are in our organization. You can connect now and solve your life's largest problem. From shops and executive offices they come to us and write their own ticket. You can do the same if your pundo is $1,000 all cash. See Mr. Averill between 9 and 5.
10th floor Mather Tower, 75 E. Wacker-dr. Out of town men write for nearest branch.

MEN—WE OFFER YOU ABOUT $7.50 PER day if you call on the leads we furnish you. Training takes 24 hours. Nothing to sell. No samples to carry. Big advancement here. Hard work all day long is all that is necessary. Room 1107, 109 N. Dearborn.

WE ARE MAKING A VERY

radical change in the merchandising policies of our product, which has enjoyed a good name since 1861.

We are just starting to build a rather large Chicago sales force, which will be extended nationally in the very near future.

We are in need of a number of clean cut, intelligent, aggressive men who have had at least 5 years selling experience.

Several regional sales managers will be selected within 30 days from the organization now being formed.

YOU CAN DO THIS.

Contact qualified property owners, offering vitally needed financial assistance at no initial expense. You get your selling cordial acceptance, from $50 to $75 weekly. No actual selling. Phone Mr. Beckham, 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m., Central 0123.

Unusual Opportunity

Nine high grade men answered our ad which appeared in this paper Sunday and, after investigating, were more than happy, although they did answer it out of mere curiosity.

One man remarked, "I've been looking for a good opportunity having a good field with permanency for the past three months. I've read your ads, but passed them up. Now I regret and am sorry that I did not come up after the first time that I read it." Cordes, now with us, made $48 Monday of this week, having been with this company about five months. Likewise, Mr. Craig, who made $17 Monday of this week. The same with J. B. Allen, and many others.

We cannot guarantee you success, but we do guarantee you opportunity. If you are capable of understanding and following instructions, and if you are a worker honestly desiring success, and willing to pay an honest price in effort for it, then this chance to do so is open for you.

This is not a get-rich-quick scheme. You cannot make money here unless you earn it, and some men who apply to us fail to fulfill the requirements, but we have found also that many men who have never previously even thought that they could do work of this kind, have found it to be just the opportunity they had been seeking.

This may mean the turning point of your life and surely your future is worth a half hour investment on your part, especially if you are dissatisfied with your present connection, or may be out of work at this time.

It costs you nothing to try. The training is free. If you can do the job it will mean money for you.
Applicants will be personally interviewed Wednesday morning, 9:30 to 12:30. Ask for

Why pay more than HOUSEHOLD'S LOW RATE on loans? . . .

The nationally known HOUSEHOLD LOAN PLAN offers cash loans of $300 or less to husbands and wives at reasonable rates.

Loans above $100 and up to $300 are made at a rate less than the usual small loan rate.

Commonwealth Customers—Pay LESS-for-LOANS

$2.33 is the average Monthly Cost of a $225 loan under COMMONWEALTH'S Reduced Rate. This allows 25 months for repayment. There is no lower cost than this in Chicago.

THE personal property which nearly every family owns and the signatures of husband and wife enable one to secure any amount up to $300 quickly and easily.

NO FEES. You get full amount of the loan and up to 25 months to repay. Interest at the Reduced Rate is charged only while you keep the money.

Also Salary and Auto Loans.
